South Bend 'Emergency' Is Decreed

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — A wind - driven near blizzard put South Bend under a paralyzing foot of snow and a state of emergency Friday night.

The daylong snow, powered by winds approaching 40 miles an hour, closed down factories, business and city offices, stores and schools — including nearby Notre Dame University and St. Mary's College.

A total of 15,000 workers were sent home from the big Studebaker-Packard and Bendix Corp. factories in South Bend and nearby Mishawaka, Ind. Other plants dismissed 5,000 to 6,000 employes, while the city's public and parochial schools told 20,000 children to go home.

TRUCKS JACKKNIFED

Mayor Edward F. Voorde declared a state of emergency, ordered all big trucks to stay out of town and forbade motorists to park their cars on the main streets of this industrial city of 130,000.

Traffic piled up on the highways outside of South Bend as huge trucks skidded and jackknifed, blocking the way. All highways but U.S. 31 north of the city were open Friday night, but the roads were slick and dangerous.

The South Bend storm was the high point of a vast wintry onslaught which froze the Midwest in zero and sub-zero temperatures, chilled the Southland, and piled up snows six inches deep or more through Ohio, western Pennsylvania, southern Michigan and upstate New York.

The city of Niles, Mich., nine miles from South Bend, was almost as hard-hit as its Hoosier neighbor. The town got a half foot of snow in two and a half hours and almost as much more was expected. About 100 cars were stalled in Niles, high schools cancelled basketball games, and more storms swept South Haven, Benton Harbor and New Buffalo, Mich.

Many of the Studebaker-Packard and Bendix workers had homes in Niles, but were bottled up in South Bend most of the day.

South Bend's snows piled up 12.9 inches deep by nightfall, with drifts three feet high in the city and five feet high in the country.

Labor Power Curbs Urged By McClellan

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said Friday night the U.S. labor movement has become big business, a colossal economic power that must be regulated.

The senator, chairman of the Senate Labor-Management committee, took his stand in a speech prepared for the Texas Manufacturing Assn.

POWER GROWING

He mentioned "unwholesome conditions and evil practices" he said the committee had exposed in its hearings and added: "I shall within the next few weeks introduce a bill or bills dealing with every phase of the problem...

"The labor movement in this country is no longer a struggling infant. It is now grown-up. It has indeed become a big business. Labor organizations control billions of dollars of our national wealth.

"This colossal and growing economic power must be regulated. It should never be permitted to fall under a management or control that would make it a dynamic force for evil."

Collins Favored For Convention Keynote Speaker

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Early arrivals for the Democratic site committee meeting to select a 1960 national convention city agreed Friday they want Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida as convention keynote speaker.

The nod to Collins came from Mrs. Nunley Snedegar of West Virginia and Camille Gravel Jr. of Alexandria, disputed Louisiana national committeeman.

"He's tremendous as a speaker," said Mrs. Snedegar.

"An excellent man to open the convention and the campaign," said Gravel.

Both heard Collins at a December meeting of the site committee in Washington when he presented the advantages of Miami Beach.

Gravel said with all the news coverage of the convention "the keynote speaker is not just opening the convention of the party faithful, he's opening the campaign."

The eight-member site committee meets Saturday to consider six convention bids from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and Miami Beach. A recommendation will be subject to approval of the full national committee meeting Feb. 27 in Washington.

Alford Is Named To Minor Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders gave Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) the bottom position Friday on the relatively-minor Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Alford, a Little Rock, Ark. segregationist who beat veteran Rep. Brooks Hays in a still-disputed "paste in" campaign last fall, was assigned to only one committee.

SIGNIFICANT DEVELOPMENT

Atomic Electric 'Plant' Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House Friday unveiled a miniature atomic power plant which officials said could be produced for about $200 a unit.

The cylindrical device, 5½ inches high and 4½ inches in diameter, was displayed to newsmen after Chairman John A. McCone and other Atomic Enery Commission officials demonstrated it to President Eisenhower.

AEC officials hailed the development as a significant breakthrough in the achievement of small - size, long - lasting power plants which can be used, for example, to operate the instruments in space satellites.

HAS MANY USES

A statement made public by the White House said the unit has possible commercial applications "wherever small sources of electricity are needed."

In showing Eisenhower how it worked, AEC officials used it to drive a small wooden propeller.

They said they see no potential use of the device to power atomic aircraft, but said it probably could be put to other uses in airplanes.

"For example," said the White House statement, "the device could replace conventional batteries in various land and sea navigation aids, or on communication aids, thus providing power for much longer periods than batteries now can and minimizing the cost of maintenance of the power source and of logistic supply."

AEC officials said in response to questions that they believe the Svoiet Union has developed a similar lightweight power generator, but based on a different principle.

Cold. Jack Armstrong deputy chief of the AEC's aircraft reactor division, told newsmen the U.S. device develops electrical power from heat, like a steam generator, but has no moving

Train, Theater Get Bomb Hoax Scares

CHICAGO (UPI) — A suburban passenger train was halted and its 500 passengers unloaded Friday night because of an anonymous telephone call that a time bomb was set to go off in one of the cars.

Police at Downers Grove, Ill., 23 miles west of Chicago, and Burlington Railroad detectives searched the empty train foot by foot, but could find no bomb.

At the same time, the Chicago Theatre, one of the Loop's biggest, got a call at 6:15 p.m. warning of a bomb to go off at 6:30.

Police rushed to the movie theater but feared any wholesale emptying of the movie house might cause a dangerous stampede or panic. The theater stop selling tickets but those already inside were not told of the danger. Police started a thorough—but inconspicuous — search. No bomb was found. The theater resumed admitting patrons at 6:45.

The passengers, most of them bound for suburban Aurora, were transferred to another train after a 30-minute delay.

The halted train proceeded, empty, after authorities assured themselves that it did not contain a bomb.

Police and railroad officials started a frantic race to stop the train after the anonymous telephone call was received by police in Chicago's Union Station at 6:25 p.m.

A man's voice said "I put a bomb on a train and now I'm sorry I did it."

The caller said the bomb was on a six-car train which had left the station at 6:02. The bomb, he said, was set to go off at 6:44 p.m.

Train officials took one look at the clock and realized the train had just passed the last block signal point where it could be stopped before 6:45 p.m.

The alarm was flashed ahead to Downers Grove, the next point where the train could be halted. The train was stopped at almost the precise moment when the caller said the blast would occur.

Railroad conductors shepherded the passengers on the tracks while police rushed to the scene.

Brooks Takes Space Helm; Plans Probe

Other Louisiana Solons Chosen On Committees

WASHINGTON (Special) — Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.) officially named chairman Friday of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics, said he was "very happy at the recognition given Louisiana and especially the fourth district."

He said plans are already under way for the committee to investigate the National Astronautics and Space Administration, which controls the U. S. satellite and space travel effort.

BROAD REVIEW DUE

The committee will undertake a broad review of the American space effort, and also organize its subcommittee system, as soon as the House formally approves the committee memberships, a formality expected within a few days.

Brooks' chairmanship was announced last week by speaker Sam Rayburn and made official by the House Ways and Means controls the body's committee organization.

The ways and means unit also appointed Harold McSween, Freshman representative from the eighth district, to a coveted spot in the House agriculture committee, which has not contained a Louisianan for 28 years.

Pro-Labor Democrats In Control

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Jubilant pro-labor Democrats won decisive control of the House Education & Labor Committee Friday, almost insuring that the group will approve a labor reform bill satisfactory to leaders of the AFL-CIO.

The development also increased chances for later approval by the committee — although not necessarily by the House itself—of separate legislation to provide some of the changes sought in the Taft-Hartley Act by organized labor.

The Democratic Committee on Committees, presumably acting with the approval of Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.), filled all five Democratic vacancies on the committee with newly - elected congressmen from northern industrial areas.

One liberal Democrat predicted that on many issues the new lineup would give liberal forces an 18-to-12 edge over the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition which frequently forced a 15 - 15 deadlock last session.

The new committee Democrats were Reps. Roman C. Pucinski, Chicago; Dominick Daniels, Jersey City, N.J.; John Brademas, South Bend, Ind.; Robert N. Giaimo, North Haven, Conn., and James G. O'Hara, Rochester, Minn.

Meantime, Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.), top GOP member of the labor group, announced he would sponsor President Eisenhower's labor program in the House. He said it contained "no union-busting tactics" and should be acceptable to both Democrats and Republicans.

Labor chiefs foresee certain enactment of a labor reform bill this session.

Senators Get Briefing On U.S. Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, assured senators Friday the United States is strong enough to deter general war or cope with limited conflict. But some Democratic senators were unconvinced.

"I'm satisfied our over-all posture is adequate to provide deterrence to any kind of general war, if the Russians use good judgment," McElory said.

The defense chief also said that in event of a local-type outbreak this country is ready to step in with the required force and necessary speed.

DETAILS SECRET

Details of the briefing were withheld, but McElroy said he and Twining gave the committee a complete rundown on how this country stands militarily in relation to the Soviet Union. Several committee members said they weren't told anything new or more than they had read in the newspapers.

Democratic criticism of the Eisenhower administration's defense policies has been rising since the new Congress got under way earlier this month.

For one thing, various Democrats have contended the United States still is dangerously behind the Soviet Union in the missiles field. In reply, Republicans have said the American missiles program has been making strong progress.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) said after the briefing that he "wasn't in complete agreement with Secretary McElroy on an over-all position," adding: "He—McElroy—doesn't put much emphasis on the advantage the Russians will have."

Kennedy said McElroy and Twining did not recognize the long-range missiles gap that Kennedy and others say will separate the Soviet Union and the United States in future years.

Committee Chairman Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) said "I'll want to hear more" before he is satisfied about U.S. military preparedness. Green said he wanted

One Killed, 19 Hurt In Crash

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) —A passenger train and a heavy truck loaded with steel collided early Friday night at a grade crossing in Northwest Harris County.

The sheriff's office said at least one person was killed and 19 were injured.

Many cars of the train were derailed and the truck caught fire at the railroad crossing on State Highway 149 six miles northwest of the Houston city limits.

The truck driver, Roy Dawson, 45, of Dallas, an employe of the Austin Steel Co., was killed.

The injured, passengers and crewmen, were rushed to Houston hospitals.

Cuba Gets Cash From U.S. Firms

HAVANA (UPI)—Six leading U.S. banking and business firms have advanced the revolutionary Cuban government more than $1,500,000 to help it consolidate its financial position, it was announced Friday by the Finance Ministry.

The regime of Fidel Castro, meanwhile, continued "war crimes" trials and executions, with at least nine more followers of ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista dying in front of firing squads in the last 24 hours.

It also was announced by Foreign Minister Roberto Agramonte that Cuba had accepted the appointment of Philip Bonsal, now U.S. ambassador to Bolivia, as the new U.S. envoy to Cuba. Bonsal will take over amid growing protests in the United States against the "war crimes" executions.

Bonsal replaces Earl E. T. Smith, who resigned following charges by revolutionary spokesmen that he had favored the fallen Batista regime.

The nine most recent executions occurred in three of Cuba's six provinces. In Oriente Province, five prisoners were shot at Jiguani, one at Holguin and one at Guantanamo, near the big U.S. Naval base. One more Batista partisan was shot in Colon, in Ma-

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Rebel chief Fidel Castro called Friday night for a massive demonstration of support for the revolutionary government, now under criticism for its summary war crimes trials and executions.

Castro declared the mass rally would signify approval of the executions of "war criminals" and back up his request for extradition of other followers of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista now in the United States.

Marshall Recovery Predicted

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI) — Gen. George C. Marshall made "satisfactory progress" toward complete recovery from a mild stroke Friday but his physician said he must have a month to six weeks of hospital care.

The 78-year-old retired soldier-statesman had recovered from the "immediate effects" of the stroke he suffered Thursday at his winter home in nearby Pinehurst. "Treatment consists chiefly of sedation to control any irritation to the brain," according to Col. George M. Powell, chief of medicine at Womack Army Hospital here.

Powell said Marshall "had a comfortable night and appeared in good spirits" Friday morning. He said the former Army chief of staff and secretary of state and defense has been sleeping a lot because of sedation.

"He is talking and alert," said Powell. He reported that Marshall also has been reading and has a portable television set in his room.

"His chances for recovery are good unless he suffers another stroke," Powell said. Powell is a

Lucky Texan Finds $2 Million In Gold

CORSICANA, Tex. (UPI) —U.S. Attorney William Steger asked the Secret Service Friday to question D. E. Jones, a service station attendant with eight children who says he found a $2,408,000 hoard of gold bars buried in a berry patch

"I told them to find out the details and report to me," he said. "I also told them to make a demand of him for the gold, if he has it, in behalf of the government."

Leo J. Williams, assistant agent in charge of the Dallas Secret Service office, said his men probably will talk to Jones Saturday.

Jones, 38, who works from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in C. H. Allen's service station to support his family, claims he found the gold last May 17 east of Alto, Tex.

He saw what looked like a jar sticking out of the ground, Jones said, and digging it up discovered a gold bar that weighed about 50 pounds.

More digging turned up 85 more bars, he said, and he borrowed a truck to haul it away. He refused to say where he stored it, but he said he tried to keep the news secret a year because he believed after that time none could question his right to it.

Steger, having briefed himself on the gold laws, said an ordinary citizen can't legally possess more gold than is in his teeth, certain coins and jewelry.

Furthermore, he said, the law provides that if Jones has $2,408,000 worth of gold — the estimated value of 86 bars weighing 50 pounds each—and refuses to turn it over to the government, he can be fined twice its value.

Jones and his lawyer, Tom Pollard Jr., said they are willing to help the government "in every way." But Jones declined to tell reporters where he put his treasure for safekeeping.

He said he was not going to surrender his treasure without a fight.

"If anybody tries to take it," he said, "I am going to act like the alligator when the pond dried up."

Airliner Crashes Into Atlantic; 52 Persons Perish

MAR DEL PLATA, Argentina (UPI) — A twin-engined Argentine airliner caught in a heavy rainstorm plunged into the sea off this summer resort Friday night, killing all 52 persons aboard.

The plane, a Curtiss Commando 46 owned by Austral, a private airline, carried 47 passengers, including an infant, and five crew members.

It was not immediately determined whether any of the dead were Americans.

The plane was on a flight from Buenos Aires to Bahia Blanca, 350 miles southwest of the Argentine capital, with a stop scheduled at Mar Del Plata.

The plane reached Mar Del Plata, 230 miles south southeast of Buenos Aires, at the height of the storm and the control tower ordered the pilot to remain aloft.

The new committee Democrats were Reps. Roman C. Pucinski, Chicago; Dominick Daniels, Jersey City, N.J.; John Brademas, South Bend, Ind.; Robert N. Giaimo, North Haven, Conn., and James G. O'Hara, Rochester, Minn.

Meantime, Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.), top GOP member of the labor group, announced he would sponsor President Eisenhower's labor program in the House. He said it contained "no union-busting tactics" and should be acceptable to both Democrats and Republicans.

Labor chiefs foresee certain enactment of a labor reform bill this session.

Slight Warmup Seen For Area

Bright skies and slightly higher temperatures are on the weekend weather program for the Monroe area.

A low of 26 was recorded yesterday, with a cold high of 38. Thursdays reading were 65-40.

The two-day outlook for Arkansas predicts fair skies and brisk temperatures.

Senators Get Briefing On U.S. Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, assured senators Friday the United States is strong enough to deter general war or cope with limited conflict. But some Democratic senators were unconvinced.

"I'm satisfied our over-all posture is adequate to provide deterrence to any kind of general war, if the Russians use good judgment," McElory said.

The defense chief also said that in event of a local-type outbreak this country is ready to step in with the required force and necessary speed.

DETAILS SECRET

Details of the briefing were withheld, but McElroy said he and Twining gave the committee a complete rundown on how this country stands militarily in relation to the Soviet Union. Several committee members said they weren't told anything new or more than they had read in the newspapers.

Democratic criticism of the Eisenhower administration's defense policies has been rising since the new Congress got under way earlier this month.

For one thing, various Democrats have contended the United States still is dangerously behind the Soviet Union in the missiles field. In reply, Republicans have said the American missiles program has been making strong progress.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) said after the briefing that he "wasn't in complete agreement with Secretary McElroy on an over-all position," adding: "He—McElroy—doesn't put much emphasis on the advantage the Russians will have."

Kennedy said McElroy and Twining did not recognize the long-range missiles gap that Kennedy and others say will separate the Soviet Union and the United States in future years.

Committee Chairman Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) said "I'll want to hear more" before he is satisfied about U.S. military preparedness. Green said he wanted

One Killed, 19 Hurt In Crash

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) —A passenger train and a heavy truck loaded with steel collided early Friday night at a grade crossing in Northwest Harris County.

The sheriff's office said at least one person was killed and 19 were injured.

Many cars of the train were derailed and the truck caught fire at the railroad crossing on State Highway 149 six miles northwest of the Houston city limits.

The truck driver, Roy Dawson, 45, of Dallas, an employe of the Austin Steel Co., was killed.

The injured, passengers and crewmen, were rushed to Houston hospitals.

Cuba Gets Cash From U.S. Firms

HAVANA (UPI)—Six leading U.S. banking and business firms have advanced the revolutionary Cuban government more than $1,500,000 to help it consolidate its financial position, it was announced Friday by the Finance Ministry.

The regime of Fidel Castro, meanwhile, continued "war crimes" trials and executions, with at least nine more followers of ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista dying in front of firing squads in the last 24 hours.

It also was announced by Foreign Minister Roberto Agramonte that Cuba had accepted the appointment of Philip Bonsal, now U.S. ambassador to Bolivia, as the new U.S. envoy to Cuba. Bonsal will take over amid growing protests in the United States against the "war crimes" executions.

Bonsal replaces Earl E. T. Smith, who resigned following charges by revolutionary spokesmen that he had favored the fallen Batista regime.

The nine most recent executions occurred in three of Cuba's six provinces. In Oriente Province, five prisoners were shot at Jiguani, one at Holguin and one at Guantanamo, near the big U.S. Naval base. One more Batista partisan was shot in Colon, in Ma-

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Rebel chief Fidel Castro called Friday night for a massive demonstration of support for the revolutionary government, now under criticism for its summary war crimes trials and executions.

Castro declared the mass rally would signify approval of the executions of "war criminals" and back up his request for extradition of other followers of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista now in the United States.

Marshall Recovery Predicted

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI) — Gen. George C. Marshall made "satisfactory progress" toward complete recovery from a mild stroke Friday but his physician said he must have a month to six weeks of hospital care.

The 78-year-old retired soldier-statesman had recovered from the "immediate effects" of the stroke he suffered Thursday at his winter home in nearby Pinehurst. "Treatment consists chiefly of sedation to control any irritation to the brain," according to Col. George M. Powell, chief of medicine at Womack Army Hospital here.

Powell said Marshall "had a comfortable night and appeared in good spirits" Friday morning. He said the former Army chief of staff and secretary of state and defense has been sleeping a lot because of sedation.

"He is talking and alert," said Powell. He reported that Marshall also has been reading and has a portable television set in his room.

"His chances for recovery are good unless he suffers another stroke," Powell said. Powell is a

BUT, CAN HE KEEP IT?

Lucky Texan Finds $2 Million In Gold

CORSICANA, Tex. (UPI) —U.S. Attorney William Steger asked the Secret Service Friday to question D. E. Jones, a service station attendant with eight children who says he found a $2,408,000 hoard of gold bars buried in a berry patch.

"I told them to find out the details and report to me," he said. "I also told them to make a demand of him for the gold, if he has it, in behalf of the government."

Leo J. Williams, assistant agent in charge of the Dallas Secret Service office, said his men probably will talk to Jones Saturday.

Jones, 38, who works from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in C. H. Allen's service station to support his family, claims he found the gold last May 17 east of Alto, Tex.

He saw what looked like a jar sticking out of the ground, Jones said, and digging it up discovered a gold bar that weighed about 50 pounds.

More digging turned up 85 more bars, he said, and he borrowed a truck to haul it away. He refused to say where he stored it, but he said he tried to keep the news secret a year because he believed after that time none could question his right to it.

Steger, having briefed himself on the gold laws, said an ordinary citizen can't legally possess more gold than is in his teeth, certain coins and jewelry.

Furthermore, he said, the law provides that if Jones has $2,408,000 worth of gold — the estimated value of 86 bars weighing 50 pounds each—and refuses to turn it over to the government, he can be fined twice its value.

Jones and his lawyer, Tom Pollard Jr., said they are willing to help the government "in every way." But Jones declined to tell reporters where he put his treasure for safekeeping.

He said he was not going to surrender his treasure without a fight.

"If anybody tries to take it," he said, "I am going to act like the alligator when the pond dried up."

Airliner Crashes Into Atlantic; 52 Persons Perish

MAR DEL PLATA, Argentina (UPI) — A twin-engined Argentine airliner caught in a heavy rainstorm plunged into the sea off this summer resort Friday night, killing all 52 persons aboard.

The plane, a Curtiss Commando 46 owned by Austral, a private airline, carried 47 passengers, including an infant, and five crew members.

It was not immediately determined whether any of the dead were Americans.

The plane was on a flight from Buenos Aires to Bahia Blanca, 350 miles southwest of the Argentine capital, with a stop scheduled at Mar Del Plata.

The plane reached Mar Del Plata, 230 miles south southeast of Buenos Aires, at the height of the storm and the control tower ordered the pilot to remain aloft.

NLSC Begins Sixth Season On TV Today

Northeast State College begins its sixth consecutive season of telecasts of college life over KNOE-TV, Monroe, at 3:30 p.m. today and will continue the programs at two-week intervals until May 17.

The 30-minute programs will feature various departments and subjects representative of the role of the college in the community. During the year, interviews with students and faculty, panel discussions, dramatic productions and musicals are scheduled.

"What Would You Do?," a show designed to acquaint the public with the latest techniques in first aid instruction, will open the series. A. S. Huffman, of the health and physical education faculty, will direct demonstrations in artificial respiration, control of bleeding, splinting of broken limbs, and transportation of injured persons.

ASSISTED

He will be assisted by a group of students enrolled in the first aid instructor's training class at the college. They include: Sidney Anderson, Eastabutchie, Miss.; Sidney Bradley, Bismarck, Mo.; Roy Cagle, West Monroe; Robert Carter, Monroe; John Freeman, Bismarck, Mo.; Gene Hagan, Brush, Colo.; Paul King, Sterlington; Edwyna Pace, Haile; Floreace Parker, Epps; Robert Randel, Monroe; Homer Rouse, Monroe; James Cox, Winnsboro and Ralph Sims, West Monroe.

James W. Parkerson, assistant professor of speech at Northeast, will produce the shows this year. A director and two cameramen are supplied by the stations and students from the college will do the announcing and make up the technical crew. Joe Lacey of Monroe will announce the first show.

Usually, the television programs begin in December with a Christmas program, Parkerson explained, but all time was sold this past fall.

Ed Schulz, assistant professor of art, will present a show on art on January 31.

ESCAPES CONVICTION

Tax Collectors For Government To Show Smiles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At no extra charge, the government is going all out to provide smiling tax collectors.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham said Friday he wants to improve taxpayer morale. He said the way to do that is to provide happier tax collectors.

"A satisfied and happy employe is the taxpayer's best friend in the administration of tax laws," he said.

Besides the promotion of sweet dispositions, Latham has some other aims to make taxpaying less burdensome. Some of the possibilities are further simplification of forms, quicker handling of letters, a "more human approach" to writing form letters, and fast decisions on tax problems and settlements.

Latham said the revenue service also is considering allowing persons with incomes up to $15,000 to use the short income tax form.

IN HOMER

4th District Meet Scheduled Feb. 17

State representatives, senators and Police Jury officials from seven parishes in the Fourth Congressional District will meet on Feb. 17 in Homer, to discuss legislative needs and elect committee members.

W. A. Breedlove, secretary of the state Police Jury association, met yesterday with Leland Mims, president of Webster Parish police jury, W. H. Mercer, president of Bossier police jury, Howard I. Barber, secretary of Claiborne police jury and Claiborne jury members James T. McCalman and C. W. Krouse, and W. C. English, president of the Claiborne jury, who served as chairman of the session.

At the meet, held in Homer, the officials decided to call the February conference of Bienville, Bossier, Caddo, Claiborne, DeSoto, Red River and Webster parishes.

W. H. Mercer will preside at the session, and A. B. Mount, of Sulpher, president of the Police Jury Association, will attend.

Breedlove pointed out that the district meeting is essential as a basis for discussing legislation needed by the area, and these recommendations will be forwarded to the Police Jury Association.

The Association often backs such requests for laws, and lobbies to obtain passage of them by the state legislature.

Election of three members of the resolutions committee of the State Association, one member of the civil defense committee, one of the highway committee, and the secretary and chairman of the district will take place.

Ex-officio chairman of the Fourth Congressional district of the Police Jury is Mercer.

Tentative plans for the first meeting of parishes in the Fifth Congressional district have been laid for a future date.

Fourteen Northeast Louisiana parishes are included in the Fifth District: Ouachita, Morehouse, Union, Jackson, Lincoln, Richland, West Carroll, East Carroll, Caldwell, Catahoula, Concordia, Franklin, Madison and Tensas.

This comprises the largest land area of any congressional district in the state.

Credit Union Session Here Is Scheduled

Election of new officers and reports on 1958 business are scheduled for the annual meeting of the Federal Employees' Credit Union, at 7 p.m. Monday in the Penn Hotel.

"Deposits for the past year are up 7.3 per cent over 1957, and loans rose 10 per cent over the preceding year," pointed out J. E. Peters, president of the organization.

Peters, who also is Superintendent of Mails at the Monroe Post Office, announced that the annual meet of Monroe-West Monroe federal employees who are members of the Union will be in the Green Room of the hotel.

COMPARED

Indicating the 1958 assets of $62,169.92 as compared to $55,694.11 in 1957, Peters was beaming as he discussed the progress made by the Union. Fifteen new members were added last year, to bring the total to 222.

"We paid a four per cent dividend for last year," he added, explaining that the organization, which is controlled by the banking department, is run primarily by stockholders who invest funds.

"Stockholders are any federal employees from this area who wish to invest in the Union. We make loans at the rate of one per cent each month, and offer both a saving in shares and a reduced cost for borrowing," he mentioned.

Last year, a 10 per cent patronage rebate was made — each person who borrowed money received back 10 per cent of the interest which he paid on the loan, Peters noted.

Begun in August of 1941, the Union is associated with the Louisiana Credit Union League in New Orleans, and the National Credit Union Association headquarters in Madison, Wisc.

Local officers include Herbert Brown, vice - president, and Francis Hays, secretary - treasurer.

Large Caseload In District Court

Two men who admitted the theft of two hound dogs are in the Ouachita Parish jail, awaiting sentencing following their appearance before Judge David I. Garrett in Fourth District Court yesterday.

Charles Guthrie and Billy W. Knight pled guilty to taking the black and tan hounds, valued at $19, from Tom Rawls.

In other action, Theodore May was sentenced to serve one year in jail for theft of an auto valued at $400. The term starts with the date of his arrest, Dec. 7, 1958.

John Lincoln pled guilty to issuing two worthless checks for $69 and $45, and was remanded for sentencing.

Earnest Bussell Jr., charged with theft of an auto valued at $250, pled innocent and trial is set for Feb. 18.

Remanded for pre - sentence investigation is Richard A. Bentley, 25, who admitted theft of $20.

Henry Lee James, charged with four counts of simple burglary, also pled guilty and was remanded for pre-sentence investigation.

Trial for George Patton, charged with theft of $20, $10 and $15, is scheduled for May 15.

HEARING

A special hearing was held in the case of John I. Patterson, charged with driving while intoxicated, and he was committed to the State hospital at Jackson for 90 days observation.

Denying two charges of simple burglary committed on Jan. 9, was Bobby Odom, 21. He will be tried on Feb. 18 on charge of burglarizing a car and a store.

Judge Garrett set trial date for Blumer Modest, charged with issuing a worthless $30 check, for Feb. 6. Robert Gayle will be tried on Feb. 5 on charges of theft of $726.13. Bond forfeiture for Gayle was set aside yesterday.

Charges of theft of property valued at $42.85, against Andrew Charles Simmons, were passed over.

Freddie J. Smith was remanded for sentencing, after he admitted disposing of mortgaged property.

Of eleven trials set for yesterday's session, two resulted in bond forfeiture, seven in pleas of guilty, one case was dropped and one person was found innocent.

Mable T. Richardson was tried and found innocent of charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

OTHER CASES

Bond forfeiture was entered against J. C. Thrash, charged with reckless driving, and J. B. Lehman, charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, after both failed to appear for trial.

Pleading guilty were: George L. White, Anthony Thomas and John Harley Cook, each charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol. Fines of $300 or 60 days were levied in each case. Cook also admitted charges of reckless driving, was fined $25 or 10 days, and was fined an additional $50 or 15 days after he pled guilty to speeding.

Charges of driving without a license against Cook were dropped, when he proved that he had a valid license.

Charles Wayne Borden admitted unauthorized use of a movable, and was fined $50 or 15 days plus 90 days in jail, to be suspended on payment of the fine and court costs.

Theodore May Jr. was fined $25 or 10 days for failure to post bond.

Charges of second offense, driving while under the influence of alcohol, were continued until April 10 for Wilford L. Taylor, and until Feb. 13 for Edward W. Lavender.

Arraigned on misdemeanor charges were: Thomas Bailey, Arthur Baker and Charles R. Cook, each pleading guilty to driving without a license. Each was fined $25 or 10 days plus 30 days compulsory in jail, to be suspended for Cook on Jan. 19.

Baker also admitted fraudulent use of a driver's license, and was fined an additional $25 or 10 days, plus 30 extra days compulsory.

ARRAIGNED

Seven persons were arraigned on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, and four others were arraigned on charges of second offense.

On the charges of driving while under the influence, Allen J. Crowell, Hansford E. Holloway and Joe D. Vines pled innocent and trial is set for March 6. Henry Toliver, also pleading innocent, will be tried March 13.

James E. Smith pled innocent and his trial is scheduled March 20.

Thomas N. Fitzsimmons and June M. Wallace each pled guilty and were fined $300 or 60 days.

Charged with second offense, driving while intoxicated, were: Charles A. Barfield, trial set for March 13, and Thomas K. Miller, trial March 20. Pleading guilty were R. T. Garland and Floyd Ray Hendrix, each fined $400 or 90 days plus 125 days compulsory in jail.

Reckless driving charges were levied against Marshall E. Bretz, fined $25 or 10 days, Henry L. McDowell, Jr., trial set for March 6, Ralph G. McKaskle, fined $25 or 10 days, Thomas F. Miller, trial set March 13, and Lee Thomas, fined $25 or 10 days.

McDowell was fined $25 or 10 days after he admitted speeding.

Jack S. Ross will be tried Feb. 27 on charges of driving without a chauffeur's license. Charged with simple obstruction of a highway is Joe J. Tatum, trial set March 13.

Earl Watson was fined $25 or 10 days plus 30 days compulsory in jail, for permitting fraudulent use of his driver's license.

Bond forfeiture against Eugene Johnson Jr., was set aside, and he is scheduled for trail on Feb. 27 on charges of driving with switched license plates.

Three men pled innocent to charges of criminal neglect of their families in juvenile court.

Six Injured In Accident Near Calhoun

CALHOUN (Special) —Six persons were injured in a head-on collision of two cars on Old Highway 80, 1½ miles west of here around 9:45 last night.

Taken to St. Francis Hospital in Monroe were Beverly Futrell, Calhoun basketball star and Ronnie Jordan, passengers in Jordan's car. Trudy and Judy Aulds, 15, and David Carter, 17, all of Calhoun and passengers in Carter's car. Jimmy Owens, 15, a passenger in Carter's car was earlier reported taken to a Calhoun doctor but was not believed to be seriously injured.

The Futrell girl had a cut over the left eye and complained of what appeared to be a broken right leg. Jordan had broken upper teeth, cut lips. Trudy Aulds had face cuts but was able to walk into the hospital. Judy Aulds apparently suffered shock, but her father said apparently was rallying from a state of unconsciousness.

Carter had face cuts and was able to walk.

ON CREST

Jordan, son of W. J. Jordan Jr. said he was driving east toward the Calhoun High School when his and Carter's vehicles met on the hill crest about a mile west of the school. Carter and relatives of the injured provided identification and details of the accident. The two cars met head-on.

Crash occurred right after a basketball game at Calhoun high school where the young people said they had been.

Futrell girl was the daughter of Mrs. Ruby Futrell. Carter is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Carter of Calhoun.

Hall and Hixson ambulances from Monroe answered the accident call. State Police last night still were investigating the accident. Details and extent of injuries were undetermined last night and most of the details on the crash were provided by friends and relatives of the victims.

Coroner Says 45 In Parish Die Violently

Violent deaths claimed the lives of 45 persons in Ouachita Parish from April 28 to through December 31, 1958, according to a report released by Coroner Dr. John P. Burton yesterday.

The report covers activities by the coroner's office for the period after Dr. Burton took office in April following the death of Dr. J. T. French who had served as a coroner for many years.

Natural deaths claimed 326 lives during the period cited on the report.

In addition the coroner recommend 89 persons committed to institutions; four to homes for the feeble minded; made 40 mental observations; 12 post mortem examintations; 10 recommittments to institutions; one sanity examinations; and 13 special examinations.

FRANCHOT TONES DIVORCED

JUAREZ, Mexico (UPI) — Mrs. Dolores Tone, wife of actor Franchot Tone, was granted a divorce Friday on grounds of incompatibility. The 52-year-old Tone and his 23-year-old wife appeared in the First Juarez Civil Court Thursday after their attorney filed a mutual consent divorce petition. Judge Ignacio Martinez Aguayo signed the decree Friday.

Head Of AFBF Will Address State Meet

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — An address by Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will highlight the annual Louisiana Farm Bureau Presidents' and Secretaries' Conference in Alexandria Monday and Tuesday.

Shuman will address the climactic session of the conference at 3 p.m. Tuesday, January 20, in the Hotel Bentley. His theme will be taken from the Edmond Burke quotation, "All that is needed for evil to prevail is for good men to do nothing." The natural Farm Bureau president also will speak that night to a special session of the Louisiana board of directors Tuesday night.

The conference, which will bring together the presidents, secretaries and service agents from the state's 61 parish Farm Bureau units, will begin at 1 p.m. Monday with a statement from LFBF President L. L. Lovell. The afternoon agenda will include a full-scale review of the Farm Bureau service program, and recommendations from the farm leaders as to methods of carrying out citizenship activities on the parish level.

The citizenship program will deal specifically to parish Farm Bureau plans to interview candidates for public office, and to stimulate register and vote campaigns among the membership.

TO ATTEND

Among the Northeast Louisiana farm leaders scheduled to attend the conference are:

Ouachita, John Filhiol, Paul Ransom, Everett Zeagler and Neil Long, all of Monroe; Morehouse, Warren White of Mer Rouge, Harold Runyon and Frank Day of Bastrop; West Carroll, Jewel B. Head, Harvey Richey and Wilburn Chrisman, all of Oak Grove; Richland, James Parrish of Girard, R. L. Bell Jr. of Mangham, B. H. Cobb and James Beam of Rayville; Jackson, Dino Alberti of Jonesboro, Newt Kavanaugh of Clay and Chester Perry of Jonesboro; Lincoln, Joe Blondin, Charles Causey and J. A. Shealy, all of Ruston.

Union, Charles Allen of Marion, Ernest Cartlidge of Point and Johnny White of Downsville; Caldwell, J. M. Rowland of Rt. 2, Monroe and Mrs. Marvin Lafferty of Columbia; Catahoula, Shelby Beasley Jr. and C. F. Routon Jr. of Harrisonburg; Franklin, Lantz Womack of Winnsboro, J. B. Eley of Gilbert and George Sherman of Winnsboro; Tensas, Oiliver Berry, Morris Allen and J. H. Roberson, all of St. Joseph; Concordia, W. E. Person of Lake St. John, Cecil Brooking and George Kind of Ferriday.

A feature of the Monday night banquet will be the presentation of Farm Bureau's award to The Daily Town Talk of Alexandria.

Owners Storing Record Amount Of U.S. Grains

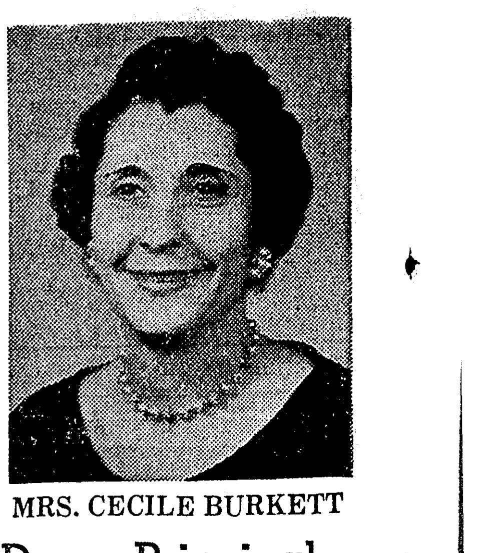
WASHINGTON (AP) — Record quantities of what, soybeans and sorghum grains from 1958 crops are being stored by growers under government price supports.

The Agriculture Department reported Friday that 489 million bushels of wheat from last year's crop had been put under supports through Dec. 31. This was the largest amount ever stored from a single crop. The previous high was 476 million bushels in 1953.

The wheat storage program involves an outlay of about 795 million dollars to the government. Wheat from 1957 crop stored to the like date that year was 185 million.

The department said that 87,683,000 bushels of soybeans and 99,957,000 of sorghum grains had been put under supports through Dec. 31.

Corn also was beginning to move into price support storage at a large volume by the end of the year. The amount was 108,560,000 bushels compared with about 14 million bushels from the 1957 crop put under loans by Dec. 31 that year. Heavy movement of corn under the program is expected before the loan period ends next spring.



MRS. CECILE BURKETT

Drew Principal Will Serve On Accredit Group

Mrs. Cecile Burkett, principal of Drew Elementary School in West Monroe, has been asked to serve on the state Central Coordinating Committee of the Cooperative Program in Elementary Education.

The request was made by Charles J. Faulk, supervisor of elementary education in Louisiana.

Recently an improvement move by educators to accredit elementary schools as secondary schools and colleges are accredited was began. The committee on which Mrs. Burkett will serve is to study the practicality of such a program.

It will receive applications for accreditation, assist school systems in planning their evaluation and organize visiting committees prior to submitting recommendations concerning accreditation.

However, since machinery for accrediting elementary schools in the state will not be ready until December, 1960, this year the committee will plan an elementary conference for next October.

Hungarians Give Mikoyan Cold Silence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hungary's exiled leaders staged silent demonstrations here Friday against Anastas I. Mikoyan.

This was in contrast to the egg-throwing and shouted insults the Soviet leader has encountered in other cities of the United States.

The small demonstrating group, made up of former non-Communist members of Hungary's post-war Parliament, was headed by former Prime Minister Ferenc Nagy and Msgr. Bela Varga, former speaker of the Parliament. It gathered in front of the State Department and the Senate when Mikoyan called on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and lunched with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"We staged our silent and solemn demonstration to draw the attention of the United States to the fact that without solving the Hungarian problem there could be no peace in central Europe," Nagy said.

He carried the Hungarian flag draped with black ribbon to commemorate the anti-Russian Hungarian uprising in 1956.

Robert Zumsteg Dies; Rites Set

Robert E. Zumsteg, 68-year-old New York resident and father of Mrs. R. C. White Jr. of Monroe, died at his home Friday.

Besides his daughter, he is survived by his widow, of New York City, and one grandchild of Monroe.

Funeral services will be held Monday in New York City.

ASSISTED

He will be assisted by a group of students enrolled in the first aid instructor's training class at the college. They include: Sidney Anderson, Eastabutchie, Miss.; Sidney Bradley, Bismarck, Mo.; Roy Cagle, West Monroe; Robert Carter, Monroe; John Freeman, Bismarck, Mo.; Gene Hagan, Brush, Colo.; Paul King, Sterlington; Edwyna Pace, Haile; Floreace Parker, Epps; Robert Randel, Monroe; Homer Rouse, Monroe; James Cox, Winnsboro and Ralph Sims, West Monroe.

James W. Parkerson, assistant professor of speech at Northeast, will produce the shows this year. A director and two cameramen are supplied by the stations and students from the college will do the announcing and make up the technical crew. Joe Lacey of Monroe will announce the first show.

Usually, the television programs begin in December with a Christmas program, Parkerson explained, but all time was sold this past fall.

Ed Schutz, assistant professor of art, will present a show on art on January 31.

ESCAPES CONVICTION

ALBERGARIA-A-VELHA, Portugal (UPI) —A court Friday acquitted Jose Almeida of murder, but fined him for having a gun without a license. Almeida used the weapon to kill his wife's lover and seriously wound her when he came home and found them embracing.

Tax Collectors For Government To Show Smiles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At no extra charge, the government is going all out to provide smiling tax collectors.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Dana Latham said Friday he wants to improve taxpayer morale. He said the way to do that is to provide happier tax collectors.

"A satisfied and happy employe is the taxpayer's best friend in the administration of tax laws," he said.

Besides the promotion of sweet dispositions, Latham has some other aims to make taxpaying less burdensome. Some of the possibilities are further simplification of forms, quicker handling of letters, a "more human approach" to writing form letters, and fast decisions on tax problems and settlements.

Latham said the revenue service also is considering allowing persons with incomes up to $15,000 to use the short income tax form.

IN HOMER

4th District Meet Scheduled Feb. 17

State representatives, senators and Police Jury officials from seven parishes in the Fourth Congressional District will meet on Feb. 17 in Homer, to discuss legislative needs and elect committee members.

W. A. Breedlove, secretary of the state Police Jury association, met yesterday with Leland Mims, president of Webster Parish police jury, W. H. Mercer, president of Bossier police jury, Howard I. Barber, secretary of Claiborne police jury and Claiborne jury members James T. McCalman and C. W. Krouse, and W. C. English, president of the Claiborne jury, who served as chairman of the session.

At the meet, held in Homer, the officials decided to call the February conference of Bienville, Bossier, Caddo, Claiborne, DeSoto, Red River and Webster parishes.

W. H. Mercer will preside at the session, and A. B. Mount, of Sulpher, president of the Police Jury Association, will attend.

Breedlove pointed out that the district meeting is essential as a basis for discussing legislation needed by the area, and these recommendations will be forwarded to the Police Jury Association.

The Association often backs such requests for laws, and lobbies to obtain passage of them by the state legislature.

Election of three members of the resolutions committee of the State Association, one member of the civil defense committee, one of the highway committee, and the secretary and chairman of the district will take place.

Ex-officio chairman of the Fourth Congressional district of the Police Jury is Mercer.

Tentative plans for the first meeting of parishes in the Fifth Congressional district have been laid for a future date.

Fourteen Northeast Louisiana parishes are included in the Fifth District: Ouachita, Morehouse, Union, Jackson, Lincoln, Richland, West Carroll, East Carroll, Caldwell, Catahoula, Concordia, Franklin, Madison and Tensas.

This comprises the largest land area of any congressional district in the state.

Credit Union Session Here Is Scheduled

Election of new officers and reports on 1958 business are scheduled for the annual meeting of the Federal Employees' Credit Union, at 7 p.m. Monday in the Penn Hotel.

"Deposits for the past year are up 7.3 per cent over 1957, and loans rose 10 per cent over the preceding year," pointed out J. E. Peters, president of the organization.

Peters, who also is Superintendent of Mails at the Monroe Post Office, announced that the annual meet of Monroe-West Monroe federal employees who are members of the Union will be in the Green Room of the hotel.

COMPARED

Indicating the 1958 assets of $62,169.92 as compared to $55,694.11 in 1957, Peters was beaming as he discussed the progress made by the Union. Fifteen new members were added last year, to bring the total to 222.

"We paid a four per cent dividend for last year," he added, explaining that the organization, which is controlled by the banking department, is run primarily by stockholders who invest funds.

"Stockholders are any federal employees from this area who wish to invest in the Union. We make loans at the rate of one per cent each month, and offer both a saving in shares and a reduced cost for borrowing," he mentioned.

Last year, a 10 per cent patronage rebate was made — each person who borrowed money received back 10 per cent of the interest which he paid on the loan, Peters noted.

Begun in August of 1941, the Union is associated with the Louisiana Credit Union League in New Orleans, and the National Credit Union Association headquarters in Madison, Wisc.

Local officers include Herbert Brown, vice-president, and Francis Hays, secretary-treasurer.

Large Caseload In District Court

Two men who admitted the theft of two hound dogs are in the Ouachita Parish jail, awaiting sentencing following their appearance before Judge David I. Garrett in Fourth District Court yesterday.

Charles Guthrie and Billy W. Knight pled guilty to taking the black and tan hounds, valued at $19, from Tom Rawls.

In other action, Theodore May was sentenced to serve one year in jail for theft of an auto valued at $400. The term starts with the date of his arrest, Dec. 7, 1958.

John Lincoln pled guilty to issuing two worthless checks for $69 and $45, and was remanded for sentencing.

Earnest Bussell Jr., charged with theft of an auto valued at $250, pled innocent and trial is set for Feb. 18.

Remanded for pre-sentence investigation is Richard A. Bentley, 25, who admitted theft of $20.

Henry Lee James, charged with four counts of simple burglary, also pled guilty and was remanded for pre-sentence investigation.

Trial for George Patton, charged with theft of $20, $10 and $15, is scheduled for May 15.

HEARING

A special hearing was held in the case of John I. Patterson, charged with driving while intoxicated, and he was committed to the State hospital at Jackson for 90 days observation.

Denying two charges of simple burglary committed on Jan. 9, was Bobby Odom, 21. He will be tried on Feb. 18 on charge of burglarizing a car and a store.

Judge Garrett set trial date for Blumer Modest, charged with issuing a worthless $30 check, for Feb. 6. Robert Gayle will be tried on Feb. 5 on charges of theft of $726.13. Bond forfeiture for Gayle was set aside yesterday.

Charges of theft of property valued at $42.85, against Andrew Charles Simmons, were passed over.

Freddie J. Smith was remanded for sentencing, after he admitted disposing of mortgaged property.

Of eleven trials set for yesterday's session, two resulted in bond forfeiture, seven in pleas of guilty, one case was dropped and one person was found innocent.

Mable T. Richardson was tried and found innocent of charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

OTHER CASES

Bond forfeiture was entered against J. C. Thrash, charged with reckless driving, and J. B. Lehman, charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, after both failed to appear for trial.

Pleading guilty were: George L. White, Anthony Thomas and John Harley Cook, each charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol. Fines of $300 or 60 days were levied in each case. Cook also admitted charges of reckless driving, was fined $25 or 10 days, and was fined an additional $50 or 15 days after he pled guilty to speeding.

Charges of driving without a license against Cook were dropped, when he proved that he had a valid license.

Charles Wayne Borden admitted unauthorized use of a movable, and was fined $50 or 15 days plus 90 days in jail, to be suspended on payment of the fine and court costs.

Theodore May Jr. was fined $25 or 10 days for failure to post bond.

Charges of second offense, driving while under the influence of alcohol, were continued until April 10 for Wilford L. Taylor, and until Feb. 13 for Edward W. Lavender.

Arraigned on misdemeanor charges were: Thomas Bailey, Arthur Baker and Charles R. Cook, each pleading guilty to driving without a license. Each was fined $25 or 10 days plus 30 days compulsory in jail, to be suspended for Cook on Jan. 19.

Baker also admitted fraudulent use of a driver's license, and was fined an additional $25 or 10 days, plus 30 extra days compulsory.

ARRAIGNED

Seven persons were arraigned on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, and four others were arraigned on charges of second offense.

On the charges of driving while under the influence, Allen J. Crowell, Hansford E. Holloway and Joe D. Vines pled innocent and trial is set for March 6. Henry Toliver, also pleading innocent, will be tried March 13.

James E. Smith pled innocent and his trial is scheduled March 20.

Thomas N. Fitzsimmons and June M. Wallace each pled guilty and were fined $300 or 60 days.

Charged with second offense, driving while intoxicated, were: Charles A. Barfield, trial set for March 13, and Thomas K. Miller, trial March 20. Pleading guilty were R. T. Garland and Floyd Ray Hendrix, each fined $400 or 90 days plus 125 days compulsory in jail.

Reckless driving charges were levied against Marshall E. Bretz, fined $25 or 10 days, Henry L. McDowell, Jr., trial set for March 6, Ralph G. McKaskle, fined $25 or 10 days, Thomas F. Miller, trial set March 13, and Lee Thomas, fined $25 or 10 days.

McDowell was fined $25 or 10 days after he admitted speeding.

Jack S. Ross will be tried Feb. 27 on charges of driving without a chauffeur's license. Charged with simple obstruction of a highway is Joe J. Tatum, trial set March 13.

Earl Watson was fined $25 or 10 days plus 30 days compulsory in jail, for permitting fraudulent use of his driver's license.

Bond forfeiture against Eugene Johnson Jr., was set aside, and he is scheduled for trail on Feb. 27 on charges of driving with switched license plates.

Three men pled innocent to charges of criminal neglect of their families in juvenile court.

Six Injured In Accident Near Calhoun

CALHOUN (Special) —Six persons were injured in a head-on collision of two cars on Old Highway 80, 1½ miles west of here around 9:45 last night.

Taken to St. Francis Hospital in Monroe were Beverly Futrell, Calhoun basketball star and Ronnie Jordan, passengers in Jordan's car. Trudy and Judy Aulds, 15, and David Carter, 17, all of Calhoun and passengers in Carter's car. Jimmy Owens, 15, a passenger in Carter's car was earlier reported taken to a Calhoun doctor but was not believed to be seriously injured.

The Futrell girl had a cut over the left eye and complained of what appeared to be a broken right leg. Jordan had broken upper teeth, cut lips. Trudy Aulds had face cuts but was able to walk into the hospital. Judy Aulds apparently suffered shock, but her father said apparently was rallying from a state of unconsciousness.

Carter had face cuts and was able to walk.

ON CREST

Jordan, son of W. J. Jordan Jr. said he was driving east toward the Calhoun High School when his and Carter's vehicles met on the hill crest about a mile west of the school. Carter and relatives of the injured provided identification and details of the accident. The two cars met head-on.

Crash occurred right after a basketball game at Calhoun high school where the young people said they had been.

Futrell girl was the daughter of Mrs. Ruby Futrell. Carter is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Carter of Calhoun.

Hall and Hixson ambulances from Monroe answered the accident call. State Police last night still were investigating the accident. Details and extent of injuries were undetermined last night and most of the details on the crash were provided by friends and relatives of the victims.

Coroner Says 45 In Parish Die Violently

Violent deaths claimed the lives of 45 persons in Ouachita Parish from April 28 to through December 31, 1958, according to a report released by Coroner Dr. John P. Burton yesterday.

The report covers activities by the coroner's office for the period after Dr. Burton took office in April following the death of Dr. J. T. French who had served as a coroner for many years.

Natural deaths claimed 326 lives during the period cited on the report.

BREAKDOWN

The report showed a breakdown on violent deaths as follows:

In addition the coroner recommend 89 persons committed to institutions; four to homes for the feeble minded; made 40 mental observations; 12 post mortem examintations; 10 recommittments to institutions; one sanity examinations; and 13 special examinations.

FRANCHOT TONES DIVORCED

JUAREZ, Mexico (UPI) — Mrs. Dolores Tone, wife of actor Franchot Tone, was granted a divorce Friday on grounds of incompatibility. The 52-year-old Tone and his 23-year-old wife appeared in the First Juarez Civil Court Thursday after their attorney filed a mutual consent divorce petition. Judge Ignacio Martinez Aguayo signed the decree Friday.

Head Of AFBF Will Address State Meet

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — An address by Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will highlight the annual Louisiana Farm Bureau Presidents' and Secretaries' Conference in Alexandria Monday and Tuesday.

Shuman will address the climactic session of the conference at 3 p.m. Tuesday, January 20, in the Hotel Bentley. His theme will be taken from the Edmond Burke quotation, "All that is needed for evil to prevail is for good men to do nothing." The natural Farm Bureau president also will speak that night to a special session of the Louisiana board of directors Tuesday night.

The conference, which will bring together the presidents, secretaries and service agents from the state's 61 parish Farm Bureau units, will begin at 1 p.m. Monday with a statement from LFBF President L. L. Lovell. The afternoon agenda will include a full-scale review of the Farm Bureau service program, and recommendations from the farm leaders as to methods of carrying out citizenship activities on the parish level.

The citizenship program will deal specifically to parish Farm Bureau plans to interview candidates for public office, and to stimulate register and vote campaigns among the membership.

TO ATTEND

Among the Northeast Louisiana farm leaders scheduled to attend the conference are:

Ouachita, John Filhiol, Paul Ransom, Everett Zeagler and Neil Long, all of Monroe; Morehouse, Warren White of Mer Rouge, Harold Runyon and Frank Day of Bastrop; West Carroll, Jewel B. Head, Harvey Richey and Wilburn Chrisman, all of Oak Grove; Richland, James Parrish of Girard, R. L. Bell Jr. of Mangham, B. H. Cobb and James Beam of Rayville; Jackson, Dino Alberti of Jonesboro, Newt Kavanaugh of Clay and Chester Perry of Jonesboro; Lincoln, Joe Blondin, Charles Causey and J. A. Shealy, all of Ruston.

Union, Charles Allen of Marion, Ernest Cartlidge of Point and Johnny White of Downsville; Caldwell, J. M. Rowland of Rt. 2, Monroe and Mrs. Marvin Lafferty of Columbia; Catahoula, Shelby Beasley Jr. and C. F. Routon Jr. of Harrisonburg; Franklin, Lantz Womack of Winnsboro, J. B. Eley of Gilbert and George Sherman of Winnsboro; Tensas, Oiliver Berry, Morris Allen and J. H. Roberson, all of St. Joseph; Concordia, W. E. Person of Lake St. John, Cecil Brooking and George Kind of Ferriday.

A feature of the Monday night banquet will be the presentation of Farm Bureau's award to The Daily Town Talk of Alexandria.

Owners Storing Record Amount Of U.S. Grains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Record quantities of what, soybeans and sorghum grains from 1958 crops are being stored by growers under government price supports.

The Agriculture Department reported Friday that 489 million bushels of wheat from last year's crop had been put under supports through Dec. 31. This was the largest amount ever stored from a single crop. The previous high was 476 million bushels in 1953.

The wheat storage program involves an outlay of about 795 million dollars to the government. Wheat from 1957 crop stored to the like date that year was 185 million.

The department said that 87,683,000 bushels of soybeans and 99,957,000 of sorghum grains had been put under supports through Dec. 31.

Corn also was beginning to move into price support storage at a large volume by the end of the year. The amount was 108,560,000 bushels compared with about 14 million bushels from the 1957 crop put under loans by Dec. 31 that year. Heavy movement of corn under the program is expected before the loan period ends next spring.

MRS. CECILE BURKETT

Drew Principal Will Serve On Accredit Group

Mrs. Cecile Burkett, principal of Drew Elementary School in West Monroe, has been asked to serve on the state Central Coordinating Committee of the Cooperative Program in Elementary Education.

The request was made by Charles J. Faulk, supervisor of elementary education in Louisiana.

Recently an improvement move by educators to accredit elementary schools as secondary schools and colleges are accredited was began. The committee on which Mrs. Burkett will serve is to study the practicality of such a program.

It will receive applications for accreditation, assist school systems in planning their evaluation and organize visiting committees prior to submitting recommendations concerning accreditation.

However, since machinery for accrediting elementary schools in the state will not be ready until December, 1960, this year the committee will plan an elementary conference for next October.

Hungarians Give Mikoyan Cold Silence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hungary's exiled leaders staged silent demonstrations here Friday against Anastas I. Mikoyan.

This was in contrast to the egg-throwing and shouted insults the Soviet leader has encountered in other cities of the United States.

The small demonstrating group, made up of former non-Communist members of Hungary's post-war Parliament, was headed by former Prime Minister Ferenc Nagy and Msgr. Bela Varga, former speaker of the Parliament. It gathered in front of the State Department and the Senate when Mikoyan called on Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and lunched with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"We staged our silent and solemn demonstration to draw the attention of the United States to the fact that without solving the Hungarian problem there could be no peace in central Europe," Nagy said.

He carried the Hungarian flag draped with black ribbon to commemorate the anti-Russian Hungarian uprising in 1956.

Robert Zumsteg Dies; Rites Set

Robert E. Zumsteg, 68-year-old New York resident and father of Mrs. R. C. White Jr. of Monroe, died at his home Friday.

Besides his daughter, he is survived by his widow, of New York City, and one grandchild of Monroe.

Funeral services will be held Monday in New York City.

Drafting Class

A drafting extension class at Ouachita Valley Vocational-Technical School in West Monroe will start Monday at 7 p.m., according to S. W. Jackson, school director.

The course will be for employed persons desiring to further their knowledge of mechanical drawing. Further information may be obtained by phoning the school.

Feature

U. S. Army Chaplain John A. Lindvall, Assemblies of God clergyman now stationed at Fort Polk, will be the featured speaker at the Swartz Assembly of God church on Sunday night, January 18, 1959. Chaplain Lindvall has served our country with overseas assignments both in Europe and in Asia.

Before he entered the Armed Services he did missionary work in several European countries. With the assistance of Chaplain Lindvall and high German authorities the film, "Germany's Destiny," in full color, was done by Alfred Carr who is one of the most outstanding religious photographers of the present time.

Pastor Ralph M. Elmore extends to the public of Monroe and West Monroe an invitation to see the picture.

Budget

Chairman G. L. Morgan and members Jamar Adcock and George Moses of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce budget committee are to meet Thursday prior to presenting the 1959 Chamber budget to the board.

President Vagie Rivers plans a second meeting of committee chairmen next Friday for the purpose of outlining projects.

Jimmy Moore, chairman of the program of work committee, has announced that a meeting of his group will be held the last week of the month.

POLICE BLOTTER

AUTOMOBILE BURNED

The Monroe police department was called early Friday to investigate an automobile which had been demolished by fire during the night. The car was parked within ten feet of the home of the owner.

Chief James C. Kelly, Jr., said Charles Hill, 708 Hood's Alley called shortly before 7 a.m. and requested an officer to check into the fire. The entire inside of the automobile had been burned sometime during the night. Neither Hill nor any of the neighbors noticed the blaze, which was out when he went to his automobile.

THEFT OF MONEY

Ed Whiddon, 60 - year - old resident of Independence, Kansas, is in the Monroe jail after being charged with theft of money from a crippled children's change container. The small box was on the counter at the A. and A. Liquor Store, South Second street.

Whiddon is alleged to have taken $5.26 from the container, after he had bought a small amount of beverage. He was picked up several blocks from the store.

DRUNK DRIVING

Monroe officers lodged three charges against a Monroe man, who, they said, had an intoxicating drink in his hand when stopped. He was reportedly driving his automobile down Louisville avenue when officers noticed him weaving over several traffic lanes.

The man was identified as Sherman B. Butler, 30, who lives in the Selman Field apartments.

Butler was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, reckless driving and no driver license.

Court Informed Jerry Lee Lewis Is 'About Broke'

MEMPHIS (AP) — Jerry Lee Lewis' attorney said today the rock 'n' roll singer is "about broke" and that his recent earnings have dropped drastically.

The attorney's claim was made when Lewis appeared in court today to answer charges that he is $1,100 behind in alimony and child support payments to his sceond wife, Jane Mitcham Lewis, 22, of Natchez, Miss.

Circuit Judge W. Edward Quick gave Lewis a week to "purge himself of contempt" by making the back payments. The singer was ordered by the court last May to pay Mrs. Lewis $600 a month alimony plus $100 monthly child support.

Lewis' attorney said his client's income had dropped sharply in recent months and that he lost $100,000 on a canceled booking of personal appearances in England.

The English tour was canceled after Lewis disclosed that he had secretly married his 13-year-old cousin, Myra Gail Brown. The announcement touched off a storm of censure from British newspapers and critics.

Judge Quick set Jan. 30 for a hearing on Lewis' cross-complanit for a reduction in the ordered alimony payments.

PLANS COURT ACTION

Ingrid To Contest Children's Custody

PARIS (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman began legal steps Friday to head off Italian film director Roberto Rosselini's attempt to win custody of their three children.

Rene Floriot, her attorney, announced papers will be filed in a French court Monday or Tuesday asking that the Swedish actress be given legal custody of the children.

Rossellini has begun custody proceedings in Rome. But any decree he gets there would have to be approved by a French court before he could get the children. A verdict for Miss Bergman in a Paris court would make it unlikely Rossellini could get a Rome decree approved here.

Miss Bergman remained in seclusion on a farm outside Paris which she and her husband, Swedish theatrical producer Lars Schmidt, bought recently. With them are the three children, Roberino 8; and twin girls, Ingrid and Isotta, 6.

Miss Bergman married Schmidt in London last Dec. 21 even though an Italian prosecutor claimed she was committing bigamy in the eyes of Italian law.

Miss Bergman's Mexican proxy marriage to Rossellini was annuled by an Italian court last July by agreement of both parties.

The state prosecutor appealed, however, contending the Italian court had no jurisdiction. The Rome Appeals Court expects to hand down a decision next month.

Miss Bergman had been given custody of the three children in 1957 under a legal separation agreement reached in Rome.

Rossellini asked the Rome Civil Court to give him custody of the three children for "moral, religious and practical reasons."

He said Miss Bergman for a long time has been living with Schmidt. He said Miss Bergman and Schmidt are Protestants and the children were baptized in the Roman Catholic Church.

Miss Bergman and Schmidt moved to a french farm shortly after their quiet civil wedding in London.

MOROSE MOOSE...

BLAINE LAKE, Sask. (AP) — Fred Larosse and his father testify that moose are not exactly friendly in the water. They were crossing Shell Lake when a swimming moose capsized their boat.

Carroll High Burglary Try Unsuccessful

A break-in and attempted burglary at Carroll High School here Thursday night were being investigated by Monroe police yesterday.

Officers noted the offense on a routine patrol when they saw some blinds drawn and a broken window. Further investigation revealed that a glass panel in an office door was broken and three small holes were in the walls, an apparent attempt to reach the school safe.

School heads reported nothing was taken from the building. A knife probably used in breaking through the mortar walls was found in the building.

Recently several attempts have been made to break into the school but little has been taken.

Land Purchased For Development

A 375-acre tract of land adjacent to West Monroe has been bought by two West Monroe men who plan to develop a large residential sub-division.

T. A. Sanders and George Cox purchased the tract from Harry Williams for a consideration of $138,750, figuring $370 per acre.

The land is on the Wall-Williams Road between White's Ferry Road and the Tennessee Gas Road.

Plans call for development of 200 lots to begin as soon as weather permits.

Sanders and Cox said blacktopped streets, natural gas, electricity and a deep water well will supply utilities for the area. Lots of 100 by 200 feet are planned.

Venezuela, in South America, is carrying on a long-range beef cattle improvement program with Brahaman hybrid heifers purchased in the United States.

Drafting Class

A drafting extension class at Ouachita Valley Vocational-Technical School in West Monroe will start Monday at 7 p.m., according to S. W. Jackson, school director.

The course will be for employed persons desiring to further their knowledge of mechanical drawing. Further information may be obtained by phoning the school.

Feature

U. S. Army Chaplain John A. Lindvall, Assemblies of God clergyman now stationed at Fort Polk, will be the featured speaker at the Swartz Assembly of God church on Sunday night, January 18, 1959. Chaplain Lindvall has served our country with overseas assignments both in Europe and in Asia.

Before he entered the Armed Services he did missionary work in several European countries. With the assistance of Chaplain Lindvall and high German authorities the film, "Germany's Destiny," in full color, was done by Alfred Carr who is one of the most outstanding religious photographers of the present time.

Pastor Ralph M. Elmore extends to the public of Monroe and West Monroe an invitation to see the picture.

Budget

Chairman G. L. Morgan and members Jamar Adcock and George Moses of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce budget committee are to meet Thursday prior to presenting the 1959 Chamber budget to the board.

President Vagie Rivers plans a second meeting of committee chairmen next Friday for the purpose of outlining projects.

Jimmy Moore, chairman of the program of work committee, has announced that a meeting of his group will be held the last week of the month.

POLICE BLOTTER

AUTOMOBILE BURNED

The Monroe police department was called early Friday to investigate an automobile which had been demolished by fire during the night. The car was parked within ten feet of the home of the owner.

Chief James C. Kelly, Jr., said Charles Hill, 708 Hood's Alley called shortly before 7 a.m. and requested an officer to check into the fire. The entire inside of the automobile had been burned sometime during the night. Neither Hill nor any of the neighbors noticed the blaze, which was out when he went to his automobile.

THEFT OF MONEY

Ed Whiddon, 60 - year - old resident of Independence, Kansas, is in the Monroe jail after being charged with theft of money from a crippled children's change container. The small box was on the counter at the A. and A. Liquor Store, South Second street.

Whiddon is alleged to have taken $5.26 from the container, after he had bought a small amount of beverage. He was picked up several blocks from the store.

DRUNK DRIVING

Monroe officers lodged three charges against a Monroe man, who, they said, had an intoxicating drink in his hand when stopped. He was reportedly driving his automobile down Louisville avenue when officers noticed him weaving over several traffic lanes.

The man was identified as Sherman B. Butler, 30, who lives in the Selman Field apartments.

Butler was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, reckless driving and no driver license.

Court Informed Jerry Lee Lewis Is 'About Broke'

MEMPHIS (AP) — Jerry Lee Lewis' attorney said today the rock 'n' roll singer is "about broke" and that his recent earnings have dropped drastically.

The attorney's claim was made when Lewis appeared in court today to answer charges that he is $1,100 behind in alimony and child support payments to his sceond wife, Jane Mitcham Lewis, 22, of Natchez, Miss.

Circuit Judge W. Edward Quick gave Lewis a week to "purge himself of contempt" by making the back payments. The singer was ordered by the court last May to pay Mrs. Lewis $600 a month alimony plus $100 monthly child support.

Lewis' attorney said his client's income had dropped sharply in recent months and that he lost $100,000 on a canceled booking of personal appearances in England.

The English tour was canceled after Lewis disclosed that he had secretly married his 13-year-old cousin, Myra Gail Brown. The announcement touched off a storm of censure from British newspapers and critics.

Judge Quick set Jan. 30 for a hearing on Lewis' cross-complanit for a reduction in the ordered alimony payments.

PLANS COURT ACTION

Ingrid To Contest Children's Custody

PARIS (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman began legal steps Friday to head off Italian film director Roberto Rosselini's attempt to win custody of their three children.

Rene Floriot, her attorney, announced papers will be filed in a French court Monday or Tuesday asking that the Swedish actress be given legal custody of the children.

Rossellini has begun custody proceedings in Rome. But any decree he gets there would have to be approved by a French court before he could get the children. A verdict for Miss Bergman in a Paris court would make it unlikely Rossellini could get a Rome decree approved here.

Miss Bergman remained in seclusion on a farm outside Paris which she and her husband, Swedish theatrical producer Lars Schmidt, bought recently. With them are the three children, Roberino 8; and twin girls, Ingrid and Isotta, 6.

Miss Bergman married Schmidt in London last Dec. 21 even though an Italian prosecutor claimed she was committing bigamy in the eyes of Italian law.

Miss Bergman's Mexican proxy marriage to Rossellini was annuled by an Italian court last July by agreement of both parties.

The state prosecutor appealed, however, contending the Italian court had no jurisdiction. The Rome Appeals Court expects to hand down a decision next month.

Miss Bergman had been given custody of the three children in 1957 under a legal separation agreement reached in Rome.

Rossellini asked the Rome Civil Court to give him custody of the three children for "moral, religious and practical reasons."

He said Miss Bergman for a long time has been living with Schmidt. He said Miss Bergman and Schmidt are Protestants and the children were baptized in the Roman Catholic Church.

Miss Bergman and Schmidt moved to a french farm shortly after their quiet civil wedding in London.

MOROSE MOOSE……

BLAINE LAKE, Sask. (AP) — Fred Larosse and his father testify that moose are not exactly friendly in the water. They were crossing Shell Lake when a swimming moose capsized their boat.

Carroll High Burglary Try Unsuccessful

A break-in and attempted burglary at Carroll High School here Thursday night were being investigated by Monroe police yesterday.

Officers noted the offense on a routine patrol when they saw some blinds drawn and a broken window. Further investigation revealed that a glass panel in an office door was broken and three small holes were in the walls, an apparent attempt to reach the school safe.

School heads reported nothing was taken from the building. A knife probably used in breaking through the mortar walls was found in the building.

Recently several attempts have been made to break into the school but little has been taken.

Land Purchased For Development

A 375-acre tract of land adjacent to West Monroe has been bought by two West Monroe men who plan to develop a large residential sub-division.

T. A. Sanders and George Cox purchased the tract from Harry Williams for a consideration of $138,750, figuring $370 per acre.

The land is on the Wall-Williams Road between White's Ferry Road and the Tennessee Gas Road.

Plans call for development of 200 lots to begin as soon as weather permits.

Sanders and Cox said blacktopped streets, natural gas, electricity and a deep water well will supply utilities for the area. Lots of 100 by 200 feet are planned.

Venezuela, in South America, is carrying on a long-range beef cattle improvement program with Brahaman hybrid heifers purchased in the United States.

More Good Earth

A 47,000,000 increase in the world's population in 1958 and an anticipated doubling of the present population in a little more than 40 years serve to emphasize that more good earth will constantly be needed to supply the world with food and other necessities.

There are many who believe that space explorations at best will provide us only with the facilities for making better use of the earth. They predict control of weather, control of climate and control of other conditions in such a way as to gain the best possible production from the land surface on this earth.

At present our primary aim in space development is to keep abreast of Russia in conceiving, manufacturing and controlling implements of war.

We thus find it unlikely that there will be enough migration from the earth by the year 2000 to have any observable effect on the earth's population, which by that time is expected to number about six billion persons instead of the present three billion.

While we are reaching out for many great things it is well to remember that there are things far smaller and less spectacular which can improve our agricultural and economic situations.

One thing for which the United States can be thankful is that it still has hundreds of thousands of acres of land which might be called surplus and which can be brought into cultivation later as needed. This is especially true of a good many of the southern states.

Two of the principal ways of reclaiming land that has heretofore been regarded as worthless for cultivation are irrigation and drainage.

There is, however, a third form of reclamation which has not been given much attention but which eventually could prove as beneficial as either irrigation or drainage. This is the matter of pushing rough, washed, virtually soilless hills down into the valleys.

There would, of course, be quite a number of problems to overcome but they would not in any way be comparable to the problems of conquering outer space and would bring far quicker returns as far as developing immediate needed food and clothing resources are concerned.

In Louisiana and Mississippi there are many thousands of acres of land which consists of sharp, steep hills and deep valleys and ravines. The hills are too steep and wash too badly to hold soil and the ravines carry such large volumes of water at times that, even though the soil might be rich enough, crops would be washed away or flooded out if attempts were made to grow them.

Knocking down a hill with explosives and tractors would call for moving a lot of dirt but it would be easily possible. Once done, the owner of the land would have a good level tract, instead of a worthless hill and a deep ravine.

Aside from moving the dirt, a principal objection would be that if a hill were pushed into a ravine the dirt on top would be subsoil not capable of producing crops. There could be two answers to this. The first would be to scrape off the top soil and then re-spread it after the leveling process. The other would be that with proper treatment the subsoil could be changed into productive soil.

A good many farmers with hilly land have resorted to terracing, which is beneficial. It is a continuing process, however, while the land-leveling could be more permanent.

On a small scale, some of the farmers in this area could try pulling down their hills and filling their ravines. It will be done eventually, when the demand for food becomes great enough. It might be done profitably now.

Spending Democrats

Eager to show the power they gained by increasing their numbers through the recent elections, the Democrats, nevertheless, now seem anxious to avoid a wild-spending label. They would like to crack down on President Eisenhower but they know that if they vote for reckless spending they will bear the brunt of blame for the inflation that would be certain to result.

Just after the Republican defeats in November, there were forecasts of congressional activity reminiscent of the first days of the New Deal. Post-election proclamations of many radical-liberals added strength to this view.

Now a note of caution prevails among members of the top-heavy Democratic majorities. Many liberals are sticking to their social welfare and spending plans—expanded housing, federal school construction, local public works and aid to depressed areas—despite President Eisenhower's economy talk but they have come to realize the new congress will not automatically be a rubber stamp for such measures.

The atmosphere of caution originates in the large bloc of Democratic "moderates," in which are a large proportion of the congressmen from the south.

"Liberals," says a moderate southern leader, "are always more vocal and articulate. They were the ones spouting off right after election but now the moderates are reasserting their strength.

It is true that radical elements are always the most vociferous. They make the most noise and thereby create the impression that their numbers are far greater than they actually are.

President Eisenhower and his supporters don't have enough Republican votes to defeat the radical Democrats but it is likely that the backing they receive from the Democratic "moderates" will go a long way toward stopping the anticipated spending spree.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Gen. Wedemeyer Possible Candidate For President

PHOENIX, Arizona — In one of the earliest "man who" speeches of the coming presidential season, General Albert Wedemeyer nominated Senator Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) for the top spot — and may have had the effect of putting his own hat in or near the ring.

This reporter, who was here for the week end, heard Wedemeyer make the pitch for Goldwater twice in the same evening — once to an overflow crowd on the steps of a packed auditorium, and once inside. The tall, handsome, folksy West Pointer from Omaha is not an orator. He does not organize his material, but he has stage presence and a warm personality which went over big. Speaking under the auspices of Arizonans for America, he drew his listeners from far outside this limited membership. Wedemeyer, whose book, "Wedemeyer Reports!" is selling widely, appears to have a gospel for which there is a widespread thirst. He said:

"We criticize Russia for being a one - party nation. Well, what about us? I don't want to see a third party in the United States. I just want to see a second party."

While Wedemeyer spoke, the Republicans back in Washington were proving his one - party charge. A sly move had been discovered to keep Goldwater, one of the very few GOP incumbents to win reelection last November, from returning to the chairmanship of the committee in charge of getting incumbents reelected.

Over on the house side, the new GOP floor leader, Charlie Halleck of Indiana, was advising Hoosier Republicans at home to reverse their position as favoring a state right-to-work law. This put Halleck on the Democratic side of the labor question. It suggested to some observers that Halleck was "running" for the vice presidency in 1960, and adjuting his position to Modern Republicanism for that ambitious purpose.

One of the silent pleasures in listening to such a speech as Wedemeyer's is to speculate on the mysterious ways of destiny — the meeting of a man and his moment. Wedemeyer at 61 has the solemn, splendid air of Douglas MacArthur, mixed with the serious, scholarly bent of the latter day Charles de Gaulle Wedemeyer is a right-winger and nationalist, but he is without a trace of the conspiratorial obsession which tends to find disloyalty where there was only disagreement. And he is without the skeleton of isolationism in his background.

He told this audience, and is presumably telling others on this speech - making tour, that he regards the constitution as recommending a minimum of government for the American people. His yardstick for foreign aid is that it should aid America as well as friendly foreigners.

Wedemeyer, in his speech and in his book, calls for a concept of foreign policy which would be welcome and understandable to all Americans. As one of the top staff officers in World War II, and later as a theater commander in China, he felt that the war was fought without a war aim. "Did we intend," he asked his audience, "to destroy the German bulwark against communism in Europe, and did we intend to change China from a friendly power and people into the dominant Communist force of Asia?"

These things happened. There is a school of thought which suspects that they were planned that way by the Reds in government. But Wedemeyer, who had four state department advisors in China that were later accused, does not use this tempting but often untenable theory to round out his case. He simply says that as an officer on the planning staffs, whose work kept him in constant contact with the civil and military chiefs in Washington, he never was able to find any aims beyond the immediate ones of killing Germans and Japs, now our allies.

There was a vacuum of thought in Washington, and the Russians rushed to fill it. In that sense, although I am departing now from Wedemeyer's language and perhaps from his thought, the Communists did plan World War II and all of its important results.

Wedemeyer is in the robust prime of his maturity, just as the Old Testament prophets were once, despite the tendency to depict them as senile. We know what happens, too often, to prophets at home. To this reporter, Wedemeyer was doing what another American hero tried bravely and vainly to do in 1938-40. Charles Lindbergh's speeches of many years ago told us that England could not defeat Germany without help and without losing her position as a world power. He said that the real enemy of the western world was communism with its Asiatic hordes. For telling these truths, Lindbergh was stoned as no other prophet in our times, and the shame in the end was ours and not his.

Well, there is not, I think, a religion in human culture which does not promise the thing that we mortals most need on earth —a second chance. It was an accident that I happened to hear the Wedemeyer speech, but a happy one. It gave me the hope that our country is so loved by the God we worship that a second prophet has come to warn us—perhaps, in time.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Eisenhower Has Fine Opportunity To Serve

No President has had a better opportunity to serve unhampered, to follow his conscience, to provide for his people uncompromisingly than Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Constitution forbids him to run again in 1960 and therefore he can have no personal ambition in the matter. He need not bow to any man for a vote in the convention, for his name will not be presented. He can follow his own course without regard to any selfish concern for the future. A President without a political future has a tremendous political advantage.

Also, every man who has recovered from a killing illness comes to realize that he is living on borrowed time and that his life having been spared, he owes much to God and less to himself. This came to me as I read Eisenhower's 1959 State of the Union message, which was no heart-searing, soul-stirring document, but seemed like an essay that had been put together by not too very skillful hands. It was not applauded too vociferously when spoken, not because most of the Congress is Democratic, but because these men also talk for a living and have some experience with the forensic art. There was little to applaud.

One does not expect every President to possess the oratorical abilities of an Edmund Burke or a Daniel Webster, but one does expect the President of more than 170 million people, in a crisis, to say something sharply and spiritually stimulating. President Eisenhower spoke of thrift in an era of profligacy; he spoke of thrift to a Congress which is planning to accelerate the inflation until the currency of America will be worthless except to bankers, brokers and other speculators who hedge on currencies to protect what they call, their position.

What an opportunity lay in that one word, thrift, for the President to speak a homily on the American character and its debasement in this generation. .It was an opportunity he missed, for even though the Congress applauded the word, thrift, the President rushed on as though he was in a fearful hurry to get the whole thing over with.

What the American people require now is not a Churchill to orate them into blood and tears or a de Gaulle to promise only austerity. The American people need a spiritual hormone, as it were; something that will take them out of the debasement of materialism and sex and beating the tax collector into respect for their own dignity as individuals and as a people; respect for work and for the fruits of their labor; respect for individual achievement and a lift away from that faceless, meaningless "togetherness" which turns strong he-men into sheeplike followers and obedient servants of racketeers and thieves.

We shall not gain that self-respect from the Mikoyan hoax which obviously took weeks of preparation although we were softened into believing that he came as a tourist to gaze in shop windows and to buy vegetables in supermarkets. Who dared to fool the American people about so serious a matter? Were the invitations to the various fiestas arranged for the Armenian vendor of Skoda Arms before he arrived or spontaneously after he got here? If the latter, it was a feat of organization and were there an honest congressional committee, it would inquire who sat at the central desk to do the telephoning and the mobilizing.

The American people do not need a trickiness like the Mikoyan well-staged visit in which those who have glass beads to sell are so interested, but rather a full statement on what the inflation is doing to our form of government, what the frightening cartelization of American industry means, a cartelization that is manipulated by raids from abroad as well as from Wall Street, by taking apart the well-established and breaking solid firms as one breaks up pieces of taffy. The President might have spoken of that if he understands the process and called attention to the menace to our people of the elimination of equality of opportunity.

The President's speech reminded me of Calvin Coolidge's remarks on a preacher's sermon. Someone asked Coolidge what the preacher talks about.

Coolidge replied that he spoke on sin.

His listener pressed him for a lengthier statement.

Coolidge replied: "The preacher said that he was against sin."

And here endeth the lesson.

83 Survivors Of Titanic Convene

NEW YORK (AP)—"For years I felt God went down with the Titanic," said the tiny old lady. "It took a great many years for me to get my faith back."

Mrs. Henry B. Harris shares today a feeling held by man that the sinking of the "unsinkable ship" after crashing into an iceberg in 1912 spelled the end of an age of security the world has never known since.

"That way of life seems gone forever," she said.

She was one of the 705 saved when the great ship went down. Her husband of 10 years, a famous New York theatrical producer, was among the 1502 lost.

Mrs. Harris, now in her 70s, uses a crutch because of an ailing hip. Looking a bit like a crippled elderly thrush, she was the life of the party at a recent reunion of a dozen or so of the 83 Titanic survivors. Afterward she found herself unable to watch the premiere of a British-made film based on the disaster.

Mrs. Harris had broken her elbow when she slipped and fell on the ship stairway a few hours before the fatal collision. She was playing cards with her husband in their suite when the ship struck the iceberg at 11:40 p.m. April 14.

"There was no shock or jar," she recalled. "I simply noticed that my clothing, which had been swinging on hangers a moment before, suddenly stopped swinging.

"When we went up on deck later and saw people getting into the lifeboats, we thought they were sissies. There was no feeling of terror—then.

"But as time passed we realized we were in real danger. My husband begged and pleaded with me to go, but I didn't want to leave him, even though I felt ever one would be saved."

Her husband finally put her in the last seat in the last collapsible boat, tossed her a blanket, stepped back—and was lost in a sea of faces.

Mrs. Harris, left a millionaire, became America's first theatrical producer, but lost her wealth during the last depression. Something of a career survivor, in the nearly 47 years since the Titanic sinking Mrs. Harris has also weathered two world wars, hard times, and three more marriages.

A lady of indomitable spirit, she observed philosophically:

"If I had my life to live over, I wouldn't change it. After all, I had 10 wonderful, happy, superb, unforgettable years with my first husband.

"He spoiled me for any other man in the world. I have had four marriages—but really only one husband."

ACCOMPLICE

FULTON, Ky. (AP) —Farmer Otis Lecornu couldn't understand how his goat always got out of its pasture.

One day Lecornu hid behind a tree. The goat climbed onto a stump in the field and started baa-ing. A burro sauntered over to stump and the goat leaped onto his back.

Then the burro trotted to the fence and the goat bounded over the barrier.

Flying Saucers Less Prominent

Flying saucers have become less prominent in the public eye (pun intended). Between 1947-1957, more than 7,500 rumors along this line were examined by the air technical intelligence center. All proved negative. In addition, no saucer ever has been reported from an astronomical observatory or moon watching team and there are no authentic pictures of these mirages.

Recently the American Practitioner Digest of Treatment carried an article by Dr. Joost A. M. Meerloo, former chief of psychological warfare of the Netherlands forces, on the delusion of flying saucers. In his opinion, yarns of this type usually offer a clew as to what is going on currently in the minds of man. The saucers may represent the suspense of the cold war, with its constant threat of invasion.

The saucer is the goat because nations are experimenting with space objects such as jet planes. balloons, missiles, satellites, and sputniks. Furthermore, the avalanche of science fiction, startling pictures, and technical reports have made us vulnerable to suggestion. Many see what they expect to see.

Optical illusions and physical distortions may be responsible. Layers of cold air, for example, may act as a huge reflector; faraway pictures and images are mirrored from a different direction and may take the form of a flying disk or other projection in the atmosphere. Even a plane in the sky is capable of casting a reflected shadow that scares the susceptible.

Optical illusions occur when the eyes do not act as a perfect camera. A blow or pressure on the eyeball makes the person "see stars," which may be interpreted as disks. The fluid behind the lens contains moving microscopic air bubbles that may project themselves as black, dislike figures. These spots are easily provoked by staring at a white surface. They may appear during fatigue, prior to a migraine headache, from over-indulgence in tobacco or alcohol, or as a result of a brain tumor.

Stare into a light and whirling polka dots may persist for a short time. These after images may be responsible for flying saucers The mentally deranged often interpret every shadow at twilight as an enemy or a persecutor.

WHITE SPOTS ON MEMBRANE

R. T. writes: Just inside my upper lip I have tiny white bumps that never get bigger or cause pain. Should or can anything be done about them?

REPLY

Fordyce's condition is a possibility. Minute, whitish spots appear on lips, checks, and gums. They are similar to milia — the white spots that occur on the face, especially under the eyes. No treatment is necessary for Fordyce's condition.

FOOD FADDIST CONVENTION

E. F. writes: I went to a natural foods convention and was surprised to learn that the protein we consume burns up the liver. I love meat but now worry about eating it.

REPLY

The liver thrives on protein, despite the crazy notion of food faddists.

PRESSURE AND THE ARTERIES

T. L writes: Could high blood pressure bring on hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

Yes. Arteriosclerosis may appear at an earlier age in hypertensives than in those with normal or low blood pressure.

NAUSEA OF PREGNANCY

V. D. S. writes: How early in pregnancy does morning sickness start?

REPLY

By about the fifth week. In some women it occurs after the second week.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Wishing Not Dieting; Use Your Will Power

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am 33 years old. I have three children aged 10 months, 5 years and 9 years. I have been gaining weight steadily since the birth of my second child. I am tired and sluggish.

About two years ago I had a basal metabolism test (two tests spaced minutes apart)). They showed a basal metabolic rate of minus 10. I was also found to have secondary anemia and a low blood pressure. Is this a common combination? Does the thyroid cause all this?

My doctor gave me vitamin B-12 shots, pills for my nerves and thyroid. The doctor told me I was really healthy but I certainly didn't feel healthy. When I was expecting my third child the doctor said "stop the pills" and he stopped the shots, too. I took vitamins orally instead.

After the baby was born my doctor just dismissed me following six weeks check-up. He didn't even mention my former trouble. Five years ago I weighed 124 pounds. Now I weigh 154, but I am only 5-foot-2.

I was able to diet before and after the first baby, but dieting seems more difficult for me as time went on. I don't know what happened to my former will power. I have a craving for sweets. I now feel tired and unable to get around easily because of my weight.

I drink a lot of coffee in trying to stay awake. I always feel like taking naps; but I can't with three small children to care for. My housework just doesn't get done. I am too pokey and rest too often. My family deserves more of me. It is bad for morale to be like I am.

I haven't consulted a doctor for many months. Should I see one? Please give me some advice. My husband acts as though he thinks I am a hypochondriac. Mrs. S.

ANSWER: Yes, better see a doctor. I believe you should have another investigation of your thyroid. Basal metabolism tests are not always accurate. The previous B. M. R. rate of minus 10 was within normal limits. Many doctors these days check their B. M. R. findings by doing a protein-bound iodine test.

If your basal tests and your protein - bound iodine tests are normal then I would dismiss your thyroid as the cause of your symptoms.

Overeating is the only cause of your gain in weight. "Wishing" will not help. You will have to diet it off. If you make up your mind that you will, dieting is really easy. Too many of us remain the mountain when we might be the molehill.

As for your tiredness and loss of ambition, that may all be due to emotion exhaustion. (In fact, that may be one reason why you "pick at food" and gain). Your low blood pressure is not significant. As for the secondary anemia, find out what causes it. Your doctor will prescribe the necessary iron, etc. Why not try getting along without "shots" for a while?

HOARDING

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is hoarding a form of insanity? I have a daughter who saves everything and anything. Her room is getting so full she can hardly get into it. She has been warned about fire hazards, etc. But nothing we say helps at all. I am sure she wouldn't go to a psychiatrist. Is there anything you can suggest? Mrs. M. B. T.

ANSWER: When a dog buries a bone or two, he is saving; when he buries a dozen, he is hoarding; if he buries tincans and sticks it's time to put him on a veterinarian's "couch."

I am not being facetious. I believe that your family doctor should investigate.

Father Warned To Let Doctors Deliver Children

CHEDBURGH, England (UPI)—Do-it-yourself advocate Wynne Roberts, 22, was under court orders Friday to let doctors deliver his children.

Roberts borrowed library books on childbirth after doctors had refused to allow him to be present at the birth of his child.

Last Nov. 20, he delivered his daughter, Lynne. She and her mother Sheila, 21, both are in good health.

But Roberts was haled before a court on charges brought by Medical Officer Dr. D. A. MacCracken "to show the public the law—if something had gone wrong they could have found themselves in trouble."

Roberts was discharged conditionally by the court which meant he could be punished if he repeated the offense.

More Good Earth

A 47,000,000 increase in the world's population in 1958 and an anticipated doubling of the present population in a little more than 40 years serve to emphasize that more good earth will constantly be needed to supply the world with food and other necessities.

There are many who believe that space explorations at best will provide us only with the facilities for making better use of the earth. They predict control of weather, control of climate and control of other conditions in such a way as to gain the best possible production from the land surface on this earth.

At present our primary aim in space development is to keep abreast of Russia in conceiving, manufacturing and controlling implements of war.

We thus find it unlikely that there will be enough migration from the earth by the year 2000 to have any observable effect on the earth's population, which by that time is expected to number about six billion persons instead of the present three billion.

While we are reaching out for many great things it is well to remember that there are things far smaller and less spectacular which can improve our agricultural and economic situations.

One thing for which the United States can be thankful is that it still has hundreds of thousands of acres of land which might be called surplus and which can be brought into cultivation later as needed. This is especially true of a good many of the southern states.

Two of the principal ways of reclaiming land that has heretofore been regarded as worthless for cultivation are irrigation and drainage.

There is, however, a third form of reclamation which has not been given much attention but which eventually could prove as beneficial as either irrigation or drainage. This is the matter of pushing rough, washed, virtually soilless hills down into the valleys.

There would, of course, be quite a number of problems to overcome but they would not in any way be comparable to the problems of conquering outer space and would bring far quicker returns as far as developing immediate needed food and clothing resources are concerned.

In Louisiana and Mississippi there are many thousands of acres of land which consists of sharp, steep hills and deep valleys and ravines. The hills are too steep and wash too badly to hold soil and the ravines carry such large volumes of water at times that, even though the soil might be rich enough, crops would be washed away or flooded out if attempts were made to grow them.

Knocking down a hill with explosives and tractors would call for moving a lot of dirt but it would be easily possible. Once done, the owner of the land would have a good level tract, instead of a worthless hill and a deep ravine.

Aside from moving the dirt, a principal objection would be that if a hill were pushed into a ravine the dirt on top would be subsoil not capable of producing crops. There could be two answers to this. The first would be to scrape off the top soil and then re-spread it after the leveling process. The other would be that with proper treatment the subsoil could be changed into productive soil.

A good many farmers with hilly land have resorted to terracing, which is beneficial. It is a continuing process, however, while the land-leveling could be more permanent.

On a small scale, some of the farmers in this area could try pulling down their hills and filling their ravines. It will be done eventually, when the demand for food becomes great enough. It might be done profitably now.

Spending Democrats

Eager to show the power they gained by increasing their numbers through the recent elections, the Democrats, nevertheless, now seem anxious to avoid a wild-spending label. They would like to crack down on President Eisenhower but they know that if they vote for reckless spending they will bear the brunt of blame for the inflation that would be certain to result.

Just after the Republican defeats in November, there were forecasts of congressional activity reminiscent of the first days of the New Deal. Post-election proclamations of many radical-liberals added strength to this view.

Now a note of caution prevails among members of the top-heavy Democratic majorities. Many liberals are sticking to their social welfare and spending plans—expanded housing, federal school construction, local public works and aid to depressed areas—despite President Eisenhower's economy talk but they have come to realize the new congress will not automatically be a rubber stamp for such measures.

The atmosphere of caution originates in the large bloc of Democratic "moderates," in which are a large proportion of the congressmen from the south.

"Liberals," says a moderate southern leader, "are always more vocal and articulate. They were the ones spouting off right after election but now the moderates are reasserting their strength.

It is true that radical elements are always the most vociferous. They make the most noise and thereby create the impression that their numbers are far greater than they actually are.

President Eisenhower and his supporters don't have enough Republican votes to defeat the radical Democrats but it is likely that the backing they receive from the Democratic "moderates" will go a long way toward stopping the anticipated spending spree.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Gen. Wedemeyer Possible Candidate For President

PHOENIX, Arizona — In one of the earliest "man who" speeches of the coming presidential season, General Albert Wedemeyer nominated Senator Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) for the top spot — and may have had the effect of putting his own hat in or near the ring.

This reporter, who was here for the week end, heard Wedemeyer make the pitch for Goldwater twice in the same evening — once to an overflow crowd on the steps of a packed auditorium, and once inside. The tall, handsome, folksy West Pointer from Omaha is not an orator. He does not organize his material, but he has stage presence and a warm personality which went over big. Speaking under the auspices of Arizonans for America, he drew his listeners from far outside this limited membership. Wedemeyer, whose book, "Wedemeyer Reports!" is selling widely, appears to have a gospel for which there is a widespread thirst. He said:

"We criticize Russia for being a one - party nation. Well, what about us? I don't want to see a third party in the United States. I just want to see a second party."

While Wedemeyer spoke, the Republicans back in Washington were proving his one - party charge. A sly move had been discovered to keep Goldwater, one of the very few GOP incumbents to win reelection last November, from returning to the chairmanship of the committee in charge of getting incumbents reelected.

Over on the house side, the new GOP floor leader, Charlie Halleck of Indiana, was advising Hoosier Republicans at home to reverse their position as favoring a state right-to-work law. This put Halleck on the Democratic side of the labor question. It suggested to some observers that Halleck was "running" for the vice presidency in 1960, and adjuting his position to Modern Republicanism for that ambitious purpose.

One of the silent pleasures in listening to such a speech as Wedemeyer's is to speculate on the mysterious ways of destiny — the meeting of a man and his moment. Wedemeyer at 61 has the solemn, splendid air of Douglas MacArthur, mixed with the serious, scholarly bent of the latter day Charles de Gaulle Wedemeyer is a right-winger and nationalist, but he is without a trace of the conspiratorial obsession which tends to find disloyalty where there was only disagreement. And he is without the skeleton of isolationism in his background.

He told this audience, and is presumably telling others on this speech - making tour, that he regards the constitution as recommending a minimum of government for the American people. His yardstick for foreign aid is that it should aid America as well as friendly foreigners.

Wedemeyer, in his speech and in his book, calls for a concept of foreign policy which would be welcome and understandable to all Americans. As one of the top staff officers in World War II, and later as a theater commander in China, he felt that the war was fought without a war aim. "Did we intend," he asked his audience, "to destroy the German bulwark against communism in Europe, and did we intend to change China from a friendly power and people into the dominant Communist force of Asia?"

These things happened. There is a school of thought which suspects that they were planned that way by the Reds in government. But Wedemeyer, who had four state department advisors in China that were later accused, does not use this tempting but often untenable theory to round out his case. He simply says that as an officer on the planning staffs, whose work kept him in constant contact with the civil and military chiefs in Washington, he never was able to find any aims beyond the immediate ones of killing Germans and Japs, now our allies.

There was a vacuum of thought in Washington, and the Russians rushed to fill it. In that sense, although I am departing now from Wedemeyer's language and perhaps from his thought, the Communists did plan World War II and all of its important results.

Wedemeyer is in the robust prime of his maturity, just as the Old Testament prophets were once, despite the tendency to depict them as senile. We know what happens, too often, to prophets at home. To this reporter, Wedemeyer was doing what another American hero tried bravely and vainly to do in 1938-40. Charles Lindbergh's speeches of many years ago told us that England could not defeat Germany without help and without losing her position as a world power. He said that the real enemy of the western world was communism with its Asiatic hordes. For telling these truths, Lindbergh was stoned as no other prophet in our times, and the shame in the end was ours and not his.

Well, there is not, I think, a religion in human culture which does not promise the thing that we mortals most need on earth—a second chance. It was an accident that I happened to hear the Wedemeyer speech, but a happy one. It gave me the hope that our country is so loved by the God we worship that a second prophet has come to warn us—perhaps, in time.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Eisenhower Has Fine Opportunity To Serve

No President has had a better opportunity to serve unhampered, to follow his conscience, to provide for his people uncompromisingly than Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Constitution forbids him to run again in 1960 and therefore he can have no personal ambition in the matter. He need not bow to any man for a vote in the convention, for his name will not be presented. He can follow his own course without regard to any selfish concern for the future. A President without a political future has a tremendous political advantage.

Also, every man who has recovered from a killing illness comes to realize that he is living on borrowed time and that his life having been spared, he owes much to God and less to himself. This came to me as I read Eisenhower's 1959 State of the Union message, which was no heart-searing, soul-stirring document, but seemed like an essay that had been put together by not too very skillful hands. It was not applauded too vociferously when spoken, not because most of the Congress is Democratic, but because these men also talk for a living and have some experience with the forensic art. There was little to applaud.

One does not expect every President to possess the oratorical abilities of an Edmund Burke or a Daniel Webster, but one does expect the President of more than 170 million people, in a crisis, to say something sharply and spiritually stimulating. President Eisenhower spoke of thrift in an era of profligacy; he spoke of thrift to a Congress which is planning to accelerate the inflation until the currency of America will be worthless except to bankers, brokers and other speculators who hedge on currencies to protect what they call, their position.

What an opportunity lay in that one word, thrift, for the President to speak a homily on the American character and its debasement in this generation. It was an opportunity he missed, for even though the Congress applauded the word, thrift, the President rushed on as though he was in a fearful hurry to get the whole thing over with.

What the American people require now is not a Churchill to orate them into blood and tears or a de Gaulle to promise only austerity. The American people need a spiritual hormone, as it were; something that will take them out of the debasement of materialism and sex and beating the tax collector into respect for their own dignity as individuals and as a people; respect for work and for the fruits of their labor; respect for individual achievement and a lift away from that faceless, meaningless "togetherness" which turns strong he-men into sheeplike followers and obedient servants of racketeers and thieves.

We shall not gain that self-respect from the Mikoyan hoax which obviously took weeks of preparation although we were softened into believing that he came as a tourist to gaze in shop windows and to buy vegetables in supermarkets. Who dared to fool the American people about so serious a matter? Were the invitations to the various fiestas arranged for the Armenian vendor of Skoda Arms before he arrived or spontaneously after he got here? If the latter, it was a feat of organization and were there an honest congressional committee, it would inquire who sat at the central desk to do the telephoning and the mobilizing.

The American people do not need a trickiness like the Mikoyan well-staged visit in which those who have glass beads to sell are so interested, but rather a full statement on what the inflation is doing to our form of government, what the frightening cartelization of American industry means, a cartelization that is manipulated by raids from abroad as well as from Wall Street, by taking apart the well-established and breaking solid firms as one breaks up pieces of taffy. The President might have spoken of that if he understands the process and called attention to the menace to our people of the elimination of equality of opportunity.

The President's speech reminded me of Calvin Coolidge's remarks on a preacher's sermon. Someone asked Coolidge what the preacher talks about.

Coolidge replied that he spoke on sin.

His listener pressed him for a lengthier statement.

Coolidge replied: "The preacher said that he was against sin."

And here endeth the lesson.

83 Survivors Of Titanic Convene

NEW YORK (AP)—"For years I felt God went down with the Titanic," said the tiny old lady. "It took a great many years for me to get my faith back."

Mrs. Henry B. Harris shares today a feeling held by man that the sinking of the "unsinkable ship" after crashing into an iceberg in 1912 spelled the end of an age of security the world has never known since.

"That way of life seems gone forever," she said.

She was one of the 705 saved when the great ship went down. Her husband of 10 years, a famous New York theatrical producer, was among the 1502 lost.

Mrs. Harris, now in her 70s, uses a crutch because of an ailing hip. Looking a bit like a crippled elderly thrush, she was the life of the party at a recent reunion of a dozen or so of the 83 Titanic survivors. Afterward she found herself unable to watch the premiere of a British-made film based on the disaster.

Mrs. Harris had broken her elbow when she slipped and fell on the ship stairway a few hours before the fatal collision. She was playing cards with her husband in their suite when the ship struck the iceberg at 11:40 p.m. April 14.

"There was no shock or jar," she recalled. "I simply noticed that my clothing, which had been swinging on hangers a moment before, suddenly stopped swinging.

"When we went up on deck later and saw people getting into the lifeboats, we thought they were sissies. There was no feeling of terror—then.

"But as time passed we realized we were in real danger. My husband begged and pleaded with me to go, but I didn't want to leave him, even though I felt ever one would be saved."

Her husband finally put her in the last seat in the last collapsible boat, tossed her a blanket, stepped back—and was lost in a sea of faces.

Mrs. Harris, left a millionaire, became America's first theatrical producer, but lost her wealth during the last depression. Something of a career survivor, in the nearly 47 years since the Titanic sinking Mrs. Harris has also weathered two world wars, hard times, and three more marriages.

A lady of indomitable spirit, she observed philosophically:

"If I had my life to live over, I wouldn't change it. After all, I had 10 wonderful, happy, superb, unforgettable years with my first husband.

"He spoiled me for any other man in the world. I have had four marriages—but really only one husband."

FULTON, Ky. (AP) —Farmer Otis Lecornu couldn't understand how his goat always got out of its pasture.

One day Lecornu hid behind a tree. The goat climbed onto a stump in the field and started baa-ing. A burro sauntered over to stump and the goat leaped onto his back.

Then the burro trotted to the fence and the goat bounded over the barrier.

Flying Saucers Less Prominent

Flying saucers have become less prominent in the public eye (pun intended). Between 1947-1957, more than 7,500 rumors along this line were examined by the air technical intelligence center. All proved negative. In addition, no saucer ever has been reported from an astronomical observatory or moon watching team and there are no authentic pictures of these mirages.

Recently the American Practitioner Digest of Treatment carried an article by Dr. Joost A. M. Meerloo, former chief of psychological warfare of the Netherlands forces, on the delusion of flying saucers. In his opinion, yarns of this type usually offer a clew as to what is going on currently in the minds of man. The saucers may represent the suspense of the cold war, with its constant threat of invasion.

The saucer is the goat because nations are experimenting with space objects such as jet planes, balloons, missiles, satellites, and sputniks. Furthermore, the avalanche of science fiction, startling pictures, and technical reports have made us vulnerable to suggestion. Many see what they expect to see.

Optical illusions and physical distortions may be responsible. Layers of cold air, for example, may act as a huge reflector; faraway pictures and images are mirrored from a different direction and may take the form of a flying disk or other projection in the atmosphere. Even a plane in the sky is capable of casting a reflected shadow that scares the susceptible.

Optical illusions occur when the eyes do not act as a perfect camera. A blow or pressure on the eyeball makes the person "see stars," which may be interpreted as disks. The fluid behind the lens contains moving microscopic air bubbles that may project themselves as black, dislike figures. These spots are easily provoked by staring at a white surface. They may appear during fatigue, prior to a migraine headache, from over-indulgence in tobacco or alcohol, or as a result of a brain tumor.

Stare into a light and whirling polka dots may persist for a short time. These after images may be responsible for flying saucers The mentally deranged often interpret every shadow at twilight as an enemy or a persecutor.

WHITE SPOTS ON MEMBRANE

R. T. writes: Just inside my upper lip I have tiny white bumps that never get bigger or cause pain. Should or can anything be done about them?

REPLY

Fordyce's condition is a possibility. Minute, whitish spots appear on lips, checks, and gums. They are similar to milia — the white spots that occur on the face, especially under the eyes. No treatment is necessary for Fodyce's condition.

FOOD FADDIST CONVENTION

E. F. writes: I went to a natural foods convention and was surprised to learn that the protein we consume burns up the liver. I love meat but now worry about eating it.

REPLY

The liver thrives on protein, despite the crazy notion of food faddists.

PRESSURE AND THE ARTERIES

T. L writes: Could high blood pressure bring on hardening of the arteries?

REPLY

Yes. Arteriosclerosis may appear at an earlier age in hypertensives than in those with normal or low blood pressure.

NAUSEA OF PREGNANCY

V. D. S. writes: How early in pregnancy does morning sickness start?

REPLY

By about the fifth week. In some women it occurs after the second week.

Cuba Gets Cash From U.S. Firms

tanzas Province, and another in Casilda, in last villas province.

During the same period, twenty four other prisoners were released from jail in Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, because of insufficient evidence against them.

Meanwhile in Havana, former President Carlos Prio Socarras, who was ousted by Batista in 1952, toured the Cabana fortress to scan the list of those being detained as "war criminals" to make sure none of his political followers were being unjustly held.

Dr. Enrique Menocal, the finance ministry's tax director, said the money given the government was an advance on taxes due next March. Menocal said representatives of the American firms, long established in Cuba, also had called on Finance Minister Rufo Lopez Fresquet to offer their economic and moral support to the regime of Fidel Castro.

Menocal listed the American firms and their contributions as follows: United Fruit, Co., $500,000; Nicaro Nickel Co., $375,000; Colgate, Palmolive Peet, $300,000; First National Bank of Boston, $150,000; International Harvester, $125,000, and First National City Bank of New York, $100,000.

Menocal said the government hoped other American businesses in Cuba would follow the example.

In another development, acting President Manuel Urrutia announced Cuba was asking the United States to drop charges against Cuban citizens awaiting trial in the United States for helping Fidel Castro rebels.

Scores of Cubans were arrested in several American cities during the two-year revolt for running arms or otherwise violating American neutrality.

The provisional government, meanwhile, postponed the start of "war crimes" trials for 631 prisoners in Havana's Cabana Fortress, but other trials were resumed in nearby Matanzas under new regulations designed to provide greater safeguards for the rights of imprisoned Batista supporters.

Urrutia announced that the revolutionary courts were ordered to turn over to his office dossiers documenting the criminal charges against Batista's henchmen. The evidence, Urrutia said, would be made public to "inform foreign public opinion," particularly in the United States, on what is happening in Cuba.

"It is lamentable," the President said, "that the North American people have been badly misinformed."

He charged that American interests which had been sympathetic to the Batista regime were promoting a campaign in the United States against the new Cuban government.

In a televised interview, Urrutia said U.S.-Cuban relations would continue to be based on "cordiality" but that Cuba would exercise its full sovereignty and insist on maintaining its own point of view.

In defending the "war crimes" trials and executions, Urrutia said that so far no sentence had been protested by the relatives or friends of the condemned men, indicating that all of them had been fair.

Urrutia also made the following points:

—Any attempt by Batista to invade Cuba from the Dominican Republic was doomed to failure because the entire Cuban people were behind the new government

—All trade treaties existing between Cuba and foreign countries would be revised.

South Bend 'Emergency' Is Decreed

teachers assembled children in packs and led them home through the driving snow. Auxiliary police were called out in both South Bend and Mishawaka and 12 extra snow plows helped clear most of South Bend's main streets and highways by nightfall.

County roads in the area were impassable, however, and many families were snowbound. The Army Reserve offered heavy equipment to aid rural areas, but had no calls for assistance.

In the West, Southern California was setting heat records. The 81-degree high at Los Angeles made it the city's hottest Jan. 16 on the books.

But in upper Michigan, it took a huge dose of alcohol to keep life in the body of William Korbi, 55. He was found frozen stiff as a board on Drummond Island in zero temperatures. He lived and doctors said the only explanation was the quantity of liquor he had drunk before he passed out.

Warnings of heavy snow continuing through the night were issued for a wide area, including South Bend, within 50 to 10 miles of Lake Michigan.

It was so cold at Columbus, Ohio — two degrees above zero— that the ropes and pulleys froze on the state Capitol flagpoles and the American and state flags couldn't be hoisted.

Oswego, N.Y., buried under marathon snows last month, had a half foot of snow and more coming. Upstate New York's snows followed fog so dense that planes were grounded in near-zero visibility.

Cold wave warnings went up across most of Dixie. Winds up to 59 miles per hour swept Florida from Daytona Beach to Key West, rain fell on the Hialeah Race Track opening, and snows ranging from an inch to a half foot covered northern Alabama, central Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

In Texas, a cold snap endangered 1,000 acres of tomatoes in the Lower Rio Grande Valley following a seven-inch snowstorm in the Panhandle. Temperatures got to 15 below zero in northern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota.

South Bend, a highly industrialized city near the southen tip of Lake Michigan, was a sitting duck for the developing snow storm. The icy air picked up moisture in its race across the lake and dumped it in the form of snow on the southern and eastern shores.

Among the plants which closed down were the big Studebaker-Packard and Bendix Corp. factories.

Thousands of factory workers, department store clerks and office employes were told to get out and go home by mid-morning lest they be stranded by the fast-rising drifts. They were joined by homeward - bound children from all the schools in the city and the surrounding Hoosier rural area.

South Bend's storm barely missed the rating of a full - blown blizzard. The temperature was two above when the snows started at 8 a.m., but rose to 15 by noon. Weathermen said the cold wasn't bitter enough nor the winds strong enough to rate a blizzard classification.

The storm was centered in Pennsylvania by mid-afternoon. Traffic slowed down in the state's northwest and southwest areas and truck driver John King, 43, died of an apparent heart attack trudging through deep snow after his tractor-trailer jackknifed.

Also in Pennsylvania, telephone service was disrupted when ice piled up on the Youghiogheny River bank and knocked down utility poles. An ice jam on Stony Creek cut off 300 feet of highway at the village of Blough.

In Pittsburgh, police trailed the footprints of Carl Kuni, 37, through the snow and arrested him on charges of turning in a false fire alarm.

U.S. Seeking Detector For Atom Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A method of detecting nuclear tests so effective that no nation would dare run the risk of getting caught cheating is being sought by the United States.

A Defense Department official reported this Friday in adding details to conclusions, announced recently by the President's Science Advisory Committee, that it is "more difficult to identify and detect underground tests than had previously been believed."

He told a news conference that obviously one way of improving detection of underground tests—and determining the difference between a nuclear explosion and an earthquake—would be to establish many detection stations. He gave no details on what type of detection system might be under consideration.

Dr. Hans Bethe, a top-ranking nuclear scientist had told newsmen earlier at the Capitol that he believed a satisfactory atomic test detection system could be worked out.

Bethe, after testifying in secret hearings held by the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee earlier this week, said seismologists—the men who study earthquakes—had some very good ideas of how to solve detection problems. He gave no details.

The Defense Department spokesman said 16 specially installed seismographical stations were used to check on three underground tests conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission last October. He said the stations were stretched 2,284 miles eastward from the Nevada testing grounds where the blasts were touched off. Each of the stations had special earthquakes came up with these shocks and interpret instrument recordings.

At the Capitol, meantime, some members of the Atomic Energy Committee said privately they were highly doubtful whether detection of all tests would be possible.

Pro-Labor Democrats In Control

plained that in the last Congress they could count on no more than 12 or 13 votes in support of legislation backed by their organization. Two Democrats — Chairman Graham A. Barden (N.C.) and Phil M. Landrum (Ga.)—frequently voted with 13 Republicans last year.

Two other Democrats from coal-mining areas — Reps. Cleveland M. Bailey (W.Va.) and Carl D. Perkins (Ky.) — generally supported the position of John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, who opposes any new labor legislation.

At the same time that Democrats were loading up the labor committee with liberals, Republicans made certain that conservatives would have stronger control over the House Rules Committee which controls the flow of legislation to the House floor.

They assigned Reps. B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.) and Hamer H. Budge (R-Idaho) to the rules panel to replace Reps. Henry J. Latham (R-N.Y.) who retired from Congress; and Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) who won election to the Senate last November.

Democratic leaders laid the groundwork for giving the liberals control of the Labor & Education Committee last week by insisting that Democrats get 20 of the group's 30 seats. The ratio last year was 17 Democrats and 13 Republicans.

Atomic Electric 'Plant' Unveiled

parts. He called it the most efficient power-developing small unit so far turned out.

Armstrong said it would take 1,450 pounds of batteries to produce the same amount of electrical energy that the new unit can developed without batteries.

By way of illustration, he said that if the new generator had been used in the Atlas satellite it would have continued to produce power for at least a year. The 20 pounds of batteries that powered Eisenhower's tape-recorded Christmas greeting and other devices in the satellite lasted only 18 days.

The test model displayed at the White House — the only one in existence — weighed five pounds and used polonium 210 as fuel.

Armstrong said the model cost $15,000, exclusive of the fuel, but that on a production basis it could be turned out for about $200, and the weight could be cut to three pounds. Its initial output of five watts gradually disminishes over a period of time, but Armstrong said the unit would continue to generate some power indefinitely.

He said polonium 210 is too expensive for use on any production scale, but a cheaper isotope could be substituted.

The device was developed for the AEC in four months by the Martin Co. of Baltimore and the Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co. of Minneapolis.

A Martin Co. spokesman said the device is completely safe, and with the use of different isotopes, such as cerium or plutonium 238, could provide electricity for more than a century.

A wide range of commerical possibilities may open up eventually. But use of this particular technique of converting heat directly into electricity in large scale power production was considered unlikely.

The "SNAP" device (system for nuclear auxiliary power), employes the principle of thermo-electricity production. It uses a radioactive material as a heat source, and uses semiconductor chemicals to convert the heat into electricity.

It is a V-shaped device, with one leg consisting of two pieces of lead teluride joined together. Each of the pieces is treated with a bismuth material, which causes the leg to be deficient in electrons.

The other leg is made up of two sections — one of magnesium teluride, the other of lead teluride. This leg is treated with sodium in such a way that it has a surplus of electrons.

When heat is applied — in this case by the radioactive polonium — the electrons try to reassort themselves so that those on the surplus side will go over to the deficit leg. Thus, there is a flow of electrons — which means electricity. The electricity can be tapped by means of wires.

Still a secret is the exact process whereby the reassortment of the electrons takes place, and what keeps it going on indefintely.

Maj Gen. Donald Keirn, chief of the AEC's aircraft propulsion division told a reporter the device could be made several times larger "but if you are thinking in terms of a power plant producing hundreds of thousands of kilowatts, I would say it's unlikely."

"As a source of power," Keirn added, "I believe it would have specialized purposes, but it would be some time before it could compete with small gasoline motors."

Brooks Takes Space Helm; Plans Probe

but keenly interested in the problems o his farming district, was "thrilled and honored" with his appointment.

He gave credit for his assignment to Rep. Hale Boggs, of New Orleans, who as a member of the ways and means committee strongly backed McSween for the post.

Boggs, in a separate statement, said the committee reshuffle gives Louisiana the most commanding position in the House organization it has ever had.

Brooks, he said, becomes the first Louisiananan in history to head a major committee of the House. His committee — popularly called the space committee — is one that will grow increasingly important as the U. S. enters the space age.

Brooks himself was long reluctant to leave his former assignment as vice-chairman of the armed services committee and was disturbed earlier this week about possible jurisdiction disputes between the space committee and other house panels.

Friday, however, he said he planned "to do the best I can" in the new post. He particularly praised the membership of the new committee.

He noted that the number two democrat on the space committee is John McCormack of Massachusetts, the majority leader. The minority leader heads the Republican side of the committee.

It was learned that more congressmen wanted assignment to the space committee than any other unit this session.

Brooks, dean of the Louisiana delegation in the House, is now in his 12th term.

His resignation from the armed services committee advances another Louisianan, F. Edward Hebert of New Orleans, to sixth spot on that unit.

Otto Passman of Monroe continues at 14th in rank of the vital appropriations committee, where he heads the mutual aid subcommittee.

T. A. Thompson of Ville Platte, moves up on the eighth place on the committee on public works and fifth on the merchant marine and fisheries committee.

James Morrison of Baton Rouge is vice chairman of the post office and civil service committee and fifth on the District of Columbia committee.

Edwin E. Willis of St. Martinville is now sixth ranking member of the judiciary committee and fourth on the un-American activities unit.

legislation was not new. However, his emphasis Friday night indicated he intends to go far beyond the proposals of the Eisenhower administration or Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Kennedy's proposed legislation, successor to the Kennedy-Ives bill of 1958, has been viewed generally as the favorite to be the main labor bill vehicle on which the Democratic - controlled Congress will act. The Senate passed the Kennedy - Ives version last session, but it died in the House.

The general aim of all three is to protect union members from crooked leadership, to protect union treasuries from abuse, to advance responsible bargaining procedures and to protect the public and innocent third parties from coercive boycotts and blackmail types of pressure.

McClellan keyed his remarks about labor legislation to a new denunciation of James R. Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union. He called Hoffa power mad, and charged the union has "racket - ridden, gangster-infested, scandal-packed administration."

McClellan said his bills would try to spell out in the law basic standards of conduct for unions, with enforcement devices that would deny collective bargaining rights to any union which failed to meet these tests. He said he also would propose that those which fail be stripped of tax exemptions.

He said his bills would propose criminal penalties for many improper actions in this field.

The proposal now is subject to ratification or rejection by rank-and-file Harvester workers who will vote on the proposal Sunday.

Cuba Gets Cash From U.S. Firms

tanzas Province, and another in Casilda, in last villas province.

During the same period, twenty four other prisoners were released from jail in Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, because of insufficient evidence against them.

Meanwhile in Havana, former President Carlos Prio Socarras, who was ousted by Batista in 1952, toured the Cabana fortress to scan the list of those being detained as "war criminals" to make sure none of his political followers were being unjustly held.

Dr. Enrique Menocal, the finance ministry's tax director, said the money given the government was an advance on taxes due next March. Menocal said representatives of the American firms, long established in Cuba, also had called on Finance Minister Rufo Lopez Fresquet to offer their economic and moral support to the regime of Fidel Castro.

Menocal listed the American firms and their contributions as follows: United Fruit, Co., $500,000; Nicaro Nickel Co., $375,000; Colgate, Palmolive Peet, $300,000; First National Bank of Boston, $150,000; International Harvester, $125,000, and First National City Bank of New York, $100,000.

Menocal said the government hoped other American businesses in Cuba would follow the example.

In another development, acting President Manuel Urrutia announced Cuba was asking the United States to drop charges against Cuban citizens awaiting trial in the United States for helping Fidel Castro rebels.

Scores of Cubans were arrested in several American cities during the two-year revolt for running arms or otherwise violating American neutrality.

The provisional government, meanwhile, postponed the start of "war crimes" trials for 631 prisoners in Havana's Cabana Fortress, but other trials were resumed in nearby Matanzas under new regulations designed to provide greater safeguards for the rights of imprisoned Batista supporters.

Urrutia announced that the revolutionary courts were ordered to turn over to his office dossiers documenting the criminal charges against Batista's henchmen. The evidence, Urrutia said, would be made public to "inform foreign public opinion," particularly in the United States, on what is happening in Cuba.

"It is lamentable," the President said, "that the North American people have been badly misinformed."

He charged that American interests which had been sympathetic to the Batista regime were promoting a campaign in the United States against the new Cuban government.

In a televised interview, Urrutia said U.S.-Cuban relations would continue to be based on "cordiality" but that Cuba would exercise its full sovereignty and insist on maintaining its own point of view.

In defending the "war crimes" trials and executions, Urrutia said that so far no sentence had been protested by the relatives or friends of the condemned men, indicating that all of them had been fair.

Urrutia also made the following points:

—Any attempt by Batista to invade Cuba from the Dominican Republic was doomed to failure because the entire Cuban people were behind the new government

—All trade treaties existing between Cuba and foreign countries would be revised.

—His government would seek before the United Nations and the Organization of American States that "human rights be respected everywhere." He charged the governments of the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua and Paraguay with violating such rights.

At the same time, the revolutionary regime, obviously becoming increasingly sensitive to foreign criticism of war crimes trials and executions, launched a drive to publicize the "horrors" committed by Batista's army and police.

Dr. Miguel Comas, head of the revolutionary tribunal, was reported to have arrived at Ciego de Avila to review accusations against 36 persons there and 30 in Moron. Both towns are in central Camaguey Province.

Pro-Labor Democrats In Control

plained that in the last Congress they could count on no more than 12 or 13 votes in support of legislation backed by their organization. Two Democrats — Chairman Graham A. Barden (N.C.) and Phil M. Landrum (Ga.)—frequently voted with 13 Republicans last year.

Two other Democrats from coal-mining areas — Reps. Cleveland M. Bailey (W.Va.) and Carl D. Perkins (Ky.) — generally supported the position of John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, who opposes any new labor legislation.

At the same time that Democrats were loading up the labor committee with liberals, Republicans made certain that conservatives would have stronger control over the House Rules Committee which controls the flow of legislation to the House floor.

They assigned Reps. B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn.) and Hamer H. Budge (R-Idaho) to the rules panel to replace Reps. Henry J. Latham (R-N.Y.) who retired from Congress; and Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) who won election to the Senate last November.

Democratic leaders laid the groundwork for giving the liberals control of the Labor & Education Committee last week by insisting that Democrats get 20 of the group's 30 seats. The ratio last year was 17 Democrats and 13 Republicans.

Senators Get Briefing On U.S. Defense

to question others beside McElroy and Twining.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) described the McElroy-Twining report as "a mildly optimistic picture."

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) said he felt the U.S. defense position is "pretty good."

Sen. J. William Fubright (D-Ark) said he got the impression that generally speaking "the Russians are not always ahead of us" in missiles and that defense officials "believe we are holding our own" over-all.

Atomic Electric 'Plant' Unveiled

parts. He called it the most efficient power-developing small unit so far turned out.

Armstrong said it would take 1,450 pounds of batteries to produce th same amount of electrical energy that the new unit can developed without batteries.

By way of illustration, he said that if the new generator had been used in the Atlas satellite it would have continued to produce power for at least a year. The 20 pounds of batteries that powered Eisenhower's tape-recorded Christmas greeting and other devices in the satellite lasted only 18 days.

The test model displayed at the White House — the only one in existence — weighed five pounds and used polonium 210 as fuel.

Armstrong said the model cost $15,000, exclusive of the fuel, but that on a production basis it could be turned out for about $200, and the weight could be cut to three pounds. Its initial output of five watts gradually disminishes over a period of time, but Armstrong said the unit would continue to generate some power indefinitely.

He said polonium 210 is too expensive for use on any production scale, but a cheaper isotope could be substituted.

The device was developed for the AEC in four months by the Martin Co. of Baltimore and the Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co. of Minneapolis.

A Martin Co. spokesman said the device is completely safe, and with the use of different isotopes, such as cerium or plutonium 238, could provide electricity for more than a century.

A wide range of commerical possibilities may open up eventually, But use of this particular technique of converting heat directly into electricity in large scale power production was considered unlikely.

The "SNAP" device (system for nuclear auxiliary power), employes the principle of thermo-electricity production. It uses a radioactive material as a heat source, and uses semiconductor chemicals to convert the heat into electricity.

It is a V-shaped device, with one leg consisting of two pieces of lead teluride joined together. Each of the pieces is treated with a bismuth material, which causes the leg to be deficient in electrons.

The other leg is made up of two sections — one of magnesium teluride, the other of lead teluride. This leg is treated with sodium in such a way that it has a surplus of electrons.

When heat is applied — in this case by the radioactive polonium — the electrons try to reassort themselves so that those on the surplus side will go over to the deficit leg. Thus, there is a flow of electrons — which means electricity. The electricity can be tapped by means of wires.

Still a secret is the exact process whereby the reassortment of the electrons takes place, and what keeps it going on indefintely.

Maj Gen. Donald Keirn, chief of the AEC's aircraft propulsion division told a reporter the device could be made several times larger "but if you are thinking in terms of a power plant producing hundreds of thousands of kilowatts, I would say it's unlikely."

"As a source of power," Keirn added, "I believe it would have specialized purposes, but it would be some time before it could compete with small gasoline motors."

Brooks Takes Space Helm; Plans Probe

but keenly interested in the problems o his farming district, was "thrilled and honored" with his appointment.

He gave credit for his assignment to Rep. Hale Boggs, of New Orleans, who as a member of the ways and means committee strongly backed McSween for the post.

Boggs, in a separate statement, said the committee reshuffle gives Louisiana the most commanding position in the House organization it has ever had.

Brooks, he said, becomes the first Louisiananan in history to head a major committee of the House. His committee — popularly called the space committee — is one that will grow increasingly important as the U. S. enters the space age.

Brooks himself was long reluctant to leave his former assignment as vice-chairman of the armed services committee and was disturbed earlier this week about possible jurisdiction disputes between the space committee and other house panels.

Friday, however, he said he planned "to do the best I can" in the new post. He particularly praised the membership of the new committee.

He noted that the number two democrat on the space committee is John McCormack of Massachusetts, the majority leader. The minority leader heads the Republican side of the committee.

It was learned that more congressmen wanted assignment to the space committee than any other unit this session.

Brooks, dean of the Louisiana delegation in the House, is now in his 12th term.

His resignation from the armed services committee advances another Louisianan, F. Edward Hebert of New Orleans, to sixth spot on that unit.

Otto Passman of Monroe continues at 14th in rank of the vital appropriations committee, where he heads the mutual aid subcommittee.

T. A. Thompson of Ville Platte, moves up on the eighth place on the committee on public works and fifth on the merchant marine and fisheries committee.

James Morrison of Baton Rouge is vice chairman of the post office and civil service committee and fifth on the District of Columbia committee.

Strikers Accept Harvester Pact

CHICAGO (AP) — The United Auto Workers Council for International Harvester Co. Friday night accepted in a stormy session a proposed contract which would end the two-month strike.

The proposal now is subject to ratification or rejection by rank-and-file Harvester workers who will vote on the proposal Sunday.

legislation was not new. However, his emphasis Friday night indicated he intends to go far beyond the proposals of the Eisenhower administration or Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Kennedy's proposed legislation, successor to the Kennedy-Ives bill of 1958, has been viewed generally as the favorite to be the main labor bill vehicle on which the Democratic - controlled Congress will act. The Senate passed the Kennedy - Ives version last session, but it died in the House.

The general aim of all three is to protect union members from crooked leadership, to protect union treasuries from abuse, to advance responsible bargaining procedures and to protect the public and innocent third parties from coercive boycotts and blackmail types of pressure.

McClellan keyed his remarks about labor legislation to a new denunciation of James R. Hoffa, international president of the Teams'ers Union. He called Hoffa power mad, and charged the union has "racket - ridden, gangster-infested, scandal-packed administration."

McClellan said his bills would try to spell out in the law basic standards of conduct for unions, with enforcement devices that would deny collective bargaining rights to any union which failed to meet these tests. He said he also would propose that those which fail be stripped of tax exemptions.

He said his bills would propose criminal penalties for many improper actions in this field.

GSC CONTEST

Northeast Cagers To Play Northwestern Here Tonight

Northeast's Indians, bruised and beaten by one Gulf States Conference co-champion, take on the other here tonight at 8 o'clock in the Ouachita Junior High gym.

Northwestern, led by sharpshooting little Jimmy Leach and riding a four-game winning streak, provides Northeast's opposition tonight and Lenny Fant's Redskins attempt to take their second conference win against one setback.

Northeast, beaten by McNeese, 67-59, at Lake Charles Tuesday, may miss the services of co-captain Billy May, 6-6 rebounding star. The Grayson center has a case of flu and had a fever of over 100 degrees the past two days and spent yesterday in bed. He's a doubtful starter.

Guard Sid Bradley bruised a knee in the McNeese game but has worked out this week, though not at full speed.

The other three Indian starters, John Freeman, Ronald Doyle and Mickey Kitchens, are ready for action. Should May fail to start, Fant will probably call on Huey Cottrell, 6-6, to open at center. Other reserves who'll probably see action include guard Larry Stegall and forward Fred Bradley.

Northeast's record stands at 8-7 for the season. The Tribe has defeated Southeastern, 92-78, and lost to McNeese in GSC competition.

Huey Cranford's Northwestern five are 12-5 for the season and atop the GSC standings with a 2-0 mark.

The Demon wins over the GSC teams were "squeakers" as Cranford's cagers came back from an 11-point lead to edge Southeastern 77-72 and a 14-point deficit to win over McNeese 82-79 in a real battle.

But close games seems to be the pattern for the Natchitoches quintet. Their 12 wins this season include a 79-70 win over Southern State of Arkansas in a game which was closer than the score indicates, a 72-66 double overtime win over Stephen F. Austin, a last 34 seconds victory over East Texas State 66-65, and a final second 71-69 win over East Texas Baptist.

Diminutive Jimmy Leach, a clutch offensive performer, has paced the Demons with a 22 point average per game. The Demons as a team have averaged slightly over 71 points.

Starting with Leach tonight will probably be captain Elvin McCann, who has been hitting a 7-point clip, Phillip Haley, Bobby Wicker, and Larry Fontenot. Haley and Wicker have 6-point averages while Fontenot has been averaging over 7.

Other Demons slated to see action against the Indians will be Gene Wright, Negreet freshman; Larry Skinner, a fast improving Natchitoches sophomore; Ed Hunter, an impressive transfer cager from Coushatta; Bill Stewart, Doyline defensive standout; Truitt Weldon, big 6-6 freshmen center from Florien; and David Brown, 6-5 freshman from Jonesboro.

Hunter was practicularly impressive in the Demon's last game with Louisiana College and Skinner showed promise in a brief stint against Southeastern.

Leach, third ranking free throw shooter in the nation last season, has improved his percentage in this department in recent tilts, hitting 21 tosses out of 22 attempts in the last two games.

BEATS ARCADIA, 60-40

Jonesboro-Hodge Wins In Tourney

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Favored Jonesboro - Hodge turned back Arcadia, 60-40, to highlight last night's action in the 7th annual Jonesboro - Hodge March of Dimes Basketball Tournament.

Other games saw Quitman trounce Gibsland, 46-31; Ruston down Chatham, 67-46; Simsboro whip Saline, 42-33; Weston beat Gibsland, 56-41; and Saline trip Winnfield, 40-35.

All-stater John Bailey scored 21 points to pace Jonesboro-Hodge past Arcadia. Hoye Bowman was high for Arcadia with 14 markers.

Malcolm George's 21 points were tops for Quitman while C. L. Johnson got 12 to lead Gibsland. Allen Herbert and Howard Willis scored 18 each to pace Ruston. Red Cooper led Chatham with 18.

Max Lewis put in 21 for Simsboro and Don Williams paced Saline with 14 points. Harold Watkins got 24 in Weston's consolation win over Gibsland while Johnson was again high for Gibsland with 16.

Lonnie Cheatwood got 12 for Saline and Latham was high for Winnfield's losers with 13.

Today's action will see Chatham vs. Arcadia in a consolation bracket contest at 9:30. Choudrant meets Saline at 10:30 in a consolation semi-final while Ruston plays Simsboro at 12 noon in a championship semi-final.

Weston plays the Arcadia-Chatham winner at 1:15 in a consolation semi-final and Quitman meets Jonesboro - Hodge in a championship semi-final tilt at 2:30.

The consolation finals will be at 7 and the championship finals at 8.

WM GIRLS WIN

Rebels Bow To Bastrop, 54 To 52

BASTROP, La. (Special) —Troy Spigner dropped in two foul shots with twelve seconds left in the game to give Bastrop a 54-52 District 1-AAA victory over West Monroe, here last night.

The loss was the second league defeat of the year hung on the Rebels, who are still seeking their first conference win.

Bastrop took a two-point lead after one quarter and then forged ahead, 29-21, at intermission. West Monroe opened up with a barrage in the last period, and with the score tied, Spigner iced the contest from the foul line.

Center Larry Lewis paced the L. V. Norris quintet, netting 19 points. However, Larry Brakefield took scoring honors for the night with ten field goals and a free throw for 21 points for Bastrop.

Kelton Bacon collectld 14 for the Rebs and Roy Scroggins followed with 10 markers.

Nancy Smith poured in 41 points and Ann Champan 22 as the West Monroe girls romped to a 65-48 verdict over the Bastrop sextet in the night's opener. Norma Brown netted 30 for the losers and Linda Robinson had 12.

West Monroe led at the half, 34-25.

Tigers' James Hooper Leads Scoring Race

GRAMBLING, La. (Special) — James Hooper, a small-college forward who merits big-time attention, has taken the lead in the torrid Southwestern Conference scoring race.

The 5-10 Grambling College forward is averaging 23.8 points per game. A perfectionist who keeps trying to improve his shooting in long solo practice sessions, Hooper is trailed by Willie Taylor of Texas Southern (23.5), Luther Groce, Texas College, (23.2), and Jerry Barr, Grambling 22.7.

Grambling continues to pace the loop in team offense with its race horse speed and a wide-open fastbreak attack.

The average dipped slightly during the week from 100.4 to 95.1, but the reduction offered little or no encouragement to Texas Southern (89.1) and Arkansas AM&N 86.3.

Grambling's Charles Hardnett, a freshman jumping-jack, kept a firm grip on the rebound leadership with a 16.1 average.

His chief rivals are Cleveland Buckner, Jackson State (15.0), and E. C. Chatman, Arkansas AM&N, 13.7.

The pace making Grambling five also assumed the field goal percentage leadership for the first time. The Tigers have hit 445 of 897 shots for 50 percent.

Racing Program Cancelled By Heavy Snow

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) —The eight-race program at the Charles Town race track was called off Friday because of a heavy snowstorm.

A track official said the snow began falling at mid-morning and by 10:30 a. m., EST, was very heavy.

The local weather forecast was for continued snow Friday, with partial clearing, windy and colder Saturday.

The spokesman said the three-quarter mile track definitely plans to race Saturday. Nine races are run on Saturdays.

Tulane Nips LSU In SEC Contest, 69-59

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gary Stoll and Dick O'Brien led a slow motion Tulane offense Friday night that chilled fast-breaking Louisiana State 69-59 in a Southeastern Conference game.

LSU held a 26-24 halftime edge, but Tulane quickly rallied after intermission and moved into a five-point lead on a hot shooting streak.

Clever ball handling by Stoll and O'Brien forced LSU into a series of fouls and the Green Wave hit 21 of 27 free throws in the second half to move into a commanding lead.

O'Brien tied for high point honors with teammate Al O'Brien. Each had 16 points.

Stoll matched LSU's high scorer, Wayne Monson, with 15 points.

It was Tulane's 10th victory against five defeats. LSU has an 8-7 record.

LSU held a 24-15 rebound margin in the first half but Tulane took charge of the backboards in the second half for a 24-13 margin.

SEVEN UNDER PAR

Wall Strokes 65 For Crosby Lead

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Precision putter Art Wall shot a seven-under-par 65 Friday to grab the lead midway in Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament with a 36-hole score of 134.

The slim, 165-pounder from Pocono Manor, Pa., needed just 25 putts on the Monterey Peninsula course. He fired a 31 on the back nine. On those holes he carded six birdies and dropped two putts from 10 feet and one from 20.

His second straight subpar round gave him a four-stroke bulge on the field with Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N. C., next at 138. Demaret scored the lowest of the day, a 64, also over Monterey Peninsula. He had a blistering 29, eight under par, for the final nine holes.

Ferree, who opened with a 70 at Pebble Beach, came on with a 68 at Cypress Point.

Deadlocked at 140 were Jay Hebert, 71-69; Gene Littler, 73-67 and Dow Finsterwald, 69-61. Hebert played at Monterey and finished with an eagle on the 18th. Littler scored at Pebble Beach as did Finsterwald on the summer-like day.

Wall, who opened with a 69 over Cypress Point, one-putted 11 greens Friday. He shot a bogey on the second hole, a birdie on the third with a 2½ foot putt and went under par to stay by dropping a 12-footer on the eigth in his big bid for $4,000 top prize.

Wall and his partner, U. S. amateur champion Charlie Coe, carded a best-ball for a 125 total to lead the field in that division of Crosby's 18th national pro-amateur event. Next at 126 came Demaret with California football coach Pete Elliott and Wesley Ellis Jr., and San Francisco amateur Frank Tatum Jr. Demaret-Elliott shot 66-60 and Ellis-Tatum 63-63.

Coe, commenting on Wall's putting, said, "What would take two putts for anybody else just needed one from him."

Even hotter than Wall was the veteran Demaret, whose 29 over the Monterey Peninsula course tied the record for the back nine. Included were eagles on the 13th and 15th plus four birdies. For both eagles, his second shots stopped just five feet from the pin and he dropped the putts.

CENTRAL MEET

Irish Remain In Tourney Running

DELHI, La. (Special) —St. Matthews, Holly Ridge, Forest and Fort Necessity remained in the running for top honors of the Central tournamet in the boys division with quarter-final wins last night.

Tourney favorite Ogden, Forest and Crowville gained victories in the girls' bracket.

Play continues today with finals in both divisions set for tonight.

Holly Ridge's boys moved past two opponents in yesterday's action. They tripped Monticello, 47-29, and Baskin, 62-47. Marvin Sistrunk collected 13 points to spark the decision over Monticello and Albritton paced 20 in the victory over Baskin. Dowdy topped Monticello with 14 and Charles Mercer netted 17 for Baskin.

Buddy Embanato scored 14 and Jimmy Tonore 13 as the Fighting Irish of St. Matthews dropped the host Central boys, 59-46. Hammer led Central with 22.

Harold Kelly poured in 29 points as Forest thumped Epps, 77-45. Thomas's 11 was high for the losers.

Fort Necessity's powerful quint edged Columbia, 69-65, with A. J. Burlew sacking 19 counters. Spikes made 30 for Columbia.

Girls' games saw Crowville nip Holly Ridge, 40-34. Pierce had 22 for the winners and Helen Ray got 15 for the losers. Favored Ogden beat Wisner, 50-31, behind Thompson's 16 point effort. Cardy had 15 for Wisner.

The final girls' tilt was won by Forest over Delhi in a squeaker, 32-31. Betty McCowan and Mary Kelly accounted for all Forest points, scoring 16 each. Robbins hit 15 for Delhi.

LASALLE DIVIDES

OLLA, La. (Special) —James McAdams scored 34 points to spark LaSalle boys to an 88-44 rout of Farmerville in a district 1-A basketball game here last night.

Jack Womack contributed 22 points to the LaSalle attack when J. W. Redden got 14 for Farmerville and Mickey Strother 8.

Farmerville won the girls game by a 55-40 count. Bonnie Hayes got 21 for the winners and Peggy Wade 19. Carolyn Dunn had 21 and Hazel Brewer 16 for LaSalle.

MANGHAM, PIONEER SPLIT

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Mangham and Pioneer divided a pair of district 4-B basketball games here last night, the Pioneer girls taking a 55-28 decision and the local boys winning by a 64-32 count.

Ross scored 34 points to pace Pioneer girls while Frances Johns got 12 to lead Mangham. The victory was Pioneer's first against a one-point loss to Holly Ridge in district play. The game was Mangham's first in league play.

Three players scored in the double figures for Coach Embry Pickett's Mangham boys. Paul Etier was high with 21, Claude Mercer got 17 and Donald Adams 11. B. Spann scored 14 for the losers.

Mangham jumped into a 20-0 lead and won in a walk to record its first loop win.

Mangham will host Holly Ridge Tuesday in district games.

MER ROUGE IN SWEEP

MER ROUGE, La. (Special) — Doris Hattaway sank two free throws with 10 seconds to go to give Mer Rouge girls a 39-37 victory over Rayville here last night in the first of two games. Mer Rouge took the boys game, 48-34.

Miss Hattaway scored 29 points for Mer Rouge in the girls game while L. Ratcliff led Rayville with 21.

John Yeldell got 17 for Mer Rouge boys and Buddy Blackwell 12. Jerry McCarthy was high for Rayville with 15 markers.

FIRST 1-AAA WIN

Ouachita Defeats 'Jackets, 60 To 39

Ouachita broke loose with a strong last half surge to down Byrd's Yellow Jackets, 60-39, and chalk up their first District 1-AAA victory of the year here Friday night.

Pat Ward and Rex Carter supplied the scoring punch in the last two periods after the Lions had barely led at halftime, 29-27. Ward, a hard-working man on the post, tossed in eight field goals and a charity shot for 17 points, while Carter connected from the outside for 16 counters.

The win gave Coach H. H. Holliman's quint a season's slate of eight triumphs against thirteen setbacks, and evened their district record at 1-1. Byrd, dropping their ninth game against twelve wins, had an identical loop mark of 1-1.

Ouachita grabbed an early lead after one minute of play and remained in front until two minutes to go in the half. Bob Watson, Jacket forward, collected 8 points in the second period action, the last of which tied the contest at 25-25. Then Harry Crowe went in for a driving layup and the Lions were in front to stay.

The Yellow Jackets had the shots and grabbed off most of the rebounds, but were unable to connect consistently. Joe Abendroth, a standout on the boards, netted 10 points to pace the Byrdmen.

Opening the third period with four straight field goals, the Lions held Byrd to one to lead after three quarters, 41-29. From that point on it was easy.

Crowe, who played much of the game with four fouls, hit a layup with five minutes left to make it 52-31, and Carter added a couple of long shots to sew up the game.

Byrd's junior varsity squad captured the "B" game thriller, 44-41, scoring four points in the last few seconds to come from behind. Ted Boddie dropped in the winning goal with 20 seconds remaining in the game. Boddie gathered 16 points for scoring honors, while Carl Guine had 10 for the Cubs.

Teammates James Cromwell and Ray Newman made 9 apiece.

VARIED LUCK

BLAND, Va. (AP) — The luckiest hunter in the two-day elk season in Giles county bagged an 1,100-pounder with a 14-point rack. A tractor and a farm cart were needed to remove R. J. Grenier's elk. But S. H. Shrader of Falls Mill wasn't so lucky. He was shot in the knee. A mule was also out of luck — he was mistaken for an elk by a hunter.

Lake Providence Holds Annual Grid Banquet

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) —Abner Wimberly, end coach at LSU, was the principal speaker at the annual Lake Providence High School football awards banquet held here last night.

The event, sponsored by the Lions Club, was emceed by Lion President R. L. Hendrix.

The Buddy McCurdy trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding senior on the team, went to halfback Walter Parker. Parker also was named winner of the Lions Club best back of the year trophy.

The best lineman award went to junior guard Leon Overby and the most improved player honor was awarded junior tackle Thomas Terral.

Wimberly emphasized the value of football in the future life of a player. He said, "If one has the desire to excel, there are no limits to what a person can do."

He cited the LSU team as an example of what success the desire to excel can bring.

GSC CONTEST

Northeast Cagers To Play Northwestern Here Tonight

Northeast's Indians, bruised and beaten by one Gulf States Conference co-champion, take on the other here tonight at 8 o'clock in the Ouachita Junior High gym.

Northwestern, led by sharpshooting little Jimmy Leach and riding a four-game winning streak, provides Northeast's opposition tonight and Lenny Fant's Redskins attempt to take their second conference win against one setback.

Northeast, beaten by McNeese, 67-59, at Lake Charles Tuesday, may miss the services of co-captain Billy May, 6-6 rebounding star. The Grayson center has a case of flu and had a fever of over 100 degrees the past two days and spent yesterday in bed. He's a doubtful starter.

Guard Sid Bradley bruised a knee in the McNeese game but has worked out this week, though not at full speed.

The other three Indian starters, John Freeman, Ronald Doyle and Mickey Kitchens, are ready for action. Should May fail to start, Fant will probably call on Huey Cottrell, 6-6, to open at center. Other reserves who'll probably see action include guard Larry Stegall and forward Fred Bradley.

Northeast's record stands at 8-7 for the season. The Tribe has defeated Southeastern, 92-78, and lost to McNeese in GSC competition.

Huey Cranford's Northwestern five are 12-5 for the season and atop the GSC standings with a 2-0 mark.

The Demon wins over the GSC teams were "squeakers" as Cranford's cagers came back from an 11-point lead to edge Southeastern 77-72 and a 14-point deficit to win over McNeese 82-79 in a real battle.

But close games seems to be the pattern for the Natchitoches quintet. Their 12 wins this season include a 79-70 win over Southern State of Arkansas in a game which was closer than the score indicates, a 72-66 double overtime win over Stephen F. Austin, a last 34 seconds victory over East Texas State 66-65, and a final second 71-69 win over East Texas Baptist.

Diminutive Jimmy Leach, a clutch offensive performer, has paced the Demons with a 22 point average per game. The Demons as a team have averaged slightly over 71 points.

Starting with Leach tonight will probably be captain Elvin McCann, who has been hitting a 7-point clip, Phillip Haley, Bobby Wicker, and Larry Fontenot. Haley and Wicker have 6-point averages while Fontenot has been averaging over 7.

Other Demons slated to see action against the Indians will be Gene Wright, Negreet freshman; Larry Skinner, a fast improving Natchitoches sophomore; Ed Hunter, an impressive transfer cager from Coushatta; Bill Stewart, Doyline defensive standout; Truitt Weldon, big 6-6 freshmen center from Florien; and David Brown, 6-5 freshman from Jonesboro.

Hunter was practicularly impressive in the Demon's last game with Louisiana College and Skinner showed promise in a brief stint against Southeastern.

Leach, third ranking free throw shooter in the nation last season, has improved his percentage in this department in recent tilts, hitting 21 tosses out of 22 attempts in the last two games.

BEATS ARCADIA, 60-40

Jonesboro-Hodge Wins In Tourney

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Favored Jonesboro - Hodge turned back Arcadia, 60-40, to highlight last night's action in the 7th annual Jonesboro - Hodge March of Dimes Basketball Tournament.

Other games saw Quitman trounce Gibsland, 46-31; Ruston down Chatham, 67-46; Simsboro whip Saline, 42-33; Weston beat Gibsland, 56-41; and Saline trip Winnfield, 40-35.

All-stater John Bailey scored 21 points to pace Jonesboro-Hodge past Arcadia. Hoye Bowman was high for Arcadia with 14 markers.

Malcolm George's 21 points were tops for Quitman while C. L. Johnson got 12 to lead Gibsland. Allen Herbert and Howard Willis scored 18 each to pace Ruston. Red Cooper led Chatham with 18.

Max Lewis put in 21 for Simsboro and Don Williams paced Saline with 14 points. Harold Watkins got 24 in Weston's consolation win over Gibsland while Johnson was again high for Gibsland with 16.

Lonnie Cheatwood got 12 for Saline and Latham was high for Winnfield's losers with 13.

Today's action will see Chatham vs. Arcadia in a consolation bracket contest at 9:30. Choudrant meets Saline at 10:30 in a consolation semi-final while Ruston plays Simsboro at 12 noon in a championship semi-final.

Weston plays the Arcadia-Chatham winner at 1:15 in a consolation semi-final and Quitman meets Jonesboro - Hodge in a championship semi-final tilt at 2:30.

The consolation finals will be at 7 and the championship finals at 8.

WM GIRLS WIN

Rebels Bow To Bastrop, 54 To 52

BASTROP, La. (Special) —Troy Spigner dropped in two foul shots with twelve seconds left in the game to give Bastrop a 54-52 District 1-AAA victory over West Monroe, here last night.

The loss was the second league defeat of the year hung on the Rebels, who are still seeking their first conference win.

Bastrop took a two-point lead after one quarter and then forged ahead, 29-21, at intermission. West Monroe opened up with a barrage in the last period, and with the score tied, Spigner iced the contest from the foul line.

Center Larry Lewis paced the L. V. Norris quintet, netting 19 points. However, Larry Brakefield took scoring honors for the night with ten field goals and a free throw for 21 points for Bastrop.

Kelton Bacon collectd 14 for the Rebs and Roy Scroggins followed with 10 markers.

Nancy Smith poured in 41 points and Ann Champan 22 as the West Monroe girls romped to a 65-48 verdict over the Bastrop sextet in the night's opener. Norma Brown netted 30 for the losers and Linda Robinson had 12.

West Monroe led at the half, 34-25.

Tigers' James Hooper Leads Scoring Race

GRAMBLING, La. (Special) — James Hooper, a small-college forward who merits big-time attention, has taken the lead in the torrid Southwestern Conference scoring race.

The 5-10 Grambling College forward is averaging 23.8 points per game. A perfectionist who keeps trying to improve his shooting in long solo practice sessions, Hooper is trailed by Willie Taylor of Texas Southern (23.5), Luther Groce, Texas College, (23.2), and Jerry Barr, Grambling 22.7.

Grambling continues to pace the loop in team offense with its race horse speed and a wide-open fast-break attack.

The average dipped slightly during the week from 100.4 to 95.1, but the reduction offered little or no encouragement to Texas Southern (89.1) and Arkansas AM&N 86.3.

Grambling's Charles Hardnett, a freshman jumping-jack, kept a firm grip on the rebound leadership with a 16.1 average.

His chief rivals are Cleveland Buckner, Jackson State (15.0), and E. C. Chatman, Arkansas AM&N, 13.7.

The pace making Grambling five also assumed the field goal percentage leadership for the first time. The Tigers have hit 445 of 897 shots for 50 percent.

Tulane Nips LSU In SEC Contest, 69-59

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Gary Stoll and Dick O'Brien led a slow motion Tulane offense Friday night that chilled fast-breaking Louisiana State 69-59 in a Southeastern Conference game.

LSU held a 26-24 halftime edge, but Tulane quickly rallied after intermission and moved into a five-point lead on a hot shooting streak.

Clever ball handling by Stoll and O'Brien forced LSU into a series of fouls and the Green Wave hit 21 of 27 free throws in the second half to move into a commanding lead.

O'Brien tied for high point honors with teammate Al O'Brien. Each had 16 points.

Stoll matched LSU's high scorer, Wayne Monson, with 15 points.

It was Tulane's 10th victory against five defeats. LSU has an 8-7 record.

LSU held a 24-15 rebound margin in the first half but Tulane took charge of the backboards in the second half for a 24-13 margin.

Racing Program Cancelled By Heavy Snow

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) —The eight-race program at the Charles Town race track was called off Friday because of a heavy snowstorm.

A track official said the snow began falling at mid-morning and by 10:30 a. m., EST, was very heavy.

The local weather forecast was for continued snow Friday, with partial clearing, windy and colder Saturday.

The spokesman said the three-quarter mile track definitely plans to race Saturday. Nine races are run on Saturdays.

SEVEN UNDER PAR

Wall Strokes 65 For Crosby Lead

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Precision putter Art Wall shot a seven-under-par 65 Friday to grab the lead midway in Bing Crosby's $50,000 golf tournament with a 36-hole score of 134.

The slim, 165-pounder from Pocono Manor, Pa., needed just 25 putts on the Monterey Peninsula course. He fired a 31 on the back nine. On those holes he carded six birdies and dropped two putts from 10 feet and one from 20.

His second straight subpar round gave him a four-stroke bulge on the field with Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N. C., next at 138. Demaret scored the lowest of the day, a 64, also over Monterey Peninsula. He had a blistering 29, eight under par, for the final nine holes.

Ferree, who opened with a 70 at Pebble Beach, came on with a 68 at Cypress Point.

Deadlocked at 140 were Jay Hebert, 71-69; Gene Littler, 73-67 and Dow Finsterwald, 69-61. Hebert played at Monterey and finished with an eagle on the 18th. Littler scored at Pebble Beach as did Finsterwald on the summer-like day.

Wall, who opened with a 69 over Cypress Point, one-putted 11 greens Friday. He shot a bogey on the second hole, a birdie on the third with a 2½ foot putt and went under par to stay by dropping a 12-footer on the eigth in his big bid for $4,000 top prize.

Wall and his partner, U. S. amateur champion Charlie Coe, carded a best-ball for a 125 total to lead the field in that division of Crosby's 18th national pro-amateur event. Next at 126 came Demaret with California football coach Pete Elliott and Wesley Ellis Jr., and San Francisco amateur Frank Tatum Jr. Demaret-Elliott shot 66-60 and Ellis-Tatum 63-63.

Coe, commenting on Wall's putting, said, "What would take two putts for anybody else just needed one from him."

Even hotter than Wall was the veteran Demaret, whose 29 over the Monterey Peninsula course tied the record for the back nine. Included were eagles on the 13th and 15th plus four birdies. For both eagles, his second shots stopped just five feet from the pin and he dropped the putts.

FIRST 1-AAA WIN

Ouachita Defeats 'Jackets, 60 To 39

Ouachita broke loose with a strong last half surge to down Byrd's Yellow Jackets, 60-39, and chalk up their first District 1-AAA victory of the year here Friday night.

Pat Ward and Rex Carter supplied the scoring punch in the last two periods after the Lions had barely led at halftime, 29-27. Ward, a hard-working man on the post, tossed in eight field goals and a charity shot for 17 points, while Carter connected from the outside for 16 counters.

The win gave Coach H. H. Holliman's quint a season's slate of eight triumphs against thirteen setbacks, and evened their district record at 1-1. Byrd, dropping their ninth game against twelve wins, had an identical loop mark of 1-1.

Ouachita grabbed an early lead after one minute of play and remained in front until two minutes to go in the half. Bob Watson, Jacket forward, collected 8 points in the second period action, the last of which tied the contest at 25-25. Then Harry Crowe went in for a driving layup and the Lions were in front to stay.

The Yellow Jackets had the shots and grabbed off most of the rebounds, but were unable to connect consistently. Joe Abendroth, a standout on the boards, netted 10 points to pace the Byrdmen.

Opening the third period with four straight field goals, the Lions held Byrd to one to lead after three quarters, 41-29. From that point on it was easy.

Crowe, who played much of the game with four fouls, hit a layup with five minutes left to make it 52-31, and Carter added a couple of long shots to sew up the game.

Byrd's junior varsity squad captured the "B" game thriller, 44-41, scoring four points in the last few seconds to come from behind. Ted Boddie dropped in the winning goal with 20 seconds remaining in the game. Boddie gathered 16 points for scoring honors, while Carl Guine had 10 for the Cubs.

Teammates James Cromwell and Ray Newman made 9 apiece.

Lake Providence Holds Annual Grid Banquet

The event, sponsored by the Lions Club, was emceed by Lion President R. L. Hendrix.

The Buddy McCurdy trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding senior on the team, went to halfback Walter Parker. Parker also was named winner of the Lions Club best back of the year trophy.

The best lineman award went to junior guard Leon Overby and the most improved player honor was awarded junior tackle Thomas Terral.

Wimberly emphasized the value of football in the future life of a player. He said, "If one has the desire to excel, there are no limits to what a person can do."

He cited the LSU team as an example of what success the desire to excel can bring.

TOP JOCKEY

Atkinson Hangs Up Riding Togs

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Atkinson, the scholarly Canadian-born jockey who became one of the world's greatest riders, came down to the finish line Friday for the last time. He said it wasn't an easy decision.

Plagued by a chronic back ailment that has bothered him for months, the little "professor" of the jockey ranks bowed out amid the odors of ether and other smells associated with the examining room of a hospital.

Atkinson, always the gentleman, and one of the most affable of the little men who ride horses for a dangerous living, quit on the advice of his physician.

"It wasn't easy to say goodby to what has been my life for more than two decades," he said. His wife, Martha, nodded assent.

"I lived out of a trunk for 21 years. You kind of get used to it."

He has ridden horses who have earned $17,449,360, and jockeys get 10 per cent, so Atkinson has done well. His farm, where he boards horses and breaks yearlings for various clients, also brings in a good income.

Atkinson, now 42, and the father of three children, was born in Toronto in 1916. Ted always worked after school and during vacations to bring home some money to help out.

Ted moved with his family to New York State. Had it not been for the giant telescope now at the observatory in Palomar, Calif., racing might not have got Atkinson. He was laid off at the Corning Glass Works in a production cutdown while the plant concentrated on making lenses for the telescope. He went to Brooklyn and worked for $8 a week pasting labels on bottles in a chemical plant. He also helped load trucks in the shipping department.

A big truck driver told Ted he should become a jockey since he weighed only 98 pounds. The driver knew a man who got Ted into racing.

Atkinson began riding at Beulah Park in Ohio in 1938. His rise was rapid and he was the nation's leading rider in 1944 and 1946. Then he was signed as contract rider for the famous Greentree Stable of John Hay (Jock) Whitney, U.S. ambassador to Britain, and his sister, Mrs. Charles S. Payson.

"The greatest horse I ever rode? That's easy—Tom Fool," Atkinson replied when asked the inevitable question. Tom Fool never got to the Kentucky Derby because of a virus, but in 1953 nobody beat Atkinson and Tom Fool.

He also rode other Greentree stars, such as Capot, the 1949 Preakness and Belmont winner who became 3-year-old champion and "horse of the year."

Atkinson said he planned to take it easy at his 23-acre farm at Woodbury, Long Island.

An avid reader, he said he will lay down his racing form and delve into "War and Peace," or Churchill's "A History of the English-speaking Peoples" in the big library of his 16-room house.

Later he plans to look into the Jockey Club school for training racing officials.

"I hope there is a place for me in racing," he said.

"There's not enough at the farm to occupy me full time. I have help, and Martha always handles the business end of the place."

Yaoita Hands Champ Perez First Defeat

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Sadao Yaoita, a 4-1 underdog, Friday night handed world flyweight champion Pascual Perez of Argentina the first defeat of his pro career. The 23-year-old Japanese won a unanimous decision in the non-title 10-round bout.

Perez' manager, Lazaro Koci, screamed the Argentine equivalent of "We wuz robbed."

"It was a bad decision by the referee and judges," shouted Koci in Perez' dressing room. "How can a boxer win by running away?"

He was referring to Yaoita's successful counter-punching tactics in the dull fight. Koci said Perez would fight in Japan again only if neutral officials were used.

Referee Kuniharu Hayashi scored it 2-0, Judge Nicholas Pope, a U. S. Army civilian employe, had it 4-0, and Judge Koshiro Abe scored it 2-0 for Yaoita under Japan's four-point maximum scoring system. The Associated Press card had Yaoita ahead, seven rounds to three.

Perez, 32, had compiled a record of 48 victories and one draw since he turned pro in 1952. He won the Olympic flyweight title in 1948.

The draw was with Japan's Yoshio Shirai, then the world 112-pound champion, in Buenos Aires, July 24, 1954. Perez, a big-chested five-footer, won the title from Shiari on a decision in Tokyo four months later. In May of the following year he knocked out Shirai in the fifth round at Tokyo.

For Friday night's fight Yaoita weighed 112½ pounds, one-half pound over the division limit. Perez weighed 110.

A crowd of about 6,000 saw the telecast fight in the Metropolitan Gym.

Perez forced the fight but he seemed to be under wraps. There were no knockdowns and not until the eighth round did they punch away in a toe-to-toe session.

FIVE STROKES IN FRONT

Mary Lena Faulk Leads At Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., shot a par 73 in a cold, stiff wind Friday to grab a commanding five-stroke lead at the half way mark of the Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament.

After 36 holes, Miss Faulk had a 145 total, one under par. Trailing with 150s were Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala., Ruthie Jessen of Seattle, Wash., and Fay Crocker of Wichita, Kan.

Kathy Cornelius of Lake Worth, Fla., who tied with Miss Faulk for the lead after Thursday's first round, blew to an 81 and a 153 total.

Kathy wasn't the only one bothered by the weather, which was in sharp contrast to Thursday's warm, sunny temperatures. Only one player besides Miss Faulk matched par. She was Murle Mackenzie of St. Petersburg, Fla., who added the 73 to an opening round 84 for a 157 total.

Miss Faulk said later the wind, which reached gusts of 35 miles an hour, disturbed her drives and iron game, but not her putting. The Thomasville pro carded 12 one-putt greens.

Behind the trio with 150s were Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., and Marlene Hagge of Pittsburgh, Pa., who checked in with 151s. They were just ahead of Mrs. Cornelius.

An all-night rain which left pools of water all over the 6,066-yard Palma Ceia Country Club layout forced cancellation of Friday's amateur play and cut the amateur section to a 54-hole meet.

The leaders:

Mary Lena Faulk	72-73—145
Jo Ann Prentice	74-76—150
Ruth Jessen	74-76—150
Fay Crocker	76-74—150
Louise Suggs	74-77—151
Marlene Hagge	76-75—151
Kathy Cornelius	72-81—153
Patty Berg	73-82—155
Mickey Wright	77-78—155

Bauer Denies Saying Mickey Mantle Sulked

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP)—Hank Bauer of the New York Yankees Friday denied he had said teammate Mickey Mantle sulked when he "wasn't the whole hog."

"That's hogwash," Bauer said at his home Friday. "I did say Mickey should be the greatest ball player that ever lived."

"I also said Mantle had had a bad year as far as Mickey was concerned, last year. And I did say I wish I had his ability," the Yankee veteran added.

But Bauer, who starred in last fall's World Series against Milwaukee, said he had not made the statements attributed to him when he spoke before 600 baseball fans Thursday night at the Old Timers Hot Stove League in St. Paul.

"Mantle is inclined to sulk when he's not whole hog," Bauer was quoted Friday in the Minneapolis Star. "And, when he's in a slump, he tends to let down on himself and the club.

"If you had 25 Mantles on a team you wouldn't be sure to win the pennant. I found that the only way to win is for everybody to give 100 per cent for the team."

"I wish I had Mickey Mantle's ability," Bauer said.

Precision Man Takes Feature

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — T. D. Buhl's Precision Man came from well back in the pack Friday to edge True Request by a slim nose in the feature at the Fair Grounds.

True Request had a length lead when the field turned into the homestretch, but jockey Jerry West moved Precision Man up in the final strides to take the decision. Wedlock took the show spot, while the favored Our Rocky the 9-5 choice of the 7,505 fans, finished fifth.

ATKINSON EXITS AS JOCKEY — Ted Atkinson, one of the world's top jockeys, and his wife, Martha, walk past "exit" sign with arrow on leaving Physicians' Hospital in New York's borough of Queens yesterday. Atkinson said he was retiring from riding on the advice of his doctor. The Candian-born Atkinson, suffering from a chronic sacroiliac, said he may accept a position as a racing official at the New York tracks. He is 42 years old. (AP Wirephoto)

SEC MEETING

LSU To Host Track Meet; More Loot For Bowl Teams

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Southeastern Conference Friday accepted a bid by Louisiana State to sponsor the 1958 track meet and adopted a sliding scale designed to give more cash to football teams invited to bowls.

Peace and harmony prevailed at the 26th annual SEC meeting and faculty representatives whizzed through the agenda in record time. They finished by noon, where most years it has dragged into late afternoon or even an extra day.

The conference re-elected all officers, including LSU's Troy Middleton as president, voted commissioner Bernie Moore a pay raise and increased operating funds for his office.

The amount of the salary increase and boost in expense funds will be decided by the executive committee when it meets during the annual track meet in Baton Rouge May 15-16.

Birmingham, Ala., has been host to the SEC track meet since 1933, when the loop was organized.

However, interest has dopped in recent years and athletic officials have urged the event be rotated around the conference.

LSU athletic director Jim Corbett has been seeking the track meet for several years. LSU has been dominant in SEC track, winning 16 of 26 meets.

Moore laid the foundation for LSU track supremacy, winning nine of the first 10 meets as Tiger track coach and 12 titles altogether before leaving Baton Rouge for his present job.

The action moving the event to Baton Rouge was for one year only.

Moore said the conference boosted from $85,000 to $100,000 the maximum a team taking part in a bowl football game may retain. The rest goes to the conference to be divided among the other schools and the commissioner's office.

He said a sliding scale was adopted, under which the conference gets five per cent of all bowl receipts under $65,000. For each additional $1,000 of money up to $100,000, the SEC takes an extra four-sevenths of one per cent, up to 25 per cent.

The formula remains at 75-25 until the school's share reaches $100,000, he said, and then the conference takes all above $100,000.

The commissioner said another action by the conference would double the share for schools playing nationally televised football games.

Under the present formula, he said, the television fee is divided 12 ways, equally to all schools.

Under the new rule, if two SEC teams compete, the revenues are divided into 15 shares, two for each institution taking part in the game, one for each of the 10 other schools and one for the commissioner's office.

Where only one SEC team participates, he said, 14 shares would be made, two for the team playing in the game, one for each of the other 11 schools and one for the commissioner's office.

"The conference also suspended the rotating football schedule until 1964," Moore said. "It may be revised or rejected before then."

The ratating schedule, prized by the University of Mississippi which has difficulty getting home football games with SEC teams, was adopted several years ago after considerable controversy.

Last spring, when athletic directors tried to work out schedule conflicts, they urged it be suspended until the 1959 meeting.

In other action, the SEC:

Tossed out a bid to permit schools to schedule one of three freshmen football games off college campuses.

Referred to committee a proposal to permit freshmen to take part in spring sports, such as track, golf, tennis and baseball. Freshmen now are ineligible for all varsity sports.

Officers re-elected were Troy Middeton of LSU, president; Frank G. Dickey of Kentucky, vice president; T. A. Bickerstaff of Mississippi, secretary, and Middleton, Dickey, Bickerstaff, C. M. Sarratt of Vanderbilt and Alfred W. Scott of Georgia, executive committee.

SMALL COLLEGES

Grambling Leads In Top Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Grambling College took over the team scoring lead in small college basketball, knocking West Virginia Tech off the top perch for the first time in five years.

Latest NCAA Service Bureau statistics, through games of Wednesday, Jan. 14, Friday showed unbeaten Grambling of Louisiana scoring at the rate of 95.2 points a game. West Virginia Gech, national scoring king for the past four seasons was second with 94.8. The last time any team topped Tech was in 1954 when Baltimore University was in command.

Grambling has won all its 13 games this season and 38 of its last 40 over a two-year span. Tech has won 15 consecutive games since its opening game defeat by Transylvania, Ky.

In the individual scoring race, Paul Wilcox of Davis & Elkins College retained the lead with a 34-point average. American University's Willie Jones was a distant second with 28.3.

Humboldt State, Calif., continued to be the best defensive team, permitting only 47.4 points a game despite a 4-5 record. California Western was second with a 48.7 opponents' average.

Bill Rahuba of Steubenville, Ohio, collared 50 rebounds in his last two games to take over first place in backboard control with a 21.2 average. Free throw leader Joe D'Auria of Tusculum, Ala., raised his foul line percentage of .957 on 45 of 47. Bob Sayles of David Lipscomb, Tenn., with 46 of 50, was second with .923. Bob Brummell of Pau Quinn, Tex., led in field goal accuracy, hitting with 41 of 64 shots for .641.

Individual scoring leaders:

Claims Free Substitution Liked By 79%

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The NCAA Football Rules Committee spurned the free substitution rule for 1959 although 79 per cent of the nation's coaches favored it, Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois reported Friday.

Eliot, member of an NCAA sub committee on rules changes, said he conducted a poll of members of the American Football Coaches Assn.

Eliot said action of the NCAA committee in its meeting in Los Angeles last week end was "directly opposite" what the majority of coaches wanted concerning substitutions.

The 79 per cent wanting free substituticn, Eliot said, desired either:

1. As many substitutes as wished with the clock running, between plays, as the pros now permit, or,

2. A return to the 1952 style of collegiate free substitution with as many players entering the game as a coach wanted with time out, or at exchange of the ball.

Eliot said he presented results of the poll to the NCAA committee. "I was disappointed in its action," he commented.

The NCAA group did slightly liberalize the substitution rule, now permitting one player at a time to re-enter a game, as many times as his coach pleases, but only when the clock is stopped.

Dave Nelson To Talk Over Baylor Post

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Dave Nelson Delaware football coach, Friday said he planned to talk with his wife and Delaware officials about a possible change to head grid coach at Baylor.

Nelson, who left the Waco campus Friday, said he was highly impressed at what he saw at Baylor. The Baptist school is shopping for a coach after Sam Boyd resigned under fire after poor seasons.

The Delaware coach visited the campus at the invitation of Baylor officials.

"I'm going home to talk it over with my wife and people at the University of Delaware," he said. "It is not a decision you can make overnight."

Nelson has been at Delaware since 1951. He played at Michigan, and is credited with developing a special brand of winged-T which has helped Iowa, for instance, to two Rose Bowl bids in three years.

Patton Selected As Top Armed Forces Gridder

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the second year in a row the Washington Touchdown Club has named former Mississippi quarterback Huston Patton as its armed forces player of the year.

Patton directed Eglin Air Force base to an undefeated season, broken only by one tie, and a victory over Brooke Medical Center in the Shrimp Bowl last month.

Patton, first repeater in Touchdown Club history, will receive a trophy at the sports organization's awards banquet, Jan. 24.

BRAVES TEAM TO BEAT

Cards Should Be Contender--Solly

By SOLLY HEMUS
Manager, St. Louis Cardinals
Written for UPI

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals, if we can come through as we expect to with a few "ifs" for the club, definitely should be considered one of the top contenders for the 1959 National League pennant.

We're not going to be in there this year just to get into the first division, but to win the pennant. But it would be too early at this time for me to definitely predict we will win it.

The main club to beat again will be Milwaukee, although they have never won a pennant without Red Schoendienst and probably will have trouble staying on top without him. He's one of the steadiest infielders in the business and they will have a tough time replacing him.

Pittsburgh also will be thought of quite highly with their well-balanced club. Their pitching has improved over last year and they should be one of the top contenders. San Francisco also is improved and Jack Sanford should help their pitching staff. In fact, every club in the league has helped itself some and with Schoendienst missing from the Brave lineup, there should be a very tight race for the pennant.

As for the Cardinals, we need to strengthen our pitching staff. Our starters will be Sam Jones, Larry Jackson and Vinegar Bend Mizell. Jackson is just coming into his own and should be a big winner.

Ernie Broglio will be a bright prospect in spring training and I believe he will help us a lot this year, although he's never pitched in the big leagues. He has a good fast and curve ball. Jim Brosnan will be our "long man" in the bullpen, Alex Kellner, acquired in a trade with Cincinnati, will be effective as a relief pitcher, and is good against left-handed hitters.

We also have Marv Grissom, whom we got in a trade, and Lindy McDaniel, both of whom should be good spot reliefers.

Our infield should compare well with any in the league, with Joe Cunningham at first, Don Blasingame at second, Ken Boyer at third and Alex Grammas at shortstop. Lee Tate still is considered a good prospect at short.

Our outfield, with Stan Musial, one of the greatest ball players I've ever seen play, in left field, should have good control over the long hits this year. We've moved Musial back to the outfield from first because I think this will let him play in more games.

Centerfield still is open for grabs. We have Gino Cimoli, Kurt Flood, B. G. Smith, and Ellis Burton under consideration. Charley James, who played with Houston last year, also will get a long look for the outfield at spring practice.

Over 100 To Attend Tech Grid Clinic

RUSTON, La. (Special) —More than 100 prep coaches have already accepted invitations to attend a football coaching clinic to be held at Louisiana Tech here Jan. 23 and 24, Tech Athletic Director Joe Aillet announced.

Coaches from Auburn and the University of Delaware will be featured lecturers at the two-day clinic. There will be no registration fee and housing is available for a limited number.

Prep coaches from Louisiana, South Arkansas, East Texas and West Mississippi are invited to attend. Because a list supplied by the state coaching association to send out invitations is incomplete, some Louisiana prep mentors may not have received a letter, Aillet said. He stressed that any high school coach in the state may attend and that they should contact him.

Lecturers will include Milo Lude, a winged-T specialist from the University of Delaware and Hal Herring, Auburn's defensive coach.

Lectures will begin at 9 a.m., Friday, Jan. 23, continuing throughout the day. There will be film showings of Auburn and Delaware games that night.

There will be lectures Saturday, Jan. 24 until noon. Members of the Tech grid team will be available for demonstrations in the Memorial gymnasium.

The Tech team used the winged-T formation last season in winning seven of 10 games.

Coaches will be guests at the Northwestern State - Louisiana Tech basketball game at 8 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 24.

Tulane Ace Tops At Charity Line

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Mississippi State's Bailey Howell continues to rank first in field goal accuracy in the Southeastern Conference, according to basketball statistics releaded Friday.

The 6-7 senior has made good 123 of 239 field goal attempts for an average of .531 per cent.

Vic Klinker, 6-5 junior from Tulane, boasts a healthy lead in foul goal shooting with a .902 performance. He has hit 94 of 117 free throw attempts.

Gene Tormohlen of Tennessee holds a big lead in rebounding over Howell with 18.7 per cent per game, compared to Howell's 14.6.

Auburn's Jimmy Lee has sank 50 of 98 field goal attempts in 10 games for an average of .510 per cent.

Second in field goal accuracy is Tulane's Dick O'Brien, who made 48 of 55 attempts for .874 per cent.

Michigan Hires High School Football Coach

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The University of Michigan hired Coach Hank Fonde away from Ann Arbor High School Friday.

Fonde will handle the backfield under the university's new head coach, and Fonde's one-time teammate, Bump Elliott.

Fonde was given a one-time appointment as an instructor in physical education and assistant football coach, beginning Feb. 1. The action was approved by the university's regents.

At Ann Arbor High, where he had coached 10 years, Fonde's teams won 69 games, lost 6 and tied 4. Ann Arbor teams under Fonde had four perfect seasons, and three others without defeat but with ties.

The 35-year-old Fonde was a halfback understudy to Elliott on one of Michigan's greatest teams, that of 1947 which won the Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl.

HANDY ANDY

DENVER (AP) —Andy Cohen was the first person ever to appear in American Assn. all-star baseball games as a player and then as a manager.

He played second base for the Minneapolis Millers in the 1934 and 1935 games. Last season he managed the Denver Bears as they lost 10-2 to the all-star team.

3-Year Contract For Moss Given State Approval

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The state board of control Friday approved a three-year contract for Perry Moss as head football coach at Florida State University.

Moss will be paid $14,000 a year under the contract, effective immediately.

Tom Nugent, who resigned last week as coach and athletic director to move to the University of Maryland, was paid $13,000 a year but he had been recommended for a raise to $14,000.

Moss, 32, comes here from the University of Wisconsin where he has served as backfield coach for the past two years. He formerly was a star quarterback at Tulsa and the University of Illinois.

Tech Tackles McNeese In GSC Feature

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Two of the top collegiate teams in the state get together here Saturday night with 5,000 fans expected to be on hand to see Louisiana Tech and McNeese State tangle in a Gulf States Conference fracas.

Tech will be out to retain its high national rating and unbeaten status in the GSC. McNeese has lost once in GSC play, to Northwestern State 82-79, and has a 9-3 season record.

The Bulldogs are 2-0 in the GSC and 12-1 for the season.

The Cowboys have some experienced hands in Stanley Kernan, an all-GSC performer, Bill Breen, Gerald Clark, Huey Oliff and Don Troutman.

Tech will counter with high scoring Jack Moreland, averaging 21.7 per game and Ray Germany, averaging 15.1 Those two and Joe Daigle have helped Tech maintain backboard supremacy against all foes so far this season.

Jim Tullos and Bud Frye will operate at the guard posts, to go along with Moreland, Germany and Daigle.

Tech downed Southeastern Louisiana college 66-57 Wednesday night, the Bulldogs first victory over SLC on the Hammond court in 10 years.

The Techmen face a tough slate in the next week. After meeting McNeese Saturday night, they journey to Shreveport Tuesday to play Centenary and return home to clash with Northwestern State Saturday night, Jan. 24.

They have a layoff for exams then until meeting Mississippi Southern in Hattiesburg Feb. 2.

TOP JOCKEY

Atkinson Hangs Up Riding Togs

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Atkinson, the scholarly Canadian-born jockey who became one of the world's greatest riders, came down to the finish line Friday for the last time. He said it wasn't an easy decision.

Plagued by a chronic back ailment that has bothered him for months, the little "professor" of the jockey ranks bowed out amid the odors of ether and other smells associated with the examining room of a hospital.

Atkinson, always the gentleman, and one of the most affable of the little men who ride horses for a dangerous living, quit on the advice of his physician.

"It wasn't easy to say goodby to what has been my life for more than two decades," he said. His wife, Martha, nodded assent.

"I lived out of a trunk for 21 years. You kind of get used to it."

He has ridden horses who have earned $17,449,360, and jockeys get 10 per cent, so Atkinson has done well. His farm, where he boards horses and breaks yearlings for various clients, also brings in a good income.

Atkinson, now 42, and the father of three children, was born in Toronto in 1916. Ted always worked after school and during vacations to bring home some money to help out.

Ted moved with his family to New York State. Had it not been for the giant telescope now at the observatory in Palomar, Calif., racing might not have got Atkinson. He was laid off at the Corning Glass Works in a production cutdown while the plant concentrated on making lenses for the telescope. He went to Brooklyn and worked for $8 a week pasting labels on bottles in a chemical plant. He also helped load trucks in the shipping department.

A big truck driver told Ted he should become a jockey since he weighed only 98 pounds. The driver knew a man who got Ted into racing.

Atkinson began riding at Beulah Park in Ohio in 1938. His rise was rapid and he was the nation's leading rider in 1944 and 1946. Then he was signed as contract rider for the famous Greentree Stable of John Hay (Jock) Whitney, U.S. ambassador to Britain, and his sister, Mrs. Charles S. Payson.

"The greatest horse I ever rode? That's easy—Tom Fool," Atkinson replied when asked the inevitable question. Tom Fool never got to the Kentucky Derby because of a virus, but in 1953 nobody beat Atkinson and Tom Fool.

He also rode other Greentree stars, such as Capot, the 1949 Preakness and Belmont winner who became 3-year-old champion and "horse of the year."

Atkinson said he planned to take it easy at his 23-acre farm at Woodbury, Long Island.

An avid reader, he said he will lay down his racing form and delve into "War and Peace," or Churchill's "A History of the English-speaking Peoples" in the big library of his 16-room house.

Later he plans to look into the Jockey Club school for training racing officials.

"I hope there is a place for me in racing," he said.

"There's not enough at the farm to occupy me full time. I have help, and Martha always handles the business end of the place."

Yaoita Hands Champ Perez First Defeat

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Sadao Yaoita, a 4-1 underdog, Friday night handed world flyweight champion Pascual Perez of Argentina the first defeat of his pro career. The 23-year-old Japanese won a unanimous decision in the non-title 10-round bout.

Perez' manager, Lazaro Koci, screamed the Argentine equivalent of "We wuz robbed."

"It was a bad decision by the referee and judges," shouted Koci in Perez' dressing room. "How can a boxer win by running away?"

He was referring to Yaoita's successful counter-punching tactics in the dull fight. Koci said Perez would fight in Japan again only if neutral officials were used.

Referee Kuniharu Hayashi scored it 2-0, Judge Nicholas Pope, a U. S. Army civilian employe, had it 4-0, and Judge Koshiro Abe scored it 2-0 for Yaoita under Japan's four-point maximum scoring system. The Associated Press card had Yaoita ahead, seven rounds to three.

Perez, 32, had compiled a record of 48 victories and one draw since he turned pro in 1952. He won the Olympic flyweight title in 1948.

The draw was with Japan's Yoshio Shirai, then the world 112-pound champion, in Buenos Aires, July 24, 1954. Perez, a big-chested five-footer, won the title from Shiari on a decision in Tokyo four months later. In May of the following year he knocked out Shirai in the fifth round at Tokyo.

For Friday night's fight Yaoita weighed 112½ pounds, one-half pound over the division limit. Perez weighed 110.

A crowd of about 6,000 saw the telecast fight in the Metropolitan Gym.

Perez forced the fight but he seemed to be under wraps. There were no knockdowns and not until the eighth round did they punch away in a toe-to-toe session.

Mary Lena Faulk Leads At Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., shot a par 73 in a cold, stiff wind Friday to grab a commanding five-stroke lead at the half way mark of the Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament.

After 36 holes, Miss Faulk had a 145 total, one under par. Trailing with 150s were Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala., Ruthie Jessen of Seattle, Wash., and Fay Crocker of Wichita, Kan.

Kathy Cornelius of Lake Worth, Fla., who tied with Miss Faulk for the lead after Thursday's first round, blew to an 81 and a 153 total.

Kathy wasn't the only one bothered by the weather, which was in sharp contrast to Thursday's warm, sunny temperatures. Only one player besides Miss Faulk matched par. She was Murle Mackenzie of St. Petersburg, Fla., who added the 73 to an opening round 84 for a 157 total.

Miss Faulk said later the wind, which reached gusts of 35 miles an hour, disturbed her drives and iron game, but not her putting. The Thomasville pro carded 12 one-putt greens.

Behind the trio with 150s were Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., and Marlene Hagge of Pittsburgh, Pa., who checked in with 151s. They were just ahead of Mrs. Cornelius.

An all-night rain which left pools of water all over the 6,066-yard Palma Ceia Country Club layout forced cancellation of Friday's amateur play and cut the amateur section to a 54-hole meet.

The leaders:

Mary Lena Faulk	72-73—145
Jo Ann Prentice	74-76—150
Ruth Jessen	74-76—150
Fay Crocker	76-74—150

Bauer Denies Saying Mickey Mantle Sulked

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP)—Hank Bauer of the New York Yankees Friday denied he had said teammate Mickey Mantle sulked when he "wasn't the whole hog."

"That's hogwash," Bauer said at his home Friday. "I did say Mickey should be the greatest ball player that ever lived."

"I also said Mantle had had a bad year as far as Mickey was concerned, last year. And I did say I wish I had his ability," the Yankee veteran added.

But Bauer, who starred in last fall's World Series against Milwaukee, said he had not made the statements attributed to him when he spoke before 600 baseball fans Thursday night at the Old Timers Hot Stove League in St. Paul.

"Mantle is inclined to sulk when he's not whole hog," Bauer was quoted Friday in the Minneapolis Star. "And, when he's in a slump, he tends to let down on himself and the club.

"If you had 25 Mantles on a team you wouldn't be sure to win the pennant. I found that the only way to win is for everybody to give 100 per cent for the team."

"I wish I had Mickey Mantle's ability," Bauer said.

Precision Man Takes Feature

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — T. D. Buhl's Precision Man came from well back in the pack Friday to edge True Request by a slim nose in the feature at the Fair Grounds.

True Request had a length lead when the field turned into the homestretch, but jockey Jerry West moved Precision Man up in the final strides to take the decision. Wedlock took the show spot, while the favored Our Rocky the 9-5 choice of the 7,505 fans, finished fifth.

ATKINSON EXITS AS JOCKEY — Ted Atkinson, one of the world's top jockeys, and his wife, Martha, walk past "exit" sign with arrow on leaving Physicians' Hospital in New York's borough of Queens yesterday. Atkinson said he was retiring from riding on the advice of his doctor. The Candian-born Atkinson, suffering from a chronic sacroiliac, said he may accept a position as a racing official at the New York tracks. He is 42 years old. (AP Wirephoto)

SEC MEETING

LSU To Host Track Meet; More Loot For Bowl Teams

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Southeastern Conference Friday accepted a bid by Louisiana State to sponsor the 1958 track meet and adopted a sliding scale designed to give more cash to football teams invited to bowls.

Peace and harmony prevailed at the 26th annual SEC meeting and faculty representatives whizzed through the agenda in record time. They finished by noon, where most years it has dragged into late afternoon or even an extra day.

The conference re-elected all officers, including LSU's Troy Middleton as president, voted commissioner Bernie Moore a pay raise and increased operating funds for his office.

The amount of the salary increase and boost in expense funds will be decided by the executive committee when it meets during the annual track meet in Baton Rouge May 15-16.

Birmingham, Ala., has been host to the SEC track meet since 1933, when the loop was organized.

However, interest has dopped in recent years and athletic officials have urged the event be rotated around the conference.

LSU athletic director Jim Corbett has been seeking the track meet for several years. LSU has been dominant in SEC track, winning 16 of 26 meets.

Moore laid the foundation for LSU track supremacy, winning nine of the first 10 meets as Tiger track coach and 12 titles altogether before leaving Baton Rouge for his present job.

The action moving the event to Baton Rouge was for one year only.

Moore said the conference boosted from $85,000 to $100,000 the maximum a team taking part in a bowl football game may retain. The rest goes to the conference to be divided among the other schools and the commissioner's office.

He said a sliding scale was adopted, under which the conference gets five per cent of all bowl receipts under $65,000. For each additional $1,000 of money up to $100,000, the SEC takes an extra four-sevenths of one per cent, up to 25 per cent.

The formula remains at 75-25 until the school's share reaches $100,000, he said, and then the conference takes all above $100,000.

The commissioner said another action by the conference would double the share for schools playing nationally televised football games.

Under the present formula, he said, the television fee is divided 12 ways, equally to all schools.

Under the new rule, if two SEC teams compete, the revenues are divided into 15 shares, two for each institution taking part in the game, one for each of the 10 other schools and one for the commissioner's office.

Where only one SEC team participates, he said, 14 shares would be made, two for the team playing in the game, one for each of the other 11 schools and one for the commissioner's office.

"The conference also suspended the rotating football schedule until 1964," Moore said. "It may be revised or rejected before then."

The ratating schedule, prized by the University of Mississippi which has difficulty getting home football games with SEC teams, was adopted several years ago after considerable controversy.

Last spring, when athletic directors tried to work out schedule conflicts, they urged it be suspended until the 1959 meeting.

In other action, the SEC:

Tossed out a bid to permit schools to schedule one of three freshmen football games off college campuses.

Referred to committee a proposal to permit freshmen to take part in spring sports, such as track, golf, tennis and baseball. Freshmen now are ineligible for all varsity sports.

Officers re-elected were Troy Middeton of LSU, president; Frank G. Dickey of Kentucky, vice president; T. A. Bickerstaff of Mississippi, secretary, and Middleton, Dickey, Bickerstaff, C. M. Sarratt of Vanderbilt and Alfred W. Scott of Georgia, executive committee.

SMALL COLLEGES

Grambling Leads In Top Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Grambling College took over the team scoring lead in small college basketball, knocking West Virginia Tech off the top perch for the first time in five years.

Latest NCAA Service Bureau statistics, through games of Wednesday, Jan. 14, Friday showed unbeaten Grambling of Louisiana scoring at the rate of 95.2 points a game. West Virginia Gech, national scoring king for the past four seasons was second with 94.8. The last time any team topped Tech was in 1954 when Baltimore University was in command.

Grambling has won all its 13 games this season and 38 of its last 40 over a two-year span. Tech has won 15 consecutive games since its opening game defeat by Transylvania, Ky.

In the individual scoring race, Paul Wilcox of Davis & Elkins College retained the lead with a 34-point average. American University's Willie Jones was a distant second with 28.3.

Humboldt State, Calif., continued to be the best defensive team, permitting only 47.4 points a game despite a 4-5 record. California Western was second with a 48.7 opponents' average.

Bill Rahuba of Steubenville, Ohio, collared 50 rebounds in his last two games to take over first place in backboard control with a 21.2 average. Free throw leader Joe D'Auria of Tusculum, Ala., raised his foul line percentage of .957 on 45 of 47. Bob Sayles of David Lipscomb, Tenn., with 46 of 50, was second with .923. Bob Brummell of Pau Quinn, Tex., led in field goal accuracy, hitting with 41 of 64 shots for .641.

Individual scoring leaders:

Claims Free Substitution Liked By 79%

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The NCAA Football Rules Committee spurned the free substitution rule for 1959 although 79 per cent of the nation's coaches favored it, Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois reported Friday.

Eliot, member of an NCAA sub committee on rules changes, said he conducted a poll of members of the American Football Coaches Assn.

Eliot said action of the NCAA committee in its meeting in Los Angeles last week end was "directly opposite" what the majority of coaches wanted concerning substitutions.

The 79 per cent wanting free substiution, Eliot said, desired either:

1. As many substitutes as wished with the clock running, between plays, as the pros now permit, or,

2. A return to the 1952 style of collegiate free substitution with as many players entering the game as a coach wanted with time out, or at exchange of the ball.

Eliot said he presented results of the poll to the NCAA committee. "I was disappointed in its action," he commented.

The NCAA group did slightly liberalize the substitution rule, now permitting one player at a time to re-enter a game, as many times as his coach pleases, but only when the clock is stopped.

Dave Nelson To Talk Over Baylor Post

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Dave Nelson Delaware football coach, Friday said he planned to talk with his wife and Delaware officials about a possible change to head grid coach at Baylor.

Nelson, who left the Waco campus Friday, said he was highly impressed at what he saw at Baylor. The Baptist school is shopping for a coach after Sam Boyd resigned under fire after poor seasons.

The Delaware coach visited the campus at the invitation of Baylor officials.

"I'm going home to talk it over with my wife and people at the University of Delaware," he said. "It is not a decision you can make overnight."

Nelson has been at Delaware since 1951. He played at Michigan, and is credited with developing a special brand of winged-T which has helped Iowa, for instance, to two Rose Bowl bids in three years.

Patton Selected As Top Armed Forces Gridder

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the second year in a row the Washington Touchdown Club has named former Mississippi quarterback Huston Patton as its armed forces player of the year.

Patton directed Eglin Air Force base to an undefeated season, broken only by one tie, and a victory over Brooke Medical Center in the Shrimp Bowl last month.

Patton, first repeater in Touchdown Club history, will receive a trophy at the sports organization's awards banquet, Jan. 24.

BRAVES TEAM TO BEAT

Cards Should Be Contender--Solly

By SOLLY HEMUS
Manager, St. Louis Cardinals
Written for UPI

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals, if we can come through as we expect to with a few "ifs" for the club, definitely should be considered one of the top contenders for the 1959 National League pennant.

We're not going to be in there this year just to get into the first division, but to win the pennant. But it would be too early at this time for me to definitely predict we will win it.

The main club to beat again will be Milwaukee, although they have never won a pennant without Red Schoendienst and probably will have trouble staying on top without him. He's one of the steadiest infielders in the business and they will have a tough time replacing him.

Pittsburgh also will be thought of quite highly with their well-balanced club. Their pitching has improved over last year and they should be one of the top contenders. San Francisco also is improved and Jack Sanford should help their pitching staff. In fact, every club in the league has helped itself some and with Schoendienst missing from the Brave lineup, there should be a very tight race for the pennant.

As for the Cardinals, we need to strengthen our pitching staff. Our starters will be Sam Jones, Larry Jackson and Vinegar Bend Mizell. Jackson is just coming into his own and should be a big winner.

Ernie Broglio will be a bright prospect in spring training and I believe he will help us a lot this year, although he's never pitched in the big leagues. He has a good fast and curve ball. Jim Brosnan will be our "long man" in the bullpen, Alex Kellner, acquired in a trade with Cincinnati, will be effective as a relief pitcher, and is good against left-handed hitters.

We also have Marv Grissom, whom we got in a trade, and Lindy McDaniel, both of whom should be good spot reliefers.

Our infield should compare well with any in the league, with Joe Cunningham at first, Don Blasingame at second, Ken Boyer at third and Alex Grammas at shortstop. Lee Tate still is considered a good prospect at short.

Our outfield, with Stan Musial, one of the greatest ball players I've ever seen play, in left field, should have good control over the long hits this year. We've moved Musial back to the outfield from first because I think this will let him play in more games.

Centerfield still is open for grabs. We have Gino Cimoli, Kurt Flood, B. G. Smith, and Ellis Burton under consideration. Charley James, who played with Houston last year, also will get a long look for the outfield at spring practice.

Over 100 To Attend Tech Grid Clinic

RUSTON, La. (Special) —More than 100 prep coaches have already accepted invitations to attend a football coaching clinic to be held at Louisiana Tech here Jan. 23 and 24, Tech Athletic Director Joe Aillet announced.

Coaches from Auburn and the University of Delaware will be featured lecturers at the two-day clinic. There will be no registration fee and housing is available for a limited number.

Prep coaches from Louisiana, South Arkansas, East Texas and West Mississippi are invited to attend. Because a list supplied by the state coaching association to send out invitations is incomplete, some Louisiana prep mentors may not have received a letter, Aillet said. He stressed that any high school coach in the state may attend and that they should contact him.

Lecturers will include Milo Lude, a winged-T specialist from the University of Delaware and Hal Herring, Auburn's defensive coach.

Lectures will begin at 9 a.m., Friday, Jan. 23, continuing throughout the day. There will be film showings of Auburn and Delaware games that night.

There will be lectures Saturday, Jan. 24 until noon. Members of the Tech grid team will be available for demonstrations in the Memorial gymnasium.

The Tech team used the winged-T formation last season in winning seven of 10 games.

Coaches will be guests at the Northwestern State - Louisiana Tech basketball game at 8 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 24.

Tulane Ace Tops At Charity Line

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Mississippi State's Bailey Howell continues to rank first in field goal accuracy in the Southeastern Conference, according to basketball statistics releaded Friday.

The 6-7 senior has made good 123 of 239 field goal attempts for an average of .531 per cent.

Vic Klinker, 6-5 junior from Tulane, boasts a healthy lead in foul goal shooting with a .902 performance. He has hit 94 of 117 free throw attempts.

Gene Tormohlen of Tennessee holds a big lead in rebounding over Howell with 18.7 per cent per game, compared to Howell's 14.6.

Auburn's Jimmy Lee has sank 50 of 98 field goal attempts in 10 games for an average of .510 per cent.

Second in field goal accuracy is Tulane's Dick O'Brien, who made 48 of 55 attempts for .874 per cent.

Michigan Hires High School Football Coach

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The University of Michigan hired Coach Hank Fonde away from Ann Arbor High School Friday.

Fonde will handle the backfield under the university's new head coach, and Fonde's one-time teammate, Bump Elliott.

Fonde was given a one-time appointment as an instructor in physical education and assistant football coach, beginning Feb. 1. The action was approved by the university's regents.

At Ann Arbor High, where he had coached 10 years, Fonde's teams won 69 games, lost 6 and tied 4. Ann Arbor teams under Fonde had four perfect seasons, and three others without defeat but with ties.

The 35-year-old Fonde was a halfback understudy to Elliott on one of Michigan's greatest teams, that of 1947 which won the Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl.

DENVER (AP) —Andy Cohen was the first person ever to appear in American Assn. all-star baseball games as a player and then as a manager.

He played second base for the Minneapolis Millers in the 1934 and 1935 games. Last season he managed the Denver Bears as they lost 10-2 to the all-star team.

3-Year Contract For Moss Given State Approval

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The state board of control Friday approved a three-year contract for Perry Moss as head football coach at Florida State University.

Moss will be paid $14,000 a year under the contract, effective immediately.

Tom Nugent, who resigned last week as coach and athletic director to move to the University of Maryland, was paid $13,000 a year but he had been recommended for a raise to $14,000.

Moss, 32, comes here from the University of Wisconsin where he has served as backfield coach for the past two years. He formerly was a star quarterback at Tulsa and the University of Illinois.

Tech Tackles McNeese In GSC Feature

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Two of the top collegiate teams in the state get together here Saturday night with 5,000 fans expected to be on hand to see Louisiana Tech and McNeese State tangle in a Gulf States Conference fracas.

Tech will be out to retain its high national rating and unbeaten status in the GSC. McNeese has lost once in GSC play, to Northwestern State 82-79, and has a 9-3 season record.

The Bulldogs are 2-0 in the GSC and 12-1 for the season.

The Cowboys have some experienced hands in Stanley Kernan, an all-GSC performer, Bill Breen, Gerald Clark, Huey Oliff and Don Troutman.

Tech will counter with high scoring Jack Moreland, averaging 21.7 per game and Ray Germany, averaging 15.1. Those two and Joe Daigle have helped Tech maintain backboard supremacy against all foes so far this season.

Jim Tullos and Bud Frye will operate at the guard posts, to go along with Moreland, Germany and Daigle.

Tech downed Southeastern Louisiana college 66-57 Wednesday night, the Bulldogs first victory over SLC on the Hammond court in 10 years.

The Techmen face a tough slate in the next week. After meeting McNeese Saturday night, they journey to Shreveport Tuesday to play Centenary and return home to clash with Northwestern State Saturday night, Jan. 24.

They have a layoff for exams then until meeting Mississippi Southern in Hattiesburg Feb. 2.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Arkansas Unrest Blamed On Reds

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A state legislative committee today charged that Arkansas' racial unrest was deliberately engineered by the Communist party.

A report by a special education committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council on its recent probe of alleged subversive activities also accused the National Assn. for the Advance of Colored People of being a captive of the Communist apparatus.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, of Little Rock, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP, promptly denied that the organization had any links with subversives.

"I think I would prefer taking the word of J. Edgar Hoover (director of the FBI) and the Justice Department about our organization," 'she said. "They have clearly given us a clean bill of health many times." '

The committee report covered the findings of a three-day hearing at Little Rock last month.

Principal witnesses at the hearing were J. B. Matthews of New York, a former aide of the late Sen. Joe McCarthy, and Manning Johnson of New York a Negro who said he once belonged to the Communist party. Matthews and Johnson testified they believed the South's integration troubles were partly brought on by subversives.

No NAACP members were summoned to testify at the hearing, which was conducted by Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett. The attorney general, an outspoken foe of the NAACP, pushed a number of anti-NAACP measures through the Arkansas Legislature in last summer's special session.

The education committee's report contended "there has been and now is subversion present in the racial unrest in our state."

"The committee is convinced that the racial unrest in Arkansas was deliberately planned by the Communist party," the report added. "The NAACP appears to have been heavily infiltrated with subversives and, wittingly or unwittingly, is now a captive of the Communist apparatus."

Bennett, who released the report to newsmen, said he believed it was the first time any investigating agency had found the NAACP "subversive."

The 32-page report, largely a summation of proceedings at the hearing, said "this committee has found that the incident which occurred at Little Rock Sept. 2, 1957 (the beginning of the integration crisis at Central High School) was not something that just happened overnight."

"It was planned, schemed, calculated, and had as its motivating factor the international Communist conspiracy of world domination squarely behind the entire shocking episode."

Little Rock's integration crisis—still unresolved—flared when Gov. Orval E. Faubus surrounded Central High with state guardsmen prevented the entry of nine Negro students. The guardsmen were withdrawn after a federal court enjoined Faubus from interfering with integration and the Negroes entered under federal troop guard.

Rather than see the school integrated again last September, Faubus closed all four Little Rock public high schools. They are still closed.

U.S. Rejects Proposal On Geneva Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States told Russia Friday it would not resume talks in Geneva on ways to reduce the danger of surprise attack until East and West agreed on ground rules for the conference.

The talks broke down Dec. 18 when Russia and Western powers became deadlocked on precisely what should be discussed.

The State Department made public Friday the text of a note delivered in Moscow Thursday night rejecting a Russian proposal that the talks be resumed on Jan. 15.

The U.S. made clear it believes the need for reducing the dangers of surprise attack is so great that negotiations eventually will have to be renewed. But it said the East and West first should try to find a common basis on which to proceed.

The conference opened Nov. 10. In addition to this country, the participants on the Western side were Britain, France, Canada and Italy. Russia was joined by its satellites—Poland. Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania.

The West contended the talks should be limited to experts and should concentrate on making "a technical - military analysis of measures of observation and inspection which would minimize the possibility of surprise attack."

The East insisted that the only way to forestall surprise attack was by agreeing to a nuclear test ban and dismantling Western missile bases ranging the Soviet bloc. The West replied that these were questions for political negotiation and had no plan in technical discussions.

The conference had not even agreed on an agenda when it broke up.

30-Day Forecast Calls For Below Normal Readings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Below normal temperatures for a large part of the nation during the next 30 days were predicted by the Weather Bureau Friday.

It said:

The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for the period mid-January to mid-February calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals from the Continental Divide eastward to the Atlantic Seaboard, with greatest departures over the Southern half of the country. Above normal temperatures are indicated west of the Divide.

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal along the Gulf Coast and the Atlantic Seaboard, with considerable snow from Virginia northward. Subnormal amounts are indicated for the Missouri and Upper Mississippi Valley areas and also for the Western intermountain states. In unspecified areas about normal precipitation is in prospect."

A report by a special educatiom committee of the Arkansas Legislative Council on its recent probe of alleged subversive activities also accused the National Assn. for the Advance of Colored People of being a captive of the Communist apparatus.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, of Little Rock, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NAACP, promptly denied that the organization had any links with subversives.

"I think I would prefer taking the word of J. Edgar Hoover (director of the FBI) and the Justice Department about our organization," ' she said. "They have clearly given us a clean bill of health many times." '

The committee report covered the findings of a three-day hearing at Little Rock last month.

Principal witnesses at the hearing were J. B. Matthews of New York, a former aide of the late Sen. Joe McCarthy, and Manning Johnson of New York, a Negro who said he once belonged to the Communist party. Matthews and Johnson testified they believed the South's integration troubles were partly brought on by subversives.

No NAACP members were summoned to testify at the hearing, which was conducted by Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett. The attorney general, an outspoken foe of the NAACP, pushed a number of anti-NAACP measures through the Arkansas Legislature in last summer's special session.

The education committee's report contended "there has been and now is subversion present in the racial unrest in our state."

"The committee is convinced that the racial unrest in Arkansas was deliberately planned by the Communist party," the report added. "The NAACP appears to have been heavily infiltrated with subversives and, wittingly or unwittingly, is now a captive of the Communist apparatus."

Bennett, who released the report to newsmen, said he believed it was the first time any investigating agency had found the NAACP "subversive."

The 32-page report, largely a summation of proceedings at the hearing, said "this committee has found that the incident which occurred at Little Rock Sept. 2, 1957 (the beginning of the integration crisis at Central High School) was not something that just happened overnight."

"It was planned, schemed, calculated, and had as its motivating factor the international Communist conspiracy of world domination squarely behind the entire shocking episode."

Little Rock's integration crisis—still unresolved—flared when Gov. Orval E. Faubus surrounded Central High with state guardsmen prevented the entry of nine Negro students. The guardsmen were withdrawn after a federal court enjoined Faubus from interfering with integration and the Negroes entered under federal troop guard.

Rather than see the school integrated again last September, Faubus closed all four Little Rock public high schools. They are still closed.

U.S. Rejects Proposal On Geneva Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States told Russia Friday it would not resume talks in Geneva on ways to reduce the danger of surprise attack until East and West agreed on ground rules for the conference.

The talks broke down Dec. 18 when Russia and Western powers became deadlocked on precisely what should be discussed.

The State Department made public Friday the text of a note delivered in Moscow Thursday night rejecting a Russian proposal that the talks be resumed on Jan. 15.

The U.S. made clear it believes the need for reducing the dangers of surprise attack is so great that negotiations eventually will have to be renewed. But it said the East and West first should try to find a common basis on which to proceed.

The conference opened Nov. 10. In addition to this country, the participants on the Western side were Britain, France, Canada and Italy. Russia was joined by its satellites—Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Albania.

The West contended the talks should be limited to experts and should concentrate on making "a technical - military analysis of measures of observation and inspection which would minimize the possibility of surprise attack."

The East insisted that the only way to forestall surprise attack was by agreeing to a nuclear test ban and dismantling Western missile bases ranging the Soviet bloc. The West replied that these were questions for political negotiation and had no plan in technical discussions.

The conference had not even agreed on an agenda when it broke up.

30-Day Forecast Calls For Below Normal Readings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Below normal temperatures for a large part of the nation during the next 30 days were predicted by the Weather Bureau Friday.

It said:

The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for the period mid-January to mid-February calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals from the Continental Divide eastward to the Atlantic Seaboard, with greatest departures over the Southern half of the country. Above normal temperatures are indicated west of the Divide.

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal along the Gulf Coast and the Atlantic Seaboard, with considerable snow from Virginia northward. Subnormal amounts are indicated for the Missouri and Upper Mississippi Valley areas and also for the Western intermountain states. In unspecified areas about normal precipitation is in prospect."

MRS. H. F. MADISON, JR., far right, meets at the Lotus Club with members of her committee, Mrs. John C. Theus, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Leigh and Mrs. Kent Breard to make plans for the social side of the Mid-Winter Conference of the Louisiana Bar Association to be held here January 22, 23, 24. Also serving with Mrs. Madison are Mrs. Burt Sperry and Mrs. E. L. Gladney, Jr. of Bastrop.

Garden Club Plans April Flower Show

The monthly meeting of the Sun and Sand Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. Don Higginbotham with Mrs. Danny Sullivan and Mrs. Luther Richardson cohostesses. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Richardson. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Walter Reed. A committee was appointed by the president to make arrangements for the flower show which is to be held in April. Mrs. W. T. Silmon introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Charles Chisholm. Her subject for the evening was "Birds." It was interesting to learn that Mr. George Lowery, a native Monroyan, was an authority on birds and Mrs. Chisholm reviewed one of his books, "Louisiana Birds."

Members and guest present were: Mrs. Van Clark, Mrs. W. B. Reed, Mrs. R. E. Butler, Mrs. B. F. Strong, Mrs. H. A. Malone, Mrs. C. P. Chisholm, Mrs. W. T. Silmon, Mrs. K. L. Lindsay, Mrs. J. E. Kelley, Mrs. L. E. Dage, Mrs. W. L. Kelly, Mrs. A. G. Rivers, Jr., and the hostesses.

Gilbert F.H.A.

The Gilbert F. H. A. chapter held its monthly meeting Friday. During the business session a report was given on the state meeting recently attended. Old business was discussed. The chapter then elected a "beau" for the coming year, George Johnson being chosen.

Two Bridal Parties This Week Fete Miss Hancock

Miss Marie Adele Hancock was honoree this week at a number of parties. She is the bride-elect of Thomas Bond. Their vows will be said, January 24, at 9 o'clock in the morning in a nuptial mass.

Thursday, Mrs. B. B. Martin gave a luncheon for Miss Hancock at the Rendezvous. The table was centered with a miniature bride on a reflector which was encircled with pink camellias and garlands of ivy.

Attending were Mrs. Florence Filhoil, Mrs. Fred Hill, Mrs. Fred Hancock, Jr., Mrs. Gram Breard, Mrs. J. B. Filhoil Jr., Mrs. Fred Hancock, Miss Marie Hancock.

Miss Hancock wore a gray wool suit with white hat and scarf and was presented with a gift of silver and a corsage of white carnations.

That same evening Miss Katherine Sloan and Mrs. Maude Sloan complimented the popular bride-elect at dinner in their home on North Second St.

An attractive arrangement of seasonal fruits, flanked by tall white tapers were used on the table.

The honoree's place was marked by a crystal bridal gift. The other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hancock, Jr., Miss Marie Hancock, and the bridegroom-elect, Thomas Bond.

Dinner Party Held For Bride At Country Club

Parties continue this week for Miss Glynda Smith, the popular bride-elect of Ralph Norman, Jr.

Wednesday's compliment was a dinner party given by Mrs. A. C. Breckenridge, Mrs. H. S. Spencer, their daughters, Mrs. A. C. Breckenridge Jr., Mrs. Herbert Spencer, Jr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson.

A wedding scene in perfect miniature, with lovebirds suspended overhead, centered the table in the private dining room of the Bayou DeSiard Country Club where the affair was held. A stylized rose tree flanked by tall white candles was placed on the buffet. Bridesmaid place cards added to the bridal setting.

Miss Smith chose a gray wool jersey frock accented in rhinestones and a valley lily corsage for the happy occasion. She received a gift wrapped in traditional wedding white decorated with valley lilies and bridal figures.

Seated together with the hostesses and honor guest were Mrs. Ralph Norman, Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. E. W. Stinson, Mrs. Travis Howard, Mrs. E. C. Roark, Mrs. Gail Odom, Mrs. Mary Anne Roark, Mrs. Jo Ann Stratton, Miss Faye Parker and Mrs. Dot Moak.

Y-Teen Club Will Sponsor Council Dance

The Neville chapter of the Y-Teens held their meeting Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by Miss Susan Stewart, president. Miss Judy Reagan gave the devotion which was entitled "The Love of God." The Student Council will sponsor a Valentine Dance on February 13. The Y-Teen Club has been asked to help sponsor this dance. All the other clubs at Neville have also been asked to help make this dance a success. The club was reminded of the state conference to be held in Baton Rouge on May 1, 2, 3. Registration is due in by April 15. Miss Chloe Smith told of the Hi-Y Tri-Hi-Y convention that was held in Shreveport during December. The motion was made and seconded to draw up a consituation for the club. Chloe Smith was named chairman. Others on the committee are Nancy Noland, Gretchen Guelzow, and Linda Wood.

Gretchen Guelzow gave the program which was entitled "Personality Plus." Those on this program were Cindy Guilkey, Sylvia Pritcher, Linda Wood, and Judy Reagen. After the program the club was dismissed by saying the Y-Teen motto.

B & PW Holds Interesting Business Meeting Tuesday

Business & Professional Women's Club business meeting was held Tuesday, January 13, 1959, Frances Hotel, Mrs. Marguerite Meek, President, presiding. Following presentation and approval of the minutes and financial reports, the correspondence was read and appropriate action taken. Mrs. Meek introduced and cordially welcomed a new member, Miss Marie Hildabridle. Mrs. Mae Modes, of the career advancement committee gave an interesting report on the courses offered in high schools of the Twin Cities along the lines of career advancement and the cooperation given students by local businessmen for practical training.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Eunice Scroggs, presented names of two prospective members who have been passed by the board. These candidates for membership were approved by the club body. Self - evaluation slips in attitude toward one's work were passed to each member by the first vice-president, Mrs. Billie Harrell. This attitude test was entitled "Attitude Attracts Attention," and created much interest as each member rated herself in this important requirement for the business world.

An invitation was extended the club by Miss Elizabeth Stenberg to the program meeting, January 27, at the YWCA at 7:30 p.m. Miss Stenberg, who is chairman of the program, gave the subject as "How to improve the mental attitude and working efficiency of women."

Mrs. Meek announced that the spring district meeting will be held in Ruston on March 8 and that state convention is scheduled for May 14-17 at Lafayette.

In attendance for the meeting were: Mrs. Lela Breard, Mrs. Lucille Barrett, Mrs. Elizabeth Burdeaux, Mrs. Salome DeLarot, Mrs. Billie Harrell, Mrs. Sara Kennon, Mrs. Agnes Krogmire, Mrs. Nethel McDermott, Mrs. Marguerite Meek, Mrs. Gladys Miles, Mrs. Mae Modes, Miss Mamie Ober, Miss Mary O'Kelly, Mrs. Eunice Scroggs, Mrs. Bessie Skinner, Mrs. Laura Slator, Miss Alma Terry, Mrs. Minnie Thibeaux, Mrs. Mildred Truett, Mrs. Gladys Wadley, Mrs. Pauline Welch, Mrs. Jewel Wise, Mrs. Opal Creasy, Miss Alice Baur, Mrs. Faye Heard, Miss Maibel Hood, Mrs. Ava White, Miss Lula Swinson, Miss Marie Hildabridle, Mrs. Carice King, Mrs. Lucille Mathis, Mrs. Inas Gwin, Mrs. Marguerite Williamson, and Mrs. Helen Trichel.

Birthday Parties Are Highlight Of Social Week

The Caldwell parish Community Center was a festive setting this Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Duke entertained in honor of their daughter, Paula, on her 4th birthday.

The guests arrived with their snowman invitations which they were to color and later prizes were awarded for the best snowman.

The snowman theme was carried out in the birthday cake and a marshmallow house with gum drop and lollipop trees.

Assisting during the afternoon were Theresa Duke, Suzanne McClary and Emily Causey, who directed the games, including pinning the hat on the snowman.

Mrs. J. L. Honeycutt, the honoree's grandmother, and her aunt, Miss Charlotte Honeycutt, of Clarks, also assisted in the courtesies.

The guests included Cindy Gehron, Gaylne Wilkins, Madeline McClary, Janis Craig Dante, Bill and Belinda Perkins, Marsha Meredith, Ronnie Hodges, David Gartman, Stephen Sherman, Liza Cummings, Betty and Catherine Adams, Peggy Lee and Lena Jo Prewitt, Fran Morris, Clint and Mel DeLea Arthurs, Paula Meredith, Melanie Kidd, Ann Burns, Melissa McKeithen and Nita Faye McDaniel.

COOKIE CUTTERS

Save the tops from talcum powder cans. Wash them carefully and use as cookie cutters. The little knob on the top makes them easy to handle and you will have different shaped cookies, round, oblong and square ones. They make smaller cookies than the average cookie cutter and are very nice to use when making cookies for daughter's tea party or perhaps a little tea party for just you and daughter.

Wedding Plans Made Known By Miss Harper

Attendants for the marriage of Miss Louise Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Harper of Transylvania, to Jack Wayne Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Carter, Lake Providence, have been announced.

Miss Harper will be attended by Mrs. LaBane Clement, who will serve as her only attendant. James Carter will serve his brother as best man.

Saturday, January 24, 1959, has been set as the date for the double ring ceremony which will be held at the Transylvania Baptist Church at 5:00 p.m., with Rev. E. L. Hayes of Start, officiating.

A wedding reception will be held immediately following in the church annex.

The bride - elect is a graduate of the Lake Providence High School and Draughons Business School at Jackson. The bridegroom - elect is also a graduate of the Lake Providence High School and was recently discharged from the United States navy.

Annual Meet Held By Club In Gilbert

The Gilbert Woman's Club met for the annual business meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. Dave Chase. Other hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. T. E. Carroll, and Mrs. Doris Graham.

During the meeting, it was decided that the money raised by selling candy should be used to purchase a hot water tank for the community center. This will be the club's project for this club year.

Mrs. Isabelle Cuney and Mrs. Patsy Harris, new members, were welcomed to the club as was a visitor, Mrs. Joe C. Chase.

At the social hour following the meeting, attending were, Mrs. J. N. Bostick, Miss Fannie Byerly, Mrs. Lannie Calhoun, Jr., Mrs. W. L. Collie, Mrs. Amy Griffin, Mrs. P. H. Hammond, Mrs. Eva Holcomb, Mrs. L. D. Hoover, Mrs. J. J. Jenks, Mrs. J. R. Jones, Mrs. Guy Kleinpeter, Mrs. J. R. McKee, Mrs. W. B. McLemore, Mrs. Frank McNair, Mrs. J. H. YOUR PROBLEMS

Sisters Should Have Talk With Their Father Soon

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: We are two teenage sisters, 18 and 16. We want to know if we are right or wrong.

Two years ago our mother died leaving my sister and myself and two younger children, now 13 and 9. Dad has never gone out with other women that we know of, until he met this one we are writing about.

Three weeks ago he mentioned casually that he'd like to bring a "friend" to the house so we could get acquainted. Last week she came for dinner and stayed with us the entire evening while dad went bowling. This was done so we could get to know her a little. Yesterday he told us she was coming to spend the weekend. She will occupy his room and he will sleep on the sofa.

We two older girls realize that Dad is a grown man and can do as he pleases, but we don't think this woman should spend the night in our house because it wouldn't look right to others, particularly the two younger children.

Please don't get the idea we resent Dad going with her. The only thing we question is, should she be spending the night? Thank you.—H AND M

DEAR H AND M: I agree that the woman should not be spending the night in your home. Not only is this in poor taste, but it would surely provide choice grist for the gossip mill. Your father, in his innocence, probably does not realize it, so I suggest you point it out.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is an alcoholic. I know it and he knows it. He has stopped drinking completely, but years of excessive drinking have damaged his health and have been rough on us financially.

Our friends all know of his experience with liquor. Yet when we go places where liquor is served, these so called "friends" do everything they can to get him to have a drink.

At parties someone invariably tries to shove a highball in his hand. At the club, or a dance it's always the same old story "Oh have just ONE. It won't hurt."

A few years ago, after having been on the wagon for a long time, ONE drink started him down that nightmarish road again. No one will ever know what a horrible year it was for both of us.

Please pass this word along, Ann. Tell your readers that liquor, to some people, is deadly and it is no act of friendship to force it on someone who says "no thank you". —I.N.O.F.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to say a word to that white collar worker who signed himself "Robbed".

He complained about office collections for brides, new babies, going away parties and get-well flowers. I know this type of cheapskate. I work with them.

Just let someone come around with a punchboard, a football pool, a hot tip on a horse, or a chance on a world series ticket and Big Mouth is the first one to put his hand in his pocket.

I am employed in a large office and when I was in the hospital the gang sent a lovely bouquet of flowers. I'll never forget the thrill when the nurse brought them into my room. When I read the card I couldn't have been more pleased if someone had sent me $1,000.

I for one am always happy to chip in for those little remembrances — especially now that I know what it means to be on the receiving end. I'm sure there are many more like me. —CELIA

This attitude test was entitled "Attitude Attracts Attention," and created much interest as each member rated herself in this important requirement for the business world.

An invitation was extended the club by Miss Elizabeth Stenberg to the program meeting, January 27, at the YWCA at 7:30 p.m. Miss Stenberg, who is chairman of the program, gave the subject as "How to improve the mental attitude and working efficiency of women."

Mrs. Meek announced that the spring district meeting will be held in Ruston on March 8 and that state convention is scheduled for May 14-17 at Lafayette.

In attendance for the meeting were: Mrs. Lela Breard, Mrs. Lucille Barrett, Mrs. Elizabeth Burdeaux, Mrs. Salome DeLarot, Mrs. Billie Harrell, Mrs. Sara Kennon, Mrs. Agnes Krogmire, Mrs. Nethel McDermott, Mrs. Marguerite Meek, Mrs. Gladys Miles, Mrs. Mae Modes, Miss Mamie Ober, Miss Mary O'Kelly, Mrs. Eunice Scroggs, Mrs. Bessie Skinner, Mrs. Laura Slator, Miss Alma Terry, Mrs. Minnie Thibeaux, Mrs. Mildred Truett, Mrs. Gladys Wadley, Mrs. Pauline Welch, Mrs. Jewel Wise, Mrs. Opal Creasy, Miss Alice Baur, Mrs. Faye Heard, Miss Maibel Hood, Mrs. Ava White, Miss Lula Swinson, Miss Marie Hildabridle, Mrs. Carice King, Mrs. Lucille Mathis, Mrs. Inas Gwin, Mrs. Marguerite Williamson, and Mrs. Helen Trichel.

Birthday Parties Are Highlight Of Social Week

The Caldwell parish Community Center was a festive setting this Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Duke entertained in honor of their daughter, Paula, on her 4th birthday.

The guests arrived with their snowman invitations which they were to color and later prizes were awarded for the best snowman.

The snowman theme was carried out in the birthday cake and a marshmallow house with gum drop and lollipop trees.

Assisting during the afternoon were Theresa Duke, Suzanne McClary and Emily Causey, who directed the games, including pinning the hat on the snowman.

Mrs. J. L. Honeycutt, the honoree's grandmother, and her aunt, Miss Charlotte Honeycutt, of Clarks, also assisted in the courtesies.

The guests included Cindy Gehron, Gaylne Wilkins, Madeline McClary, Janis Craig Dante, Bill and Belinda Perkins, Marsha Meredith, Ronnie Hodges, David Gartman, Stephen Sherman, Liza Cummings, Betty and Catherine Adams, Peggy Lee and Lena Jo Prewitt, Fran Morris, Clint and Mel DeLea Arthurs, Paula Meredith, Melanie Kidd, Ann Burns, Melissa McKeithen and Nita Faye McDaniel.

COOKIE CUTTERS

Save the tops from talcum powder cans. Wash them carefully and use as cookie cutters. The little knob on the top makes them easy to handle and you will have different shaped cookies, round, oblong and square ones. They make smaller cookies than the average cookie cutter and are very nice to use when making cookies for daughter's tea party or perhaps a little tea party for just you and daughter.

Wedding Plans Made Known By Miss Harper

Attendants for the marriage of Miss Louise Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Harper of Transylvania, to Jack Wayne Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Carter, Lake Providence, have been announced.

Miss Harper will be attended by Mrs. LaBane Clement, who will serve as her only attendant. James Carter will serve his brother as best man.

Saturday, January 24, 1959, has been set as the date for the double ring ceremony which will be held at the Transylvania Baptist Church at 5:00 p.m., with Rev. E. L. Hayes of Start, officiating.

A wedding reception will be held immediately following in the church annex.

The bride - elect is a graduate of the Lake Providence High School and Draughons Business School at Jackson. The bridegroom - elect is also a graduate of the Lake Providence High School and was recently discharged from the United States navy.

Annual Meet Held By Club In Gilbert

The Gilbert Woman's Club met for the annual business meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. Dave Chase. Other hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. T. E. Carroll, and Mrs. Doris Graham.

During the meeting, it was decided that the money raised by selling candy should be used to purchase a hot water tank for the community center. This will be the club's project for this club year.

Mrs. Isabelle Cuney and Mrs. Patsy Harris, new members, were welcomed to the club as was a visitor, Mrs. Joe C. Chase.

At the social hour following the meeting, attending were, Mrs. J. N. Bostick, Miss Fannie Byerly, Mrs. Lannie Calhoun, Jr., Mrs. W. L. Collie, Mrs. Amy Griffin, Mrs. P. H. Hammond, Mrs. Eva Holcomb, Mrs. L. D. Hoover, Mrs. J. J. Jenks, Mrs. J. R. Jones, Mrs. Guy Kleinpeter, Mrs. J. R. McKee, Mrs. W. B. McLemore, Mrs. Frank McNair, Mrs. J. H. Murphy, Mrs. Marion Shelton, Mrs. W. J. Shelton, Jr., Mrs. W. A. Turnbough, Mrs. E. A. Turner, Mrs. Blanche Burton, Mrs. Mae Gardner, Mrs. Isabelle Cuney, Mrs. Patsy Harris and the hostesses.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Sisters Should Have Talk With Their Father Soon

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: We are two teenage sisters, 18 and 16. We want to know if we are right or wrong.

Two years ago our mother died leaving my sister and myself and two younger children, now 13 and 9. Dad has never gone out with other women that we know of, until he met this one we are writing about.

Three weeks ago he mentioned casually that he'd like to bring a "friend" to the house so we could get acquainted. Last week she came for dinner and stayed with us the entire evening while dad went bowling. This was done so we could get to know her a little. Yesterday he told us she was coming to spend the weekend. She will occupy his room and he will sleep on the sofa.

We two older girls realize that Dad is a grown man and can do as he pleases, but we don't think this woman should spend the night in our house because it wouldn't look right to others, particularly the two younger children.

Please don't get the idea we resent Dad going with her. The only thing we question is, should she be spending the night? Thank you.—H AND M

DEAR H AND M: I agree that the woman should not be spending the night in your home. Not only is this in poor taste, but it would surely provide choice grist for the gossip mill. Your father, in his innocence, probably does not realize it, so I suggest you point it out.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is an alcoholic. I know it and he knows it. He has stopped drinking completely, but years of excessive drinking have damaged his health and have been rough on us financially.

Our friends all know of his experience with liquor. Yet when we go places where liquor is served, these so called "friends" do everything they can to get him to have a drink.

At parties someone invariably tries to shove a highball in his hand. At the club, or a dance it's always the same old story "Oh have just ONE. It won't hurt."

A few years ago, after having been on the wagon for a long time, ONE drink started him down that nightmarish roades again. No one will ever know what a horrible year it was for both of us.

Please pass this word along, Ann. Tell your readers that liquor, to some people, is deadly and it is no act of friendship to force it on someone who says "no thank you". —I.N.O.F.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to say a word to that white collar worker who signed himself "Robbed".

He complained about office collections for brides, new babies, going away parties and get-well flowers. I know this type of cheapskate. I work with them.

Just let someone come around with a punchboard, a football pool, a hot tip on a horse, or a chance on a world series ticket and Big Mouth is the first one to put his hand in his pocket.

I am employed in a large office and when I was in the hospital the gang sent a lovely bouquet of flowers. I'll never forget the thrill when the nurse brought them into my room. When I read the card I couldn't have been more pleased if someone had sent me $1,000.

I for one am always happy to chip in for those little rememberances — especially now that I know what it means to be on the receiving end. I'm sure there are many more like me. —CELIA

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Irritability Canceling Out Words Of Love

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

When a parent's words and deeds do not seem to match, the child is not fooled. In this case it would seem that the mother's irritability at the child's behavior, erases the comfort of the words of love she speaks.

Mrs. G.M writes, "I have two children 3½ and 1½ and I am expecting another next month. Both are good children and quite normal. But my daughter seems very insecure. From morning until night she questions me. 'Do you love me? You don't love me! I love you very much.'

"I reassure her in every way I can by telling her, by playing with her, by taking her on shopping expeditions alone. All day she follows me about talking and finally stuttering because she doesn't know what to say.

WORN OUT LISTENING

"I find I am worn out and irritable just listening to her. She is disciplined when needed, but she is a good child and has always been a happy child and easy to manage.

"She took a step back when the boy was born but she never showed jealousy. I let her have a doll of her own to which she could do the same things I was doing to the baby. Now she protests and loves him and even chides me if I punish him. She is very affectionate and touchy.

"Her father is no help. He does not show affection and flies off the handle easily. I have tried to explain to him that some affection from him would help, but he tells me I am silly and that she knows he loves her.

"She never used to bedwet, but now she does before ten at night. She says when she gets older she won't do this. This doesn't sound like much on paper, but it makes me wonder whether I should be a mother."

ANSWER

How can a child know that her Daddy loves her, if he never shows it or tells her? He expresses anger very freely, then why not affection? The love will out if it is present. If it isn't, then there is nothing to express.

The child does show symptoms of jealously, which has many faces, not all typical. The constant questioning is not only because of her insecurity, but her way of getting your attention and holding it — thus taking it from the son.

Try not to become irritable with her. Tell her in a gentle way how much you love her and then show it by praising her, building up her self - esteem, showing her how much help she is to you as your oldest and therefore more grownup child. But match your loving acts to your loving words, or she won't be convinced.

Spring Marks The Return Of Fitted Suits

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

The suit, basic in a woman's wardrobe, gets down to the basics this spring. It fits the figure.

"The relaxed look is on its way out", said designer Harry Frechtel. "This spring marks the beginning of the return to the fitted suit."

Several other designers also are returning — each collection shown to visiting fashion editors this week included at least a couple of suits with slim skirt and jacket hugging the waistline and upper hip-bone. The shows are held semi - annually by the couture group of the New York Dress Institute.

However, there is no return to the broad, padded shoulders that went with fitted suits of the 1930's and early '40's. Rounded, soft shoulders are the rule.

Frechtel suits have perfectly smooth shoulders; he cuts sleeve and bodice of the jacket all in one piece.

BRACELET LENGTH

Sleeves of suits in most collections are "bracelet length", baring wrists for those women who like bangles. But Monte-Sano and Pruzan provides the breeziest sleeve of all; the firm bare arms in both coats and suits to above the elbow.

Most of the new suits are single-breasted, but Ben Zuckerman showed some double-breasted jackets closed with enormous buttons in black or a smoky pearl shade.

Fitted jackets are of two main types — one reaching three to four inches below the waist the other stopping right at the waist. Some of the "relaxed" or looser-fitting jackets do hug the figure in one spot — the hipbone. But leave the waistline undefined.

Relaxed Category

In the "relaxed" category, the number one jacket is the cardigan type, usually collarless and worn casually unbuttoned. Davidow shows a group in small scottish checks worn with small, fringed stole around the neck.

Skirts are cut pencil-slim in most collections, but a few designers toss in a few suits with pleated skirts — Ben Reig is one.

Frechtel eases skirt fit with scattered gathers across the tummy.

Watch also for bold colors to brighten the suit picture. Along with standard gray and navy, there are flamingo and watermelon pink, lemon yellow and deep lilac.

Jewelry Adds New Pulse To Spring Fashion

The curtain went up this week in New York, the fashion market place, and it is apparent that there is a new pulse to fashion this spring, as strong and fresh as the season itself, and it is reflected in some beautiful and exciting ways in the new spring and summer jewelry, the Fashion Coordination Institute reports.

The new feeling in dresses, suits and coats is one of elegant conservatism — seen in the return of the shirtwaist dress. the more feminine, fitted silhouette, the return of the waistline in fitted suits, more subdued colors — especially the predominance of white — and the new fabrics that have shed their bulky, shaggy look for one of smoother, more elegant, soft surfaces.

As a planned and perfect accent to this new, flattering simplicity in clothes, jewelry has a completely new feeling — one of sumptuousness, of new shapes, new lengths, new motifs and designs and new colors. This combination of elegant, distinctive sumptuous jewelry — whether it is precious or costume — paired with simple, understated, wearable clothes, produces an effect that is both tremendously flattering and wearable for every woman and which also allows her to achieve an effect that is distinctively hers.

Color. White makes a big splash in the spring scene, both as a dress and suit color and in jewelry. The "frosted" look of white mixed with color is a fresh and beautiful thing in every type of jewelry. There is little "one color" look to jewelry — rather it is a diffused, completely new color effect, much like stained glass. Pink gets a high color rating in many different shadings ranging from a "hot" geranium shade to clear, soft rose. Turquoise, that flattering touch to all skin tones, is a big jewelry color used by itself, or as an accent to other colors. Green - ranging from a lovely, soft, tender, milky shade through jade and emerald — is emerging as a big accessory color and is at its loveliest in jewelry. Yellow, as clear and bright as sunshine, lends a beautiful accent to all spring colors. No color at all is a big jewelry note — for clear. crystals, cut in lovely, sparkling, new shapes and often treated with an aurora borealis finish, gives a glittering, cool look to the new clothes. A surprise color note is the appearance of autumn colors — the tobacco browns, yellows and deep oranges. Black and white — combining jet with pearls, crystals or beads — is a high - fashion color note and startlingly beautiful when paired with the new white clothes.

Necklaces. Higher and higher is the rule for necklaces of all kinds. The high, bunchy look gives a beautiful touch to open necklines. The bibs are set high on the throat and cascade to new, shorter lengths. Chokers are high and bunchy, nestling at the base of the throat, or simple, flat and tailored, with textured or other surface interest to complement suits and shirtwaist dresses. The dog collar is a fashion reality—and a flattering one — in many different forms. There is a big emphasis on mixing size, shade, shape, form and colorings of necklace stones and beads. Necklace fastenings are more ornate and finished to fill their role of showing with the open - necked summer clothes.

Earrings. Earrings have changed their shape for spring, too, to conform to the shortened necklaces. The basis rule: The shorter the necklace, the smaller the earring — but what the new beauties lose in width they make up for in depth for they are shaped and piled high with textured gold, gems and stones. Evening earrings take the opposite tack and are still long, slender and glittering.

Bracelets. Flexible bracelets take the lead for spring with bangles a close second. They have a new "soft" look about them whether they are tailored or set with stones.

Floral Motif. Borrowing the shape and coloring of flowers—and the birds, the bees and the butterflies — is one of the most beautiful high - fashion jewelry trends of the season. These lovely facsimiles of nature's flowers are done in many ways — in enamel, in tiny, multicolored beads, in real or fake stones, in gold, in ivory, in crystal — and appear in necklaces and earrings and, most especially, pins.

Pins. There are two big trends affecting pins this season. The big empire pin continues in first fashion place, but it is apt to be irregular in form and with a new third dimension of added height.

Bowling Is Girl's Best Exercise

Is bowling a girl's sport? That's the question that bothers one teenager whose mother says it is not a ladylike sport for her offspring.

It all depends on one's point of view. Estimates are that more than a half million young people in the country, girls and boys, now engage in the sport. Its acceptance really depends on one's own community, so if a girl lives in an area where girls fish, water ski, roller skate and ice skate, there may be no parental barrier to bowling. On the other hand, if all the girls go to sewing bees and knit and crochet in their spare time, a girl bowler may look a little rough around the edges.

Bowling has been popular in many countries, and widely accepted as a dignified sport. In Germany, the sport of bowling was engaged in even at village dances and baptisms. Wealthy burghers had bowling alleys on their estates. The Egyptians are supposed to have played the game before 5200 B. C., judging by implements found in excavated graves. The first indoor bowling alley opened in London in 1455 A. D., so bowling is no fly-by-night pastime.

It is such a popular game with a young Connecticut crowd that they've even organized a game called "snowpins," a mixed-up-crazy game that involves rolling a large snowball into seven pins. The main idea is to get exercise.

Young people who do not know how to bowl may learn how at any of the bowling centers where free instruction is offered. Footwork and timing are considered the main assets of a good bowler, and there are dividends — invitational championships and world series. This year several teen - agers competed in the main event at Chicago.

Are there advantages to be had for girl bowlers? Here are some gleaned from girls who like the sport:

"I was 20 pounds overweight before I started to bowl. It was mainly because I did nothing but sit home and nibble and munch goodies," says a 19-year-old.

"My whole family loves to bowl" says a 16-year-old girl. "Mom, Dad and my two younger brothers and I have a lot of fun competing with each other."

"It's a good way to make friends with your fellow workers. Organize teams and meet once a week," says a stenographer.

ANSWER

How can a child know that her Daddy loves her, if he never shows it or tells her? He expresses anger very freely, then why not affection? The love will out if it is present. If it isn't, then there is nothing to express.

The child does show symptoms of jealously, which has many faces, not all typical. The constant questioning is not only because of her insecurity, but her way of getting your attention and holding it — thus taking it from the son.

Try not to become irritable with her. Tell her in a gentle way how much you love her and then show it by praising her, building up her self - esteem, showing her how much help she is to you as your oldest and therefore more grownup child. But match your loving acts to your loving words, or she won't be convinced.

Spring Marks The Return Of Fitted Suits

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

The suit, basic in a woman's wardrobe, gets down to the basics this spring. It fits the figure.

"The relaxed look is on its way out", said designer Harry Frechtel. "This spring marks the beginning of the return to the fitted suit."

Several other designers also are returning — each collection shown to visiting fashion editors this week included at least a couple of suits with slim skirt and jacket hugging the waistline and upper hip-bone. The shows are held semi - annually by the couture group of the New York Dress Institute.

However, there is no return to the broad, padded shoulders that went with fitted suits of the 1930's and early '40's. Rounded, soft shoulders are the rule.

Frechtel suits have perfectly smooth shoulders; he cuts sleeve and bodice of the jacket all in one piece.

BRACELET LENGTH

Sleeves of suits in most collections are "bracelet length", baring wrists for those women who like bangles. But Monte-Sano and Pruzan provides the breeziest sleeve of all; the firm bares arms in both coats and suits to above the elbow.

Most of the new suits are single-breasted, but Ben Zuckerman showed some double-breasted jackets closed with enormous buttons in black or a smoky pearl shade.

Fitted jackets are of two main types — one reaching three to four inches below the waist the other stopping right at the waist. Some of the "relaxed" or looser-fitting jackets do hug the figure in one spot — the hipbone. But leave the waistline undefined.

Relaxed Category

In the "relaxed" category, the number one jacket is the cardigan type, usually collarless and worn casually unbuttoned. Davidow shows a group in small scottish checks worn with small, fringed stole around the neck.

Skirts are cut pencil-slim in most collections, but a few designers toss in a few suits with pleated skirts — Ben Reig is one.

Frechtel eases skirt fit with scattered gathers across the tummy.

Watch also for bold colors to brighten the suit picture. Along with standard gray and navy, there are flamingo and watermelon pink, lemon yellow and deep lilac.

Jewelry Adds New Pulse To Spring Fashion

The curtain went up this week in New York, the fashion market place, and it is apparent that there is a new pulse to fashion this spring, as strong and fresh as the season itself, and it is reflected in some beautiful and exciting ways in the new spring and summer jewelry, the Fashion Coordination Institute reports.

The new feeling in dresses, suits and coats is one of elegant conservatism — seen in the return of the shirtwaist dress, the more feminine, fitted silhouette, the return of the waistline in fitted suits, more subdued colors — especially the predominance of white — and the new fabrics that have shed their bulky, shaggy look for one of smoother, more elegant, soft surfaces.

As a planned and perfect accent to this new, flattering simplicity in clothes, jewelry has a completely new feeling — one of sumptuousness, of new shapes, new lengths, new motifs and designs and new colors. This combination of elegant, distinctive sumptuous jewelry — whether it is precious or costume — paired with simple, understated, wearable clothes, produces an effect that is both tremendously flattering and wearable for every woman and which also allows her to achieve an effect that is distinctively hers.

Color. White makes a big splash in the spring scene, both as a dress and suit color and in jewelry. The "frosted" look of white mixed with color is a fresh and beautiful thing in every type of jewelry. There is little "one color" look to jewelry — rather it is a diffused, completely new color effect, much like stained glass. Pink gets a high color rating in many different shadings ranging from a "hot" geranium shade to clear, soft rose. Turquoise, that flattering touch to all skin tones, is a big jewelry color used by itself, or as an accent to other colors. Green - ranging from a lovely, soft, tender, milky shade through jade and emerald — is emerging as a big accessory color and is at its loveliest in jewelry. Yellow, as clear and bright as sunshine, lends a beautiful accent to all spring colors. No color at all is a big jewelry note — for clear, crystals, cut in lovely, sparkling, new shapes and often treated with an aurora borealis finish, gives a glittering, cool look to the new clothes. A surprise color note is the appearance of autumn colors — the tobacco browns, yellows and deep oranges. Black and white — combining jet with pearls, crystals or beads — is a high - fashion color note and startlingly beautiful when paired with the new white clothes.

Necklaces. Higher and higher is the rule for necklaces of all kinds. The high, bunchy look gives a beautiful touch to open necklines. The bibs are set high on the throat and cascade to new, shorter lengths. Chokers are high and bunchy, nestling at the base of the throat, or simple, flat and tailored, with textured or other surface interest to complement suits and shirtwaist dresses. The dog collar is a fashion reality—and a flattering one — in many different forms. There is a big emphasis on mixing size, shade, shape, form and colorings of necklace stones and beads. Necklace fastenings are more ornate and finished to fill their role of showing with the open - necked summer clothes.

Earrings. Earrings have changed their shape for spring, too, to conform to the shortened necklaces. The basis rule: The shorter the necklace, the smaller the earring — but what the new beauties lose in width they make up for in depth for they are shaped and piled high with textured gold, gems and stones. Evening earrings take the opposite tack and are still long, slender and glittering.

Bracelets. Flexible bracelets take the lead for spring with bangles a close second. They have a new "soft" look about them whether they are tailored or set with stones.

Floral Motif. Borrowing the shape and coloring of flowers—and the birds, the bees and the butterflies — is one of the most beautiful high - fashion jewelry trends of the season. These lovely facsimiles of nature's flowers are done in many ways — in enamel, in tiny, multicolored beads, in real or fake stones, in gold, in ivory, in crystal — and appear in necklaces and earrings and, most especially, pins.

Pins. There are two big trends affecting pins this season. The big empire pin continues in first fashion place, but it is apt to be irregular in form and with a new third dimension of added height.

Bowling Is Girl's Best Exercise

Is bowling a girl's sport? That's the question that bothers one teenager whose mother says it is not a ladylike sport for her offspring.

It all depends on one's point of view. Estimates are that more than a half million young people in the country, girls and boys, now engage in the sport. Its acceptance really depends on one's own community, so if a girl lives in an area where girls fish, water ski, roller skate and ice skate, there may be no parental barrier to bowling. On the other hand, if all the girls go to sewing bees and knit and crochet in their spare time, a girl bowler may look a little rough around the edges.

Bowling has been popular in many countries, and widely accepted as a dignified sport. In Germany, the sport of bowling was engaged in even at village dances and baptisms. Wealthy burghers had bowling alleys on their estates. The Egyptians are supposed to have played the game before 5200 B. C., judging by implements found in excavated graves. The first indoor bowling alley opened in London in 1455 A. D., so bowling is no fly-by-night pastime.

It is such a popular game with a young Connecticut crowd that they've even organized a game called "snowpins," a mixed-up-crazy game that involves rolling a large snowball into seven pins. The main idea is to get exercise.

Young people who do not know how to bowl may learn how at any of the bowling centers where free instruction is offered. Footwork and timing are considered the main assets of a good bowler, and there are dividends — invitational championships and world series. This year several teen - agers competed in the main event at Chicago.

Are there advantages to be had for girl bowlers? Here are some gleaned from girls who like the sport:

"I was 20 pounds overweight before I started to bowl. It was mainly because I did nothing but sit home and nibble and munch goodies," says a 19-year-old.

"My whole family loves to bowl" says a 16-year-old girl. "Mom, Dad and my two younger brothers and I have a lot of fun competing with each other."

"It's a good way to make friends with your fellow workers. Organize teams and meet once a week," says a stenographer.

Atlas Rocket Ocean Span Test Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Trouble in its rocket engines sent a huge Atlas intercontinental missile plunging into the Atlantic Ocean Thursday night minutes after the launching of what was to have been an "all-the-way" test of the ICBM.

The flight went less than 200 miles, the Defense Department said. The failure meant further tests before the Atlas can be put in the hands of the armed forces at ICBM launching sites being built for it.

The Air Force declined details of the failure, but informed sources here said that a premature engine failure and cut-off after about one and one half minutes of flight caused the Atlas to fall far short of planned impact point in the South Atlantic. Officials said telemetry (radio) reports continued to come from the nose cone until it hit the water.

It was aimed on a trajectory that would drop its nose cone, capable of carrying a hydrogen warhead, into a target area near St. Helena Island in the South Atlantic, some 6,300 miles from the Florida coast.

It rose from the launching pad, spurting flame, at 11 p.m. EST. Its engines hummed with a resonance which was heard several minutes after the 80-foot long, 100-ton missile bored into an overcast sky like a mighty skyrocket.

In Washington, the Defense Department said the trouble developed in the engines shortly after launching. It had not been pinpointed, but the missile was not destroyed deliberately by rang safety officers at the cape. Deliberate destruction is ordered if a missile wavers off its course.

The Pentagon statement said only that the Atlas "did not achieve all programmed test results. After a successful launch, an apparent malfunction in the propulsion system resulted in a flight of less than 200 miles."

Priest Arrested For Corruption

WARSAW (AP) — One of Poland's most prominent Roman Catholic priests and editors has been arrested on charges of illegal publishing, corruption of officials and black market money dealings.

Officials said the trial of the Rev. Mario Pirozynski and 17 codefendants will start Jan. 19. News of the arrest has not been published in Poland.

Father Piroszynski is director of the Catholic magazine Homo Dei, published twice a month primarily for the clergy.

Movie Star, Singer Pay Call On Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Kim Novak called at the White House on Friday and chatted briefly with President Eisenhower. She said they engaged in "cocktail talk—you know, we talked about nice things."

The President showed the blonde Hollywood actress pictures of his four grandchildren, his late mother and other family members. He also showed off some of his paintings.

"I paint a little myself," Miss Novak told newsmen later. "I think I might do one of him."

The actress and singer Perry Como visited Eisenhower as part of a Variety Clubs delegation. The group gave the President a membership card in the show business organization, which has raised 75 million dollars for research and treatment of childhood diseases.

Como, an ardent golfer, said he and Eisenhower, who is no less an ardent linksman, compared types of clubs and grips.

"I was absolutely mesmerized," Como said of the President.

Como said Eisenhower told him "he had an offer to do a TV show, and I told him I knew of one that he would have no trouble getting on." Como has his own show on television.

When Miss Novak and Como walked out of the President's office, the White House lobby was jammed with reporters, photographers and many members of the White House staff.

Almost lost in the shuffle was George Eby of Pittsburgh, the chief barker of Variety Clubs International, and John H. Harris, also of Pittsburgh, founder of the 32-year-old organization.

When it is 7 p.m. in Moscow, it is high noon in the United States Eastern Standard Time zone.

SMILES AND TEARS

Girl, 3, Reunited With Ailing Mother

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — A big plane from Denver flew into Boston Friday with a very confused little girl who couldn't quite understand that a glimpse of her was important to her mother — awaiting brain surgery Monday.

Donna Marie Noe, 3, was brought back for a reunion in Massachusetts General Hospital with her mother, Lois Noe, 26, from whom the little girl has been separated since September 1957.

It was a reunion with smiles between tears on the part of the young mother who had waited in a wheelchair from the time word was received that the plane was nearing Boston.

A separation between Mrs. Noe and her husband, Albert, 30, had resulted in the girl's being taken to relatives in Denver.

With time drawing near for an operation on an enlarged blood vessel in the mother's head, Donna's grandmother, Ruth Crowell of Malden, Mass., flew to Denver.

There a judge honored the custody decree awarded to Donna's mother and Mrs. Crowell and Donna headed for home.

Donna, who had troudle remembering her mother after more than a year, recognized her when led to the room in the huge hospital where Mrs. Noe anxiously waited.

A moment later, she was cradled in her weeping mother's arms while hospital attendants also dabbed at their eyes.

Mikoyan Denies Russian Jews To Be Deported

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has denied to a group of U.S. Jewish leaders reports that the Soviet Union is about to force its Jews to migrate to Birobidzhan in Siberia.

He made his denial during a private luncheon with four representatives of the American Jewish Committee.

Former U.S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, one of the Jewish leaders who attended the luncheon conference with Mikoyan and Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov, told of the denial.

Irving M. Engel, president of the American Jewish Committee, said: "We are gratified but the answer does not necessarily satisfy us: there is a difference between being satisfied and gratified."

The American Jewish Committee is a 52-year-old human relations agency.

Birobidzhan was established by the Soviet Union in 1928, primarily as a Soviet alternative to Palestine for Jews wishing a Jewish homeland. Only a fraction of the estimated three million Jews in the Soviet Union ever moved to the Siberian region.

In London, British Jews appealed to the Soviet Union against a reported plan to ship thousands of Russian Jews to Birobidzhan.

The appeal by the Anglo-Jewish Assn. went to Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik after reports of a plan to revive Stalin's old plan for a so-called Jewish autonomous region.

Expert On Africa Tells Of Strong National Spirit

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—An expert on Africa says Africans have developed a strong spirit of nationalism as a result of a desire to show the world Africa is not inferior, illiterate or incapable of managing its own affairs.

Dr. William O. Brown told the Southern Assembly yesterday the collective African personality emerging from the movement is dynamic, vital and growing.

It is "dedicated for improvement of Africa as a continent of nations which are dedicated with self determination," said Dr. Brown, director of the African Research and Studies program at Boston University.

The Southern Assembly yesterday began four days of discussion of the political, social and economic relationship between the United States and Africa.

The assembly, sponsored by Tulane University, brought together 60 leaders from 10 southern states representing government, education, agriculture, business and the professions.

Marshall Under Observation In Army Hospital

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI)—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff during World War II and former secretary of state and defense, was reported in satisfactory condition Friday from a mild "transitory" stroke suffered on Thursday.

Marshall, 78, was brought to the Army's Womack General Hospital here from his winter home at nearby Pinehurst, N.C. There was no paralysis from the stroke.

Marshall had been confined to bed most of the time since he underwent an operation last summer at the Walter Reed Medical Center in Washington, D.C.

Col. George W. Powell, chief of medicine at Womack Hospital and one of the doctors who treated President Eisenhower following his heart attack, said Marshall was under constant observation.

BATTLE SCENE

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — It was peaceful, but it looked like war.

Motorists were startled to see a 105-millimeter artillery weapon abandoned along highway 121 north of Decatur.

Turned out the weapon was being towed from Indiana to Bushnell, Ill., by a Veterans of Foreign Wars post when progress halted because a wheel bearing burned out.

GOP Fires Critical Shot At Symington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republican National Committee said Friday that Sen. Stuart Symington, who "now pretends" to be expert on missiles, was a failure as Air Force secretary under the Truman administration.

Injecting itself into the controversy over this country's missiles progress compared to Russia's, the committee cited what it called criticism by fellow Democrats in an attempt to support its charges against the Missouri Democrat.

The statement obviously was prompted by Symington's action earlier this week in challenging Vice President Richard M. Nixon to issue a percentage comparison of the relative missile strength of the United States and Russia. Otherwise, he said, he would do so himself.

Nixon had been quoted in some reports as saying this country was ahead of Russia in long-range ballistic missiles. But friends said later that Nixon was misinterpreted. They said he conceded the United States lagged in some missile areas but had a faster rate of progress than Russia and would catch up.

President Eisenhower subsequently told a National Press Club lunch it would be "a little stupid" to deny that the Soviets were ahead in some missile fields. But he said this country had made remarkable progress since it really got started in missiles about four years ago.

The GOP statement, and a similar charge made previously by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.), made clear the Republicans were determined to try to pin the blame for any U.S. missiles lag on the previous Democratic administration.

In discussing Symington's record as Air Force secretary, the GOP committee said "his record of failure has been attested to, not by political opponents, but by his own party compatriots and, in a measure, his own words."

Yet, the statement said, Symington "now pretends to the title of defense expert" in criticizing the administration's record in the missile field.

Polaris Missile To Be Test Fired Afloat By Navy

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The Navy's powerful Polaris missile soon will be test fired afloat for the first time, Rear Adm. W. F. Raborn said Friday night.

The admiral in charge of the Polaris' development added that at this stage the Navy believes Polaris-armed submarines will be on station some two years sooner than had been planned. He did not pinpoint the time of the afloat firings.

"We are well ahead of our development schedule," the admiral said in a speech prepared for delivery to a group of Navy reservists.

He said that much had been learned from the firing of three full-sized Polaris missiles in recent months even though they had to be destroyed as a safety measure.

"The most difficult technical problems are behind us," Raborn reported.

Of the Soviet navy, the admiral said: "It is far and away the second most powerful navy in the world. It is a navy which we must treat with the respect it deserves."

OIL UNION BENEFITS

Wage Offer Ends Walkout Threat

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A wage offer by a key oil industry employer ended threats Friday of a weekend strike by 105,000 refinery workers.

O. A. Knight, Denver, president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, said an offer Thursday night by the Sinclair Oil Co., of a five per cent wage hike has caused the union to change its plans for a threatened walkout at midnight Saturday.

The union has been in negotiating sessions here this week with Sinclair officials and federal mediators. The Sinclair company's contract with the union normally sets the pattern for the industry.

The union had issued a strike deadline for most of the nation's refineries for midnight Saturday.

Knight said the Sinclair offer was "the first ray of light in 11 months of bargaining.

"We want to avoid a strike as long as the company is bargaining in good faith."

Knight said the union's 52-man policy committee still was being polled by telephone and telegraph on reaction to the Sinclair offer of an increase for 9,500 employes, which would amount to 13½ cents an hour. The union has been asking a hike of 25 cents an hour.

There were indications other companies would follow Sinclair. Gulf Oil Corp. officials announced two locals of the union at the Port Arthur, Tex., plant had been offered a five per cent wage increase. Some 6,000 workers would be affected.

Continental Oil Co., announced it was hiking the salaries of all nonunion employes by five per cent immediately. A company spokesman said a similar offer would be made to unions representing all other employes.

French Vote Confidence In New Premier

PARIS (UPI)—Premier Michel Debre won an overwhelming vote of confidence Friday for his French greatness" program based on France's sovereignty in Algeria and equality with the United States and Britain as a nuclear power.

Debre's expected victory amounted to another popular mandate for his chief, President Charles de Gaulle, and cleared the way for De Gaulle to pursue his avowed aim of restoring peace to Algeria.

The vote in the National Assembly was 453 to 56 in favor of the new premier. Only the Communists and Socialist groups were opposed.

"After the confidence expressed in me by Gen. De Gaulle, I now have the confidence of the assembly," Debre said after the results were announced. "This makes it imperative for me to work for the policy to which I am committed."

In his final speech winding up a two-day debate on his program, Debre said the future of Europe hinges on the outcome of the Algerian war. He added that "Algeria belongs in the domain of French sovereignty."

The premier, who was handpicked for the job by De Gaulle, told the assembly his government's program was designed to return France to "greatness" as a world power. He said the new France under De Gaulle intended to become a nuclear military power and wanted an equal voice with the United States and Britain in Western global policy.

For the French people, Debre's program meant a long period of austerity to free money for De Gaulle's wide-swinging plans to achieve economic stability.

Red Repairmen Are Spurred By Generous Bonus

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet TV and refrigerator repairmen refuse to give prompt service unless the customer pays an illegal bonus, and something should be done about it, so says Trud, the trade union newspaper.

Trud told Friday of a man who lugged his TV set from shop to shop hoping to get it fixed at the price set by the state. He finally left it at a shop where it stayed for months. But when he slipped the repairman a generous tip the set was fixed on the spot.

Five Die, Two Hurt Seriously In Mine Cave-In

NANCY, France (AP) — Five iron miners were killed and two injured seriously when an old mine gallery caved in Friday. The victims, who were in an adjoining shaft, were crushed by the sudden, piston-like compression of the air.

Two miners who escaped said tons of earth suddenly crashed down into the abandoned gallery. Miners working in an adjoining gallery several hundred feet away were hurled against the walls by the air pressure.

First reports said there had been an explosion in the mine.

The cave-in jarred a wide area. The walls of a number of nearby homes were cracked.

The accident occurred in the Roncours Iron Mine in the Moselle Department — county — near the Luxembourg and West German borders.

The Teton Mountains in Wyoming cover 94,853 acres.

Claims Support For Dixie Bloc At Convention

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — An Alabama Democrat claims support of leading Mississippi Democrats on his plan for a southern bloc at the Democratic National Convention.

H. Coleman Long of Uniontown, Ala., vice chairman of the Alabama Democratic Executive Committee, last night named Mississippi Democratic Chairman Bidwell Adam of Gulfport as one supporter.

Long would mention no other names, but said he also was pledged aid from "a strong group" of Mississippians at a meeting of the state's Democratic leaders in Jackson this week.

The Alabama Democrat proposes unity among southern states in nominating a presidential candidate who shares the southern viewpoint on civil rights and segregation issues.

Long said there were indications Mississippi and Louisiana would go along with his plan, and that he has had invitations and "overtures" from other states—including two in the Midwest—to speak at Democratic meetings on the proposal. He declined to name the states.

DIES IN FREAK ACCIDENT

VACHERIE (UPI) — A service station attendant was killed Thursday when the rim blew from a tire he was handling and fractured his neck. The victim, 25-year-old Harold Abadie, had gone to aid a truck-trailer having tire trouble. The accident occurred as Abadie was removing the spare tire from the vehicle.

Atlas Rocket Ocean Span Test Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Trouble in its rocket engines sent a huge Atlas intercontinental missile plunging into the Atlantic Ocean Thursday night minutes after the launching of what was to have been an "all-the-way" test of the ICBM.

The flight went less than 200 miles, the Defense Department said. The failure meant further tests before the Atlas can be put in the hands of the armed forces at ICBM launching sites being built for it.

The Air Force declined details of the failure, but informed sources here said that a premature engine failure and cut-off after about one and one half minutes of flight caused the Atlas to fall far short of planned impact point in the South Atlantic. Officials said telemetry (radio) reports continued to come from the nose cone until it hit the water.

It was aimed on a trajectory that would drop its nose cone, capable of carrying a hydrogen warhead, into a target area near St. Helena Island in the South Atlantic, some 6,300 miles from the Florida coast.

It rose from the launching pad, spurting flame, at 11 p.m. EST. Its engines hummed with a resonance which was heard several minutes after the 80-foot long, 100-ton missile bored into an overcast sky like a mighty skyrocket.

In Washington, the Defense Department said the trouble developed in the engines shortly after launching. It had not been pinpointed, but the missile was not destroyed deliberately by rang safety officers at the cape. Deliberate destruction is ordered if a missile wavers off its course.

The Pentagon statement said only that the Atlas "did not achieve all programmed test results. After a successful launch, an apparent malfunction in the propulsion system resulted in a flight of less than 200 miles."

Priest Arrested For Corruption

WARSAW (AP) — One of Poland's most prominent Roman Catholic priests and editors has been arrested on charges of illegal publishing, corruption of officials and black market money dealings.

Officials said the trial of the Rev. Mario Pirozynski and 17 codefendants will start Jan. 19. News of the arrest has not been published in Poland.

Father Piroszynski is director of the Catholic magazine Homo Dei, published twice a month primarily for the clergy.

Movie Star, Singer Pay Call On Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Kim Novak called at the White House on Friday and chatted briefly with President Eisenhower. She said they engaged in "cocktail talk—you know, we talked about nice things."

The President showed the blonde Hollywood actress pictures of his four grandchildren, his late mother and other family members. He also showed off some of his paintings.

"I paint a little myself," Miss Novak told newsmen later. "I think I might do one of him."

The actress and singer Perry Como visited Eisenhower as part of a Variety Clubs delegation. The group gave the President a membership card in the show business organization, which has raised 75 million dollars for research and treatment of childhood diseases.

Como, an ardent golfer, said he and Eisenhower, who is no less an ardent linksman, compared types of clubs and grips.

"I was absolutely mesmerized," Como said of the President.

Como said Eisenhower told him "he had an offer to do a TV show, and I told him I knew of one that he would have no trouble getting on." Como has his own show on television.

When Miss Novak and Como walked out of the President's office, the White House lobby was jammed with reporters, photographers and many members of the White House staff.

Almost lost in the shuffle was George Eby of Pittsburgh, the chief barker of Variety Clubs International, and John H. Harris, also of Pittsburgh, founder of the 32-year-old organization.

When it is 7 p.m. in Moscow, it is high noon in the United States Eastern Standard Time zone.

SMILES AND TEARS

Girl, 3, Reunited With Ailing Mother

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — A big plane from Denver flew into Boston Friday with a very confused little girl who couldn't quite understand that a glimpse of her was important to her mother — awaiting brain surgery Monday.

Donna Marie Noe, 3, was brought back for a reunion in Massachusetts General Hospital with her mother, Lois Noe, 26, from whom the little girl has been separated since September 1957.

It was a reunion with smiles between tears on the part of the young mother who had waited in a wheelchair from the time word was received that the plane was nearing Boston.

A separation between Mrs. Noe and her husband, Albert, 30, had resulted in the girl's being taken to relatives in Denver.

With time drawing near for an operation on an enlarged blood vessel in the mother's head, Donna's grandmother, Ruth Crowell of Malden, Mass., flew to Denver.

There a judge honored the custody decree awarded to Donna's mother and Mrs. Crowell and Donna headed for home.

Donna, who had troudle remembering her mother after more than a year, recognized her when led to the room in the huge hospital where Mrs. Noe anxiously waited.

A moment later, she was cradled in her weeping mother's arms while hospital attendants also dabbed at their eyes.

Mikoyan Denies Russian Jews To Be Deported

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has denied to a group of U.S. Jewish leaders reports that the Soviet Union is about to force its Jews to migrate to Birobidzhan in Siberia.

He made his denial during a private luncheon with four representatives of the American Jewish Committee.

Former U.S. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, one of the Jewish leaders who attended the luncheon conference with Mikoyan and Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov, told of the denial.

Irving M. Engel, president of the American Jewish Committee, said: "We are gratified but the answer does not necessarily satisfy us; there is a difference between being satisfied and gratified."

The American Jewish Committee is a 52-year-old human relations agency.

Birobidzhan was established by the Soviet Union in 1928, primarily as a Soviet alternative to Palestine for Jews wishing a Jewish homeland. Only a fraction of the estimated three million Jews in the Soviet Union ever moved to the Siberian region.

In London, British Jews appealed to the Soviet Union against a reported plan to ship thousands of Russian Jews to Birobidzhan.

The appeal by the Anglo-Jewish Assn. went to Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik after reports of a plan to revive Stalin's old plan for a so-called Jewish autonomous region.

Marshall Under Observation In Army Hospital

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI)—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff during World War II and former secretary of state and defense, was reported in satisfactory condition Friday from a mild "transitory" stroke suffered on Thursday.

Marshall, 78, was brought to the Army's Womack General Hospital here from his winter home at nearby Pinehurst, N.C. There was no paralysis from the stroke.

Marshall had been confined to bed most of the time since he underwent an operation last summer at the Walter Reed Medical Center in Washington, D.C.

Col. George W. Powell, chief of medicine at Womack Hospital and one of the doctors who treated President Eisenhower following his heart attack, said Marshall was under constant observation.

Expert On Africa Tells Of Strong National Spirit

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—An expert on Africa says Africans have developed a strong spirit of nationalism as a result of a desire to show the world Africa is not inferior, illiterate or incapable of managing its own affairs.

Dr. William O. Brown told the Southern Assembly yesterday the collective African personality emerging from the movement is dynamic, vital and growing.

It is "dedicated for improvement of Africa as a continent of nations which are dedicated with self determination," said Dr. Brown, director of the African Research and Studies program at Boston University.

The Southern Assembly yesterday began four days of discussion of the political, social and economic relationship between the United States and Africa.

The assembly, sponsored by Tulane University, brought together 60 leaders from 10 southern states representing government, education, agriculture, business and the professions.

BATTLE SCENE

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — It was peaceful, but it looked like war.

Motorists were startled to see a 105-millimeter artillery weapon abandoned along highway 121 north of Decatur.

GOP Fires Critical Shot At Symington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republican National Committee said Friday that Sen. Stuart Symington, who "now pretends" to be expert on missiles, was a failure as Air Force secretary under the Truman administration.

Injecting itself into the controversy over this country's missiles progress compared to Russia's, the committee cited what it called criticism by fellow Democrats in an attempt to support its charges against the Missouri Democrat.

The statement obviously was prompted by Symington's action earlier this week in challenging Vice President Richard M. Nixon to issue a percentage comparison of the relative missile strength of the United States and Russia. Otherwise, he said, he would do so himself.

Nixon had been quoted in some reports as saying this country was ahead of Russia in long-range ballistic missiles. But friends said later that Nixon was misinterpreted. They said he conceded the United States lagged in some missile areas but had a faster rate of progress than Russia and would catch up.

President Eisenhower subsequently told a National Press Club lunch it would be "a little stupid" to deny that the Soviets were ahead in some missile fields. But he said this country had made remarkable progress since it really got started in missiles about four years ago.

The GOP statement, and a similar charge made previously by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.), made clear the Republicans were determined to try to pin the blame for any U.S. missiles lag on the previous Democratic administration.

In discussing Symington's record as Air Force secretary, the GOP committee said "his record of failure has been attested to, not by political opponents, but by his own party compatriots and, in a measure, his own words."

Yet, the statement said, Symington "now pretends to the title of defense expert" in criticizing the administration's record in the missile field.

Polaris Missile To Be Test Fired Afloat By Navy

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The Navy's powerful Polaris missile soon will be test fired afloat for the first time, Rear Adm. W. F. Raborn said Friday night.

The admiral in charge of the Polaris' development added that at this stage the Navy believes Polaris-armed submarines will be on station some two years sooner than had been planned. He did not pinpoint the time of the afloat firings.

"We are well ahead of our development schedule," the admiral said in a speech prepared for delivery to a group of Navy reservists.

He said that much had been learned from the firing of three full-sized Polaris missiles in recent months even though they had to be destroyed as a safety measure.

"The most difficult technical problems are behind us," Raborn reported.

Of the Soviet navy, the admiral said: "It is far and away the second most powerful navy in the world. It is a navy which we must treat with the respect it deserves."

OIL UNION BENEFITS

Wage Offer Ends Walkout Threat

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A wage offer by a key oil industry employer ended threats Friday of a weekend strike by 105,000 refinery workers.

O. A. Knight, Denver, president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, said an offer Thursday night by the Sinclair Oil Co., of a five per cent wage hike has caused the union to change its plans for a threatened walkout at midnight Saturday.

The union has been in negotiating sessions here this week with Sinclair officials and federal mediators. The Sinclair company's contract with the union normally sets the pattern for the industry.

The union had issued a strike deadline for most of the nation's refineries for midnight Saturday.

Knight said the Sinclair offer was "the first ray of light in 11 months of bargaining.

"We want to avoid a strike as long as the company is bargaining in good faith."

Knight said the union's 52-man policy committee still was being polled by telephone and telegraph on reaction to the Sinclair offer of an increase for 9,500 employes, which would amount to 13½ cents an hour. The union has been asking a hike of 25 cents an hour.

There were indications other companies would follow Sinclair. Gulf Oil Corp. officials announced two locals of the union at the Port Arthur, Tex., plant had been offered a five per cent wage increase. Some 6,000 workers would be affected.

Continental Oil Co., announced it was hiking the salaries of all nonunion employes by five per cent immediately. A company spokesman said a similar offer would be made to unions representing all other employes.

French Vote Confidence In New Premier

PARIS (UPI)—Premier Michel Debre won an overwhelming vote of confidence Friday for his French greatness" program based on France's sovereignty in Algeria and equality with the United States and Britain as a nuclear power.

Debre's expected victory amounted to another popular mandate for his chief, President Charles de Gaulle, and cleared the way for De Gaulle to pursue his avowed aim of restoring peace to Algeria.

The vote in the National Assembly was 453 to 56 in favor of the new premier. Only the Communists and Socialist groups were opposed.

"After the confidence expressed in me by Gen. De Gaulle, I now have the confidence of the assembly," Debre said after the results were announced. "This makes it imperative for me to work for the policy to which I am committed."

In his final speech winding up a two-day debate on his program, Debre said the future of Europe hinges on the outcome of the Algerian war. He added that "Algeria belongs in the domain of French sovereignty."

The premier, who was handpicked for the job by De Gaulle, told the assembly his government's program was designed to return France to "greatness" as a world power. He said the new France under De Gaulle intended to become a nuclear military power and wanted an equal voice with the United States and Britain in Western global policy.

For the French people, Debre's program meant a long period of austerity to free money for De Gaulle's wide-swinging plans to achieve economic stability.

Red Repairmen Are Spurred By Generous Bonus

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet TV and refrigerator repairmen refuse to give prompt service unless the customer pays an illegal bonus, and something should be done about it, so says Trud, the trade union newspaper.

Trud told Friday of a man who lugged his TV set from shop to shop hoping to get it fixed at the price set by the state. He finally left it at a shop where it stayed for months. But when he slipped the repairman a generous tip the set was fixed on the spot.

Five Die, Two Hurt Seriously In Mine Cave-In

NANCY, France (AP) — Five iron miners were killed and two injured seriously when an old mine gallery caved in Friday. The victims, who were in an adjoining shaft, were crushed by the sudden, piston-like compression of the air.

Two miners who escaped said tons of earth suddenly crashed down into the abandoned gallery. Miners working in an adjoining gallery several hundred feet away were hurled against the walls by the air pressure.

First reports said there had been an explosion in the mine.

The cave-in jarred a wide area. The walls of a number of nearby homes were cracked.

The accident occurred in the Roncours Iron Mine in the Moselle Department — county — near the Luxembourg and West German borders.

The Teton Mountains in Wyoming cover 94,853 acres.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

EARLY ENROLLMENT

ADA, Okla. — Jimmy Kessler 6-year-old Ada first grader, is all set to enter East Central State College here — in 1970.

Jimmy's father, C. D. Kessler, a building contractor, obtained estimates from college officials on the cost of four years in college, deposited the money with the finance office and pre-enrolled the youngster.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

Soviets Report It's Summer On Mechta Planet

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet news agency Tass reported Friday it was summer on Mechta, the Soviet artificial planet.

Tass said the rocket, launched on a flight which took it past the moon, had reached the perihelion—the closest point to the sun in its orbit around the solar disk.

At the perihelion, Tass said Mechta was 90,914,000 miles from the sun and 372,600 miles from earth. This was described as the "warmest time" in the 15-month year on Mechta.

According to Tass, the rocket had traveled 18,630,000 miles since it was launched Jan. 2.

The agency said that the temperature would not go above the freezing point — 32 degrees fahrenheit. Later, as the rocket nears the aphelion, or the point farthest from the sun, the temperature will drop "several tens of degrees" below freezing.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

EARLY ENROLLMENT

ADA, Okla. — Jimmy Kessler 6-year-old Ada first grader, is all set to enter East Central State College here — in 1970.

Jimmy's father, C. D. Kessler, a building contractor, obtained estimates from college officials on the cost of four years in college, deposited the money with the finance office and pre-enrolled the youngster.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints, each day the code letters are different.

Soviets Report It's Summer On Mechta Planet

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet news agency Tass reported Friday it was summer on Mechta, the Soviet artificial planet.

Tass said the rocket, launched on a flight which took it past the moon, had reached the perihelion —the closest point to the sun in its orbit around the solar disk.

At the perihelion, Tass said Mechta was 90,914,000 miles from the sun and 372,600 miles from earth. This was described as the "warmest time" in the 15-month year on Mechta.

According to Tass, the rocket had traveled 18,630,000 miles since it was launched Jan. 2.

The agency said that the temperature would not go above the freezing point — 32 degrees fahrenheit. Later, as the rocket nears the aphelion, or the point farthest from the sun, the temperature will drop "several tens of degrees" below freezing.

Northeast Louisiana Deaths

FRED W. WRIGHT

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Fred W. Wright, 49, of Alexandria, step-father of Miss Cleo Hudson of Monroe, died Thursday in a local hospital. He was employed by a local lumber company.

Last rites were held in Alexandria Friday in Hixson's Funeral Home. Burial followed in Forest Lawn Memorial Park cemetery.

In addition to his step-daughter, Mr. Wright was survived by his widow, his parents and three stepsons.

JACOB L. LAMPLEY

Funeral services for Jacob L Lampley, 51, of Rockingham, N. C., who died of a heart attack Wednesday in downtown Monroe, were held at 2 p.m. Friday at Mulhearn Chapel with the Rev. C. Roger Johnson officiating.

Interment followed in Riverview Cemetery.

He is survived by a brother in North Carolina.

ROBERT DURHAM

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Friday for Robert F. Durham, 69, who died Wednesday at his home in Pineville.

Mr. Durham was an employe of an Alexandria hotel.

The services were held in the chapel of Hixson's Funeral Home here with the Rev. R. H. Smith officiating. Burial followed in Forest Lawn Memorial Park cemetery.

Survivors are his widow; a son, A. J. Durham of West Monroe; one daughter, Mrs. H. P. Mayeaux of Shreveport; two sisters, Mrs. C. S. Barlow of Shreveport, and Mrs. W. A. Keel of Jackson, Miss., and three grandchildren.

O. D. DOKE

OAK GROVE — Funeral services for O. D. Doke, 22, of Bonita, who died Thursday night in a Monroe hospital, will be held at Bartholmew Church near Bonita at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Interment will be in the church cemetery under the direction of Gay's Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Leon Gaston, D. C. Summings, Buddy Cummings, J. T. White, Nick Bardan and Joe Bardan.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lorene Doke of Bonita; a daughter, Alice Lorene Doke, also of Bonita; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Doke of Corning, Ark.; two brothers, Ernest Doke of Rockford, Ill., and J. Northeast Louisiana Deaths

FRED W. WRIGHT

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Fred W. Wright, 49, of Alexandria, step-father of Miss Cleo Hudson of Monroe, died Thursday in a local hospital. He was employed by a local lumber company.

Last rites were held in Alexandria Friday in Hixson's Funeral Home. Burial followed in Forest Lawn Memorial Park cemetery.

In addition to his step-daughter, Mr. Wright was survived by his widow, his parents and three stepsons.

JACOB L. LAMPLEY

Funeral services for Jacob L Lampley, 51, of Rockingham, N. C., who died of a heart attack Wednesday in downtown Monroe, were held at 2 p.m. Friday at Mulhearn Chapel with the Rev. C. Roger Johnson officiating.

Interment followed in Riverview Cemetery.

He is survived by a brother in North Carolina.

ROBERT DURHAM

ALEXANDRIA (Special) — Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Friday for Robert F. Durham, 69, who died Wednesday at his home in Pineville.

Mr. Durham was an employe of an Alexandria hotel.

The services were held in the chapel of Hixson's Funeral Home here with the Rev. R. H. Smith officiating. Burial followed in Forest Lawn Memorial Park cemetery.

Survivors are his widow; a son, A. J. Durham of West Monroe; one daughter, Mrs. H. P. Mayeaux of Shreveport; two sisters, Mrs. C. S. Barlow of Shreveport, and Mrs. W. A. Keel of Jackson, Miss., and three grandchildren.

O. D. DOKE

OAK GROVE — Funeral services for O. D. Doke, 22, of Bonita, who died Thursday night in a Monroe hospital, will be held at Bartholmew Church near Bonita at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Interment will be in the church cemetery under the direction of Gay's Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Leon Gaston, D. C. Summings, Buddy Cummings, J. T. White, Nick Bardan and Joe Bardan.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lorene Doke of Bonita; a daughter, Alice Lorene Doke, also of Bonita; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Doke of Corning, Ark.; two brothers, Ernest Doke of Rockford, Ill., and J. C. Doke of Bonita; four sisters, Mrs. Daisy Wheeler and Mrs. Juanita Pelts, both of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Mattie Lee Palmer and Miss Pauline Doke, both of Corning, Ark., and grandmother, Mrs. Luvinia Simms of Clarksville, Ark.

MRS. WYNONA DUNN

Services for Mrs. Wyona Dunn, 47, of West Monroe, will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. from Hall Funeral Chapel conducted by the Rev. Frank Smith.

Mrs. Dunn died late Thursday at a Monroe hospital after a lengthy illness. Burial will be in Hasley Cemetery by Hall.

She is survived by her father, Ed Andrews, Monroe; two brothers, Noland Andrews, Monroe, and J. W. Andrews, Port Arthur, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. Abbie Cruse, Columbia, two nieces and two nephews.

TALMAGE LANE HUGHSTON

TALLULAH (Special)—Talmage Lane Hughston, 70, Tallulah, died in a local hospital Friday afternoon following an illness of several years.

A native of Alabama, Mr. Hughston had resided in Madison Parish for the past 23 years. Before illness forced his retirement, he was employed by an oil mill. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and a mason.

Funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian Church here Saturday at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Kenneth Book officiating. Burial will be in the family lot at the Lake Providence Cemetery under direction of Crothers Funeral Home.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rosalind Hughston; two sons, T. L. Hughston Jr., Vienna, Va.; John Edward Hughston, New Orleans; a brother, Tony R. Hughston, Childersburg, Ala.; a sister, Mrs. A. H. Whitman, Opelika, Ala. and eight grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be John Oshea, Gus Willett, Marvin Whitfield, Edgar Lancaster, R. G. Waugh, Elton Everett, John Burkhardt and R. W. Gandy.

W. H. MECOM

DELHI (Special) — Funeral services for W. H. Mecom, 83, of 107 Adams St., Monroe, will be held at Gay's Funeral Chapel here at 2:30 Sunday.

Mr. Mecom died in a Monroe hospital Friday after a long illness. The Revs. Mr. Roach and Percy Calhoun will direct the services with interment to follow in the Delhi Masonic.

He is survived by seven daughters, Mrs. Jans Johnson, Monroe; Mrs. Allie Chadwick, Farmerville; Mrs. Nettie Lambert, Mathis, Tex.; Mrs. Mary Lou Coats, Holly Ridge; Mrs. Bessie Coats, Port Arthur, Tex.; Mrs. Dorothy Pittman, Beeville, Tex.; and Mrs. Edith Harrell, Monroe; a son, William Mecom, Monroe; 43 grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Oscar Self, Robert Yeates, J. R. Littleton, Ras Farrar, Preston Hough, and Ben Tannehill.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 10 to 60 cents a bale higher Thursday, except distant July which was $2 a bale lower.

The first sales in July 1960 futures were at 31.40 cents a pound. At the close traders bid no higher than 31.00 cents marking a net decline of $2 a bale for that delivery.

The market generally started lower on commission house and New Orleans selling but tallied briskly toward the close as professional short covering found offerings light.

The statement by Agriculture Secretary Benson indicating the government minimum selling price for export cotton may soon be lowered had been anticipated in trade quarters. Traders inferred that such action could not be expected to apply on the present season's exports and this influenced some selling in current crop futures.

The export action would aim to improve the competitive position of U. S. cotton abroad.

There was some selling of nearby deliveries against purchases of new crop futures.

Most of the early buying was credited to trade sources.

Futures closed 60 cents a bale higher to $2 lower than the previous close.

TICKER TAPE HIGHLIGHTS

SELECTIVE

Market was a big more selective yesterday with 555 issues moving ahead and 496 losing ground. But 156 stocks made new highs and the Dow Jones industrials picked up 95 cents as the rails eased 21 cents.

AIRCRAFTS

Aircrafts were generally un distinguished but Martin added 2¼ on announcement of a reactor half a foot long. North American added ⅞. Airlines were fractionally easier with Pan American ⅜ loss typical. Steels were generally firm with Jones and Laguahlin adding 1⅞ National Steel 3¾ and Youngstown 4⅞, all new highs. In other metals, Reynolds again slipped, this time off 1⅜ while other aluminums had only fractional changes. American Metals climax continued ahead 1¼.

OIL

Chemicals were generally good as Allied, Dow, Carbide and Dupont all added a point or more. Air reduction gave up 1¼. Rubbers were strong as U. S. added 1⅛ and both Goodyear and Goodrich picked up 2⅜. Johnson and Johnson starred in the drug group with a 5¾ gain and Warner Lambert dropped 1¾. Other changes were minimal. The big three car shares all were unchanged on the day. Building supplies were mixed with National Gypsum off 2¼ and both U. S. Plywood and Masonite up around a point. Most rails were mixed fractionally. Great Northern made another high on a half point advance.

INDUSTRIALS

The Industrials were up 9 cents at 11.00 a.m., off 3 cents at noon, up 2.14 at 2.00 p.m., but lost part of that gain closing up 94 cents at 595.75. The rails were off 23 cents at noon and closed off 21 cents at 167.17. The utilities were up 16 cents at 1.00 p.m., up 17 cents at 2.00 p.m., closing up 17 cents at 92.18.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

United Press International

AUTO PRODUCTION

Auto production in the U.S. is running 7 per cent ahead of production during January, Ward's Automotive Reports said. The agency said this rate should boost this month's production to about 100,000 units above production in the same month last year, even if Chrysler Corp. is shut down for the remainder of the month.

DONNER

Frederick G. Donner, chairman of General Motors Corp., said retail passenger car sales in recent weeks have been running at rates which support an optimistic outlook for 1959. Donner and John F. Gordon, GM President, arrived in Chicago to take part in ceremonies at Saturday's opening of the Chicago auto show.

CHRYSLER

Lack of glass forced Chrysler Corp. to close its assembly plants for the third time since the company started production of 1959 model automobiles. More than 13,000 Chrysler employes in Detroit, Evansville, Ind., and Newark, Del., were sent home because the company lacked windshields to put on its cars.

TREASURY

The Treasury received subscription of $1,800,000,000 for its offering of 750 million dollars in 21-year 4 per cent bonds. The offering was slanted specifically toward savings - type investors.

ATOM POWER

The White House unviled a five-pound atomic generator which experts of the Atomic Energy Commission hailed as a "significant breakthrough" in producing electric power from heat. The new device was presented to President Eisenhower for a demonstration on his office desk by John A. McCone, chairman of the AEC.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK (AP) — Markets at a glance:

Stocks — Higher; irregular advance.

Bonds — Mixed; governments decline.

Cotton — Irregular; liquidation and mill buying.

CHICAGO:

Wheat — Mixed; late selling new crop months.

Corn — Mixed; light trade.

Oats — Mixed; light trade.

Soybeans — Higher; good general demand.

Hogs — Steady to 25 cents lower; top $17.75.

Cattle — Slaughter steer supply too meager to establish market.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Active short-covering raised soybean futures contracts rather substantially all along the line on the Board of Trade Friday as dealers considered two possible bullish influences.

One was an unofficial report that the December soybean crush set a new record high of about 35 million bushels, amost 1½ million more than the previous record high of last November.

The other was the possibility that the government report on soybeans placed in government loan also would be a record high. Trade advices for several days have said beans wehe going into the loan at a record rate generally throughout the major producing states.

Trade in grains generally was slow with buyers for mill and export interests doing very little business.

Wheat closed ⅜ cent a bushel higher to ¼ lower, March $1.96⅛-96; corn ¼ higher to ¼ lower, March old type contract $1.14¼; oats ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, March 66¾-⅞; rye ¼-½ higher, March $1.36, and soybeans 1⅛-1⅝ higher, January $2.16½.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — There was a good shipping demand in the butcher hog market Friday but the supply of 8,500 head was rather heavy for a Friday and prices were steady to 25 cents lower.

Several hundred head of mixed No. 1 and 2 grades in the 190-210 lb range went for $17.25-17.50, the practical top, but 25 head brought $17.75. The run included a larger pencentage than secently of No. 1s and 2s scaling 200-220 lbs. The 1-3 grades of these weights cleared at $17-17.25 and the 210-230 lb 2s and 3s at $16.50-17. All heavier weights moved within a $2 range upward from $14.75. Sows were steady to 25 cents lower at $13-15.

There were not enough slaughter steess on sales to establish the market. Heifers and vealers were steady and bulls 50 cents to $1 lower. One load of good and choice heifers weighing 925 lbs brought $27, a few standard grade $24.75, and vealers $32-35 for good to choice. Bulls were $32-35 for good and choice.

Sheep also were in very short supply but the market was steady on all classes represented. A few good and choice wooled slaughter lambs moved at $17.50-18.75 and cull to choice ewes at $6-7.50.

Steel Stocks Set Pace In Lively Trade

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traders turned hesitant on the stock market in general Friday with the industrial average nearing the 600-mark and a week end coming up, but their preoccupation with special issues made it a lively session.

The usual week end evening up considerations centered in recent strong spots such as American Telephone, Eastman Kodak and General Electric.

However, the declines of a point to 2 points in these were more than offset in the industrial average by improvement of nearly 4 points in National Steel, around 2 points in Goodyear and Sears Roebuck and the average closed the week little more than 4 points from the 600-goal toward which it has been striving.

The steels were the day's highlights with final gains running close to 5 points in Youngstown Sheet & Tube, considered a stock split candidate. Inland Steel, which sparked the interest as it responded to a three-for-one stock split, backed off from its early high to close with only a fractional improvement.

American Metal Climax, Thursday's active feature following new of the development in Molybdenum casting, claimed the same honor again. It rose over a point on the day's heaviest volume.

Although Eastman Kodah declined and Thiokol was off nearly 3, there were some strong spots in chemicals. Allied, United Carbon, Union Carbide and Dow all rose more than a point.

Goodyear and Goodrich picked up over 2 points each. Pittsburgh Plate Glass, General Time, KLM Royal Dutch, Martin Co. also rose 2 points or more. Johnson & Johnson spurted 5¾ points.

Utilities also finished the day on the upside, thanks largely to gains of 1½ points in Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line and Cleveland Electric, but rails lagged and were off a bit in their average. Declines generally were small, running to a point in Atlantic Coast Line.

There were a few big drops in industrials, too. International Business Machines ranged over a 12-point spread between the high and low, closing off 5¼ at 519. The company announced sharply higher earnings. Zenith lost nearly 2 points.

WEST MONROE

Six fines were levied in West Monroe City Court yesterday with Judge Jasper E. Jones presiding.

A. D. Harris, 40, 206 Conrad St., West Monroe, was fined $400 and costs or 6 months on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages.

Two persons were each fined $25 and costs or 25 days on charges of disturbing the peace, and a fourth was fined $25 and costs or 10 days on a charge of driving a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

Another person drew a fine of $25 and costs or 10 days on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with improper brakes.

The sixth person was fined $20 and costs or 10 days on a reckless driving charge.

One person forfeited $3.50 bond on a charge of running a stop sign.

MONROE

The following case dispositions were delivered in Monroe City Court yesterday by Judge W. M. Harper.

Thomas Bolton, 20, of 2211 Short Washington St., and Ben Steel, 43 of 113 Vicksburg St. each drew fines of $100 or 60 days on theft convictions.

Evelyn Lewis, drew a $115 fine in the form of a cash bond forfeiture on charges of theft.

Vernon Hobgood, 44, of 3112 Richmond St., paid three fines, $400 for driving while intoxicated, $55 for reckless driving, and $50 for resisting arrest.

In other action six persons paid fines for drunkenness convictions; five were fined for speeding; one each for reckless driving and stop sign violations; and six persons were fined for driving the wrong direction on a one way street.

Girls To Get Whistles On Spring Garb

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring clothes of 1959 will draw wolf whistles instead of catcalls.

That's the consensus of 200 American fashion editors after a hectic week of spring showings by the New York couture. Exhausted but jubilant, the visiting press started packing Friday to take the good news to the folks back home.

On the final day of the New York press week showings, editors applauded the impressionist collection of Jane Derby, who showed a flattering and feminine group of suits, coat costumes and dresses in the tender pastels of French painters Monet and Renoir.

Her fashions all recognize the natural lines of the figure, yet none are tightly fitted. Fichus and flounces give a flutter of movement, and often big soft collars frame and face.

Ben Gershel, of coat-and-suit fame, shows a group of almost fitted suits which define the curves of bust and waistline, slender, easy and definitely flattering. His coats have armholes deep enough to slip on easily over a suit, are sometimes loose and sometimes belted, and there is a suggestion of the raised waistline in some.

This designer also shows a group of walking suits, with seven - eights length coats over narrow skirts, especially effective in gray flannel.

A highlight of this collection is a costume consisting of a simple dress of beige Italian silk with a matching beige cashmere sweater collared in mink of exactly the same tone.

Editors attending the week's showings are almost unanimous in their verdict: There's nothing startling, nothing grotesque and nothing distorted about the American fashions for spring. They're just the kind of clothes women can wear and men will like.

POPPING OFF SOUR NOTE

U.S. Taking New Look At Castro

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

Americans, both North Americans and Latin Americans, are taking a new look at Fidel Castro because of his mass executions and his blow-off against the United States Thursday.

In Latin America the word gringo means a foreigner. With one inflexion, it is a casual descriptive. With another, it becomes as bitter as any English curse.

Replying to unofficial suggestions that the United States should intervene to stop the executions, Castro blew his top.

If the U. S. Marines came, he said, 200,000 gringos would be killed. The United States, he said, had always interfered in Cuban affairs, the Eisenhower administration is no more democratic than his.

There was already some worry about Castro's leftist tendencies, although he has appeared to modify some of his early ideas about nationalizing business and establishing an out-and-out Socialist regime.

But there was general rejoicing over his defeat of the former Cuban dictatorship.

The rejoicing turned sour with the beginning of mass executions.

Objective observers reported that, without them, Castro might have let the country in for widespread rioting.

Castro calls the victims murderers.

But in the United States even a murderer gets every legal protection and the process of indictment, trial and execution provides months for cooling.

When Castro reacted against Congressional critics he was also reacting against those who control Cuba's sugar market. When he reacted against Americans he was reacting against those who fought for his country 50 years ago and then declined to take it over as any other world power would have at that time.

He was reacting against those who are largely responsible for his country's commercial development and who do a billion dollars worth of business there every year.

The United States has not always been wise in its dealings with Cuba. It did play footsie with Batista, who made a hit with his strong anti-Nazi attitude during the war. It did supply him with arms for a time.

But the United States won Castro's war for him when it finally cut off those arms.

Castro professes a desire for good relations. He must be mentally and physically exhausted after the last few weeks. He can be sympathized with for popping off under the circumstances.

But the worry will remain. Did he, in an unguarded moment, reveal an underlying resentment which will eventually affect relations?

Of the 40 million Christmas trees now used in the United States, about 28 million come from U. S. forest lands and 12 million are imported from Canada.

Chambers Set Joint Dinner In W. Monroe

A Monroe - West Monroe joint chamber of commerce dinner has been set for February 3 at the Highland Park Country Club at 7 p.m., it was announced yesterday.

Jim Williams, Monroe chamber manager, confirmed the time of the dinner after conferring with West Monroe chamber manager George Wyly.

Proposed by Monroe chamber president Vagie Rivers, the purpose of the dinner is to create a "Spirit of cooperation and harmony" between the two cities.

Top officers of both chambers are expected to attend the informal event.

In other Monroe chamber activity yesterday, announcements were made of two meetings: budget committee, Thursday; committee chairmen, Friday.

COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 10 to 60 cents a bale higher Thursday, except distant July which was $2 a bale lower.

The first sales in July 1960 futures were at 31.40 cents a pound. At the close traders bid no higher than 31.00 cents marking a net decline of $2 a bale for that delivery.

The market generally started lower on commission house and New Orleans selling but tallied briskly toward the close as professional short covering found offerings light.

The statement by Agriculture Secretary Benson indicating the government minimum selling price for export cotton may soon be lowered had been anticipated in trade quarters. Traders inferred that such action could not be expected to apply on the present season's exports and this influenced some selling in current crop futures.

The export action would aim to improve the competitive position of U. S. cotton abroad.

There was some selling of nearby deliveries against purchases of new crop futures.

Most of the early buying was credited to trade sources.

Futures closed 60 cents a bale higher to $2 lower than the previous close.

SELECTIVE

Market was a big more selective yesterday with 555 issues moving ahead and 496 losing ground. But 156 stocks made new highs and the Dow Jones industrials picked up 95 cents as the rails eased 21 cents.

AIRCRAFTS

Aircrafts were generally un distinguished but Martin added 2¼ on announcement of a reactor half a foot long. North American added ⅞. Airlines were fractionally easier with Pan American ⅜ loss typical. Steels were generally firm with Jones and Laguahlin adding 1⅞ National Steel 3¾ and Youngstown 4⅞, all new highs. In other metals, Reynolds again slipped, this time off 1⅜ while other aluminums had only fractional changes. American Metals climax continued ahead 1¼.

OIL

Chemicals were generally good as Allied, Dow, Carbide and Dupont all added a point or more. Air reduction gave up 1¼. Rubbers were strong as U. S. added 1⅛ and both Goodyear and Goodrich picked up 2⅝. Johnson and Johnson starred in the drug group with a 5¾ gain and Warner Lambert dropped 1¾. Other changes were minimal. The big three car shares all were unchanged on the day. Building supplies were mixed with National Gypsum off 2¼ and both U. S. Plywood and Masonite up around a point. Most rails were mixed fractionally. Great Northern made another high on a half point advance.

INDUSTRIALS

The Industrials were up 9 cents at 11.00 a.m., off 3 cents at noon, up 2.14 at 2.00 p.m., but lost part of that gain closing up 94 cents at 595.75. The rails were off 23 cents at noon and closed off 21 cents at 167.17. The utilities were up 16 cents at 1.00 p.m., up 17 cents at 2.00 p.m., closing up 17 cents at 92.18.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

United Press International

AUTO PRODUCTION

Auto production in the U.S. is running 7 per cent ahead of production during January, Ward's Automotive Reports said. The agency said this rate should boost this month's production to about 100,000 units above production in the same month last year, even if Chrysler Corp. is shut down for the remainder of the month.

DONNER

Frederick G. Donner, chairman of General Motors Corp., said retail passenger car sales in recent weeks have been running at rates which support an optimistic outlook for 1959. Donner and John F. Gordon, GM President, arrived in Chicago to take part in ceremonies at Saturday's opening of the Chicago auto show.

CHRYSLER

Lack of glass forced Chrysler Corp. to close its assembly plants for the third time since the company started production of 1959 model automobiles. More than 13,000 Chrysler employes in Detroit, Evansville, Ind., and Newark, Del., were sent home because the company lacked windshields to put on its cars.

TREASURY

The Treasury received subscription of $1,800,000,000 for its offering of 750 million dollars in 21-year 4 per cent bonds. The offering was slanted specifically toward savings - type investors.

ATOM POWER

The White House unviled a five-pound atomic generator which experts of the Atomic Energy Commission hailed as a "significant breakthrough" in producing electric power from heat. The new device was presented to President Eisenhower for a demonstration on his office desk by John A. McCone, chairman of the AEC.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK (AP) — Markets at a glance:

Stocks — Higher; irregular advance.

Bonds — Mixed; governments decline.

Cotton — Irregular; liquidation and mill buying.

CHICAGO:

Wheat — Mixed; late selling new crop months.

Corn — Mixed; light trade.

Oats — Mixed; light trade.

Soybeans — Higher; good general demand.

Hogs — Steady to 25 cents lower; top $17.75.

Cattle — Slaughter steer supply too meager to establish market.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Active short-covering raised soybean futures contracts rather substantially all along the line on the Board of Trade Friday as dealers considered two possible bullish influences.

One was an unofficial report that the December soybean crush set a new record high of about 35 million bushels, amost 1½ million more than the previous record high of last November.

The other was the possibility that the government report on soybeans placed in government loan also would be a record high. Trade advices for several days have said beans wehe going into the loan at a record rate generally throughout the major producing states.

Trade in grains generally was slow with buyers for mill and export interests doing very little business.

Wheat closed ⅜ cent a bushel higher to ¼ lower, March $1.96⅛-96; corn ¼ higher to ¼ lower, March old type contract $1.14¼; oats ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, March 66¾-⅞; rye ¼-½ higher, March $1.36, and soybeans 1⅛-1⅝ higher, January $2.16½.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — There was a good shipping demand in the butcher hog market Friday but the supply of 8,500 head was rather heavy for a Friday and prices were steady to 25 cents lower.

Several hundred head of mixed No. 1 and 2 grades in the 190-210 lb range went for $17.25-17.50, the practical top, but 25 head brought $17.75. The run included a larger pencentage than secently of No. 1s and 2s scaling 200-220 lbs. The 1-3 grades of these weights cleared at $17-17.25 and the 210-230 lb 2s and 3s at $16.50-17. All heavier weights moved within a $2 range upward from $14.75. Sows were steady to 25 cents lower at $13-15.

There were not enough slaughter steess on sales to establish the market. Heifers and vealers were steady and bulls 50 cents to $1 lower. One load of good and choice heifers weighing 925 lbs brought $27, a few standard grade $24.75, and vealers $32-35 for good to choice. Bulls were $32-35 for good and choice.

Sheep also were in very short supply but the market was steady on all classes represented. A few good and choice wooled slaughter lambs moved at $17.50-18.75 and cull to choice ewes at $6-7.50.

Steel Stocks Set Pace In Lively Trade

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traders turned hesitant on the stock market in general Friday with the industrial average nearing the 600-mark and a week end coming up, but their preoccupation with special issues made it a lively session.

The usual week end evening up considerations centered in recent strong spots such as American Telephone, Eastman Kodak and General Electric.

However, the declines of a point to 2 points in these were more than offset in the industrial average by improvement of nearly 4 points in National Steel, around 2 points in Goodyear and Sears Roebuck and the average closed the week little more than 4 points from the 600-goal toward which it has been striving.

The steels were the day's highlights with final gains running close to 5 points in Youngstown Sheet & Tube, considered a stock split candidate. Inland Steel, which sparked the interest as it responded to a three-for-one stock split, backed off from its early high to close with only a fractional improvement.

American Metal Climax, Thursday's active feature following new of the development in Molybdenum casting, claimed the same honor again. It rose over a point on the day's heaviest volume.

Although Eastman Kodah declined and Thiokol was off nearly 3, there were some strong spots in chemicals. Allied, United Carbon, Union Carbide and Dow all rose more than a point.

Goodyear and Goodrich picked up over 2 points each. Pittsburgh Plate Glass, General Time, KLM Royal Dutch, Martin Co. also rose 2 points or more. Johnson & Johnson spurted 5¾ points.

Utilities also finished the day on the upside, thanks largely to gains of 1½ points in Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line and Cleveland Electric, but rails lagged and were off a bit in their average. Declines generally were small, running to a point in Atlantic Coast Line.

There were a few big drops in industrials, too. International Business Machines ranged over a 12-point spread between the high and low, closing off 5¼ at 519. The company announced sharply higher earnings. Zenith lost nearly 2 points.

City Courts

WEST MONROE

Six fines were levied in West Monroe City Court yesterday with Judge Jasper E. Jones presiding.

A. D. Harris, 40, 206 Conrad St., West Monroe, was fined $400 and costs or 6 months on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating alcoholic beverages.

Two persons were each fined $25 and costs or 25 days on charges of disturbing the peace, and a fourth was fined $25 and costs or 10 days on a charge of driving a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

Another person drew a fine of $25 and costs or 10 days on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with improper brakes.

The sixth person was fined $20 and costs or 10 days on a reckless driving charge.

One person forfeited $3.50 bond on a charge of running a stop sign.

MONROE

The following case dispositions were delivered in Monroe City Court yesterday by Judge W. M. Harper.

Thomas Bolton, 20, of 2211 Short Washington St., and Ben Steel, 43 of 113 Vicksburg St. each drew fines of $100 or 60 days on theft convictions.

Evelyn Lewis, drew a $115 fine in the form of a cash bond forfeiture on charges of theft.

Vernon Hobgood, 44, of 3112 Richmond St., paid three fines, $400 for driving while intoxicated, $55 for reckless driving, and $50 for resisting arrest.

In other action six persons paid fines for drunkenness convictions; five were fined for speeding; one each for reckless driving and stop sign violations; and six persons were fined for driving the wrong direction on a one way street.

Girls To Get Whistles On Spring Garb

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring clothes of 1959 will draw wolf whistles instead of catcalls.

That's the consensus of 200 American fashion editors after a hectic week of spring showings by the New York couture. Exhausted but jubilant, the visiting press started packing Friday to take the good news to the folks back home.

On the final day of the New York press week showings, editors applauded the impressionist collection of Jane Derby, who showed a flattering and feminine group of suits, coat costumes and dresses in the tender pastels of French painters Monet and Renoir.

Her fashions all recognize the natural lines of the figure, yet none are tightly fitted. Fichus and flounces give a flutter of movement, and often big soft collars frame and face.

Ben Gershel, of coat-and-suit fame, shows a group of almost fitted suits which define the curves of bust and waistline, slender, easy and definitely flattering. His coats have armholes deep enough to slip on easily over a suit, are sometimes loose and sometimes belted, and there is a suggestion of the raised waistline in some.

This designer also shows a group of walking suits, with seven-eights length coats over narrow skirts, especially effective in gray flannel.

Vera Stewart shows a group of American classics — the simplest possible shirtwaist dresses and easy-fitting sheaths in handsome but restrained fabrics, often with fur-collared cashmere sweaters dyed to match.

A highlight of this collection is a costume consisting of a simple dress of beige Italian silk with a matching beige cashmere sweater collared in mink of exactly the same tone.

Editors attending the week's showings are almost unanimous in their verdict: There's nothing startling, nothing grotesque and nothing distorted about the American fashions for spring. They're just the kind of clothes women can wear and men will like.

U.S. Taking New Look At Castro

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Americans, both North Americans and Latin Americans, are taking a new look at Fidel Castro because of his mass executions and his blow-off against the United States Thursday.

In Latin America the word gringo means a foreigner. With one inflexion, it is a casual descriptive. With another, it becomes as bitter as any English curse.

Replying to unofficial suggestions that the United States should intervene to stop the executions, Castro blew his top.

If the U. S. Marines came, he said, 200,000 gringos would be killed. The United States, he said, had always interfered in Cuban affairs, the Eisenhower administration is no more democratic than his.

There was already some worry about Castro's leftist tendencies, although he has appeared to modify some of his early ideas about nationalizing business and establishing an out-and-out Socialist regime.

But there was general rejoicing over his defeat of the former Cuban dictatorship.

The rejoicing turned sour with the beginning of mass executions.

Objective observers reported that, without them, Castro might have let the country in for widespread rioting.

Castro calls the victims murderers.

But in the United States even a murderer gets every legal protection and the process of indictment, trial and execution provides months for cooling.

When Castro reacted against Congressional critics he was also reacting against those who control Cuba's sugar market. When he reacted against Americans he was reacting against those who fought for his country 50 years ago and then declined to take it over as any other world power would have at that time.

He was reacting against those who are largely responsible for his country's commercial development and who do a billion dollars worth of business there every year.

The United States has not always been wise in its dealings with Cuba. It did play footsie with Batista, who made a hit with his strong anti-Nazi attitude during the war. It did supply him with arms for a time.

But the United States won Castro's war for him when it finally cut off those arms.

Castro professes a desire for good relations. He must be mentally and physically exhausted after the last few weeks. He can be sympathized with for popping off under the circumstances.

But the worry will remain. Did he, in an unguarded moment, reveal an underlying resentment which will eventually affect relations?

Of the 40 million Christmas trees now used in the United States, about 28 million come from U. S. forest lands and 12 million are imported from Canada.

Chambers Set Joint Dinner In W. Monroe

A Monroe - West Monroe joint chamber of commerce dinner has been set for February 2 at the Highland Park Country Club at 7 p.m., it was announced yesterday.

Jim Williams, Monroe chamber manager, confirmed the time of the dinner after conferring with West Monroe chamber manager George Wyly.

Proposed by Monroe chamber president Vagie Rivers, the purpose of the dinner is to create a "Spirit of cooperation and harmony" between the two cities.

Top officers of both chambers are expected to attend the informal event.

In other Monroe chamber activity yesterday, announcements were made of two meetings: budget committee, Thursday; committee chairmen, Friday.

Chess is one of the oldest games known to man. The object of the game is to capture the opponent's king.
